ST. LOUIS COUNTY SHERIFF IS DEAD

William W. Butchart, Well Known Politician and Officer, Passes Away

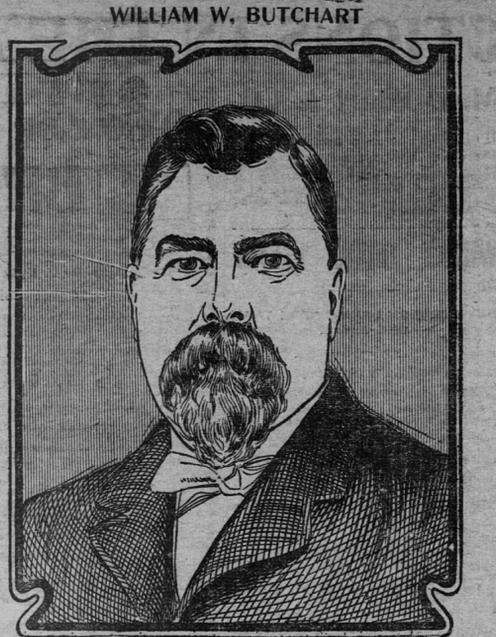

Special to The Globe. Sheriff William W. Butchart, of St. Louis county, died this morning at 4 o'clock.

Sheriff Butchart was born in Wellington county, near Guilford, in Canada. His arrival in the United States he first located at Marquette, Mich., and came to Duluth in 1878.

Ten years ago he ran for sheriff on the Republican ticket and was elected. After the expiration of his term he was succeeded by W. G. Sargent, who held the office for three terms.

Mr. Butchart became president of the board of public works in 1902, which he relinquished when he was re-elected to the shirealty in 1902 after one of the most unquiet fights in the political history of St. Louis county.

Sheriff Butchart is survived by his widow and three sons. He was a member of the Foresters, United Workmen and Knights of Pythias, and several other secret societies.

Australian Director of Collieries Says Filipinos Are Hard to Govern

O. G. S. Lane, of Sydney, Australia, managing director of the W. Scott Felco collieries, who is at the Ryan on his way East across the country, says that New South Wales is undergoing a war with labor unions that almost amounts to civil strife.

Because of the petty jealousy that exists between Sydney and Melbourne, the premier is himself a union man and is entirely committed to favor the workers. The result of this struggle has already been had for business, but the substantial capitalists realize that they must go through the struggle some time, and have chosen the period when labor is at its highest.

Japanese Fight Fanatically

The Japanese attacked the fanatics and their losses must have been very great. "A wounded Japanese officer, who was taken prisoner, escaped observation after his wound had been dressed, and killed himself by dashing his head against the stones. Our troops captured a considerable number of rifles, caps and other articles of equipment from the Japanese. Our losses on this front have not been definitely ascertained, but they exceed 1,500 killed or wounded."

JAPS PRESS HARD ON FIGHTING FOE

The Chinese at Liau-yang are bringing out women and children which they usually do when expecting a Japanese advance.

The Russians sustained a hot artillery fight all of Aug. 26 on the eastern front, but held all their positions.

At 5 o'clock in the evening the Associated Press correspondent crossed over to the left flank. The understanding was that the Russians would concentrate heavily in the morning for an attack of the Japanese in that direction, and the surprise was greater therefore at the order to retire.

Nothing has been heard here regarding the reported cutting of the railway south of Mukden, but the fact that an unusual mass of telegrams are arriving, some of which were filed late Sunday night at Liau-yang, seem to discredit the report. Had the Japanese destroyed the railway they doubtless would also have cut the wires.

Several batteries which were quickly collected by Grand Duke Serge Michaelovitch were dispatched to the far East today.

UNCERTAIN OF JAPS' OBJECTIVE. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 28.—The Novoe Vremya voices the general mystification of the military critics as to whether Liau-yang or Port Arthur is the center of military activity and contends that the Japanese have not yet given the least indication as to where the main attack will be directed.

DISARMING THE ASKOLD. LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Times says that the disarming of the Russian cruiser Askold and torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi will begin today (Monday).

Retire After Fierce Fight. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 28.—The general staff has received the following telegram from Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, dated Aug. 27: "Our advance guards and advanced troops on the southern front yesterday retired slowly toward the fortified position at Anshanshan."

Our guns poured a heavy fire into the columns and into their works and trenches, and eventually compelled them to move back to camp from the village of Balsalska.

The hottest fighting occurred on our left flank on the 27th, when our troops lost 200. Five divisions of the enemy took the offensive against our south front.

Our troops repelled toward the south-east all attacks of the Japanese directed against their front while our troops on the right flank, taking the offensive toward evening, drove the Japanese back on Tounsin.

Our losses on the southeast front were about 400. Our detachment on the east yesterday had a desperate fight against considerable forces of the enemy.

With the Cold Steel. "On the right flank our infantry, though unsupported by artillery and though the numerically inferior and desperate position of the enemy on the advanced position of the night by the enemy on the advanced position culminated in sharp bayonet fighting and some of our regimental officers received wounds."

After desperate fighting on the advanced positions of Tesgov and Anping, our troops retired on the main position, supported by artillery.

The Tambor regiment on the left flank at Tesgov defended an advanced position from 1 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, repelling all the enemy's attacks at the point of the bayonet. There were four counter attacks on the main position, which were repelled by the enemy.
