VOTERS' LEAGUE WILL STAND PAT

Ready to Meet Candidates in Private or in the Court Room

The Minneapolis Voters' league is not disturbed over the suit for libel instituted by Michael W. Nash, a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner from the Third district, who asks $20,000 damages from John Crosby, the chairman, and W. Y. Chute, the secretary of the executive committee.

Teaching the suit for libel brought by Michael W. Nash against the officers of the Voters' league, the Voters' league is prepared to substantiate any statements made in its report, and will be glad to bring to trial the cases, if possible, before the court for immediate trial.

The officers of the league announce they would be glad to have the libel suit tried before the primaries of Sept. 20.

A. L. Lennon, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the First district, has made a complaint to the league, and in commenting upon his protest the officers of the league in their official statement say:

As for Mr. Lennon, the executive committee does not propose to participate in libel suits, but would be glad to furnish Mr. Lennon with a bill of particulars if he will call at the office of the league, or care to solicit the same by a suit for libel.

MORE COIN NEEDED

Commission Wants a Few Hundred Thousand

Fourteen years have been required for the construction of the city and county buildings in Minneapolis, and the sum of $3,464,973.13 has been expended for a building which was intended to cost $1,500,000. The work is not completed, and the commission is of the opinion that at least $200,000 more will be necessary to complete the arrangements which have been deemed necessary.

The last legislature passed a bill whereby the commission was enabled to raise $250,000, but it has not been satisfied and will need more money to make good.

WORKHOUSE TRUSTY PROVES TO BE THIEF

Steals Superintendent's Watch and Takes a Train for Distant Parts

Frank R. McDonald, superintendent of the city workhouse, is losing his faith in human nature. A few days ago Charles E. Jones was sentenced for thirty days on the charge of stealing an overcoat from his boarding house and was retired to the rock pile.

The superintendent made him a trusty. Thursday night the superintendent and his family made a visit to the city. Jones entered the house, found the time piece belonging to the manager of the works and some other valuables. He called at his former boarding place and informed the people there his fine had been paid by a friend, accumulated his belongings and departed from North Minneapolis on a Soo train seven minutes before workhouse guards arrived at the station.

GALLANT SEAMAN GOES TO WORKHOUSE

Doesn't Want to Return to San Francisco to Be Prosecuted for Desertion

T. J. Martin, a deserter from the United States navy, was sentenced to the workhouse yesterday for fifteen days on the charge of vagrancy. He surrendered himself to Policeman Fern who was sent to San Francisco, from which port he deserted.

He was sent to Fort Snelling by the police authorities, but the commanding officer asserted had nothing to do with deserters from the navy. Then a letter was sent to the navy department and yesterday a reply came to the effect that if Martin wanted to pay his fare to San Francisco and report to the commander of the receiving ship from which he deserted the captain probably would look him up and prosecute him for desertion.

Under the circumstances Martin concluded not to go to San Francisco, but to the workhouse.

Boen, who died Dec. 15. The death was alleged to be sudden, although the deceased had been sick for some time.

LAKE FREIGHT MOVING

Shipments of Ore This Month Will Probably Break the Record

Special to The Globe DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 9.—By working night and day the congestion in lake freight traffic in the local port, which was unprecedented early in the week, has been partially removed. The Steel corporation alone had eighty boats here on Sunday to be loaded with ore. A majority of them have taken their cargoes and proceeded on their way down the lake. Few cargoes are now coming in, and most of the boats which come up are light.

The movement of ore for September is expected to break all records.

ARMY MANEUVERS ARE CONCLUDED

The east bank and got in position not twenty yards behind the blue defenders, when the Eighth Massachusetts and Twelfth New York, who were making the charge on the west side, came up the third time.

Blue Force Ruled Out

It did not take the umpires a second to rule out the entire blue force at this point, and the brown army crossed the Run at will. In the meantime the force which had crossed to the north of Swinley had been coming down toward the pike. They struck Grant's line to the rear and the maneuver ended when this force appeared in a flanking movement on a blue line which was facing a brown line that had crossed at the stone bridge.

In summing up the situation tonight Col. Wagner, chief umpire, gave the precise movement of each brigade during the night, after which he commented on the maneuvers as follows: "The blue cavalry accomplished nothing during the day. Gen. Bell having taken the precaution to change his base. Among the blue regiments that lost most heavily in constructive killed or captured were the Florida regiments, all in the blue army. The withdrawal of Gen. Grant to a defensive position east of Bull Run was effected most skillfully, the handling of the rear guard by Gen. Wint being especially fine.

"Gen. Bell's plan of action was an able one. Menacing the left flank of the blue, he had a long, prompt march by which he placed himself on the enemy's right flank in a way that promised brilliant results. What the result would have been in actual warfare it is impossible to say. The blue right was badly shattered, but Price's brigade was still intact and immediately reinforced for support. Reinforcements could have been drawn from the brigade of Frost. Whether the frontal attack across Bull Run would have been sufficient to hold these two brigades in check, or whether the brigades in question would themselves have been carried away in the general rush it is idle to speculate."

In requiring the command of the maneuver force, Gen. Corbin issued a general order tonight expressing his approval of the work done by each command, and the force under him. The militia will be paid after the review, which is to be held at Wellington at 1 o'clock.

FIN BODY MURDER WILL TAKES EFFECT

It is Believed to Be That of Christ J. Vrwiss

Christ J. Vrwiss is thought to have been the name of a man whose body was found in the river yesterday morning opposite the old Metzger farm, near Figs Eye, on the West side.

The name was ascertained from papers found in the pockets. The body is that of a man apparently thirty years of age, who was dressed in a suit of dark clothing, and enameled leather shoes. It had evidently been in the river but a short time. The man had dark brown hair and dark eyes.

Inquiry at the Minneapolis addresses developed the fact that no such person was known there, although a girl named Louisa Vrwiss formerly worked at the Cook restaurant.

On a page in a notebook found in the pockets was the inscription "Moundavi, Wis., Rural Free Delivery Route No. 2." After the body had been removed to the morgue Coroner A. W. Miller investigated and sent a telegram to Moundavi. Up to an early hour this morning no reply had been received.

Reports of the affair were greatly exaggerated, with the result that a crowd gathered about the saloon. Some persons started the report that an assault had been committed. The police were given the name of the woman, but refused to make it public.

NEWS OF THE CITY

WILL TAKES EFFECT

Charitable Bequest of M. V. Hennessy to Be Carried Out

Judge Bazille yesterday decided that Archbishop John J. Keane, as trustee, is entitled to the possession of $20,000 worth of St. Paul real estate left by Archbishop Michael V. Hennessy to the Joseph's Mercy hospital and to the "new seminary" that is about to be constructed on Kelly's bluff; both institutions being located in Dubuque, Iowa.

The order carrying out the terms of the decision was filed on the showing of D. W. Lawler, local administrator of the estate, that all the preliminaries have been complied with, and asking that under the terms of the will it be declared that Trustee Keane be given full control over the real estate, as though it were personal property. This is done, the court holding that it was the evident intention of the testator that his property be converted into cash and the money turned over to the institutions that he sought to benefit.

Full power is given to the trustee, subject only to objections from the beneficiaries, to do with the estate as he sees fit—by leasing it for other property or selling it outright.

The local estate consists of an interest in about forty lots in St. Paul, many of which contain buildings. The property was acquired by the testator by inheritance. Administrator Lawler certifies that it will bring a total of $20,767.

Archbishop Hennessy left his estate to the two institutions mentioned, with the exception of a house and lot in Dubuque, which he willed to Margaret and Kathryn Sheehy, of that city, and if the legal proceedings in Iowa have progressed as far as they have in St. Paul it is possible to distribute the estate and begin the sale of the real estate, if such is the wish of the beneficiaries.

EIGHTH WARDERS AFTER BILLBOARDS

Nuisance Will Be Discussed at Next Meeting of Organization

The Eighth Ward Improvement association held a meeting last night in Weller's hall, Dale street and University avenue. The attendance was small.

Plans for future campaigns for the benefit of the Eighth ward were made, involving a protest to the water board against the injurious watering extra for water service in dwellings where more than one family resided.

Beside the meter and water charges an extra charge of 25 cents is made for every family having the public water service. This the association contends is unjust and should be abolished.

The nuisance will be brought to the notice of the association at the next meeting. It is claimed that there are more billboards to be erected in the Eighth ward than in any ward in the city.

Later in the season the matter of a uniform boulevard system will be discussed.

Mushrooms Prove Fatal

Rev. William Francis, for five years pastor of the First Baptist church, of Minneapolis, and for nine years previous to the side secretary of the city, died yesterday morning at his home, 2421 Garfield avenue, after eating what he thought to be mushrooms, but which were probably the poisonous Amanita. His wife, two girls and a boy, who ate the suspicious food, also were made ill and suffered severely, but are now out of danger.

Rev. Francis was first taken ill while teaching Bible class at the church yesterday evening, having eaten the mushrooms, or toadstools, which he picked himself near his home last night, for supper.

Orders were given for the militia to hold itself in readiness to respond to a hurry call. Meanwhile the road was put on a train and hurried to Tallahassee, Fla., whence he will be returned to some unknown point in Georgia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Dressed as a laborer and amissly asking passers-by where he was, William Conlin, a rich banker and broker of Telluride, Col., was charged by the police tonight, and removed to a hospital. Mistaken Identity

Sir Thomas Robinson was a tall, uncounted man, and his appearance was rendered still more striking by his hanging dress, which consisted of a tight green jacket, buckskin breeches and a postillion's cap. He once set off in his hunting suit to pay a visit to his sister in Paris. He arrived at the house while there was a large company at dinner. The servant announced Mr. Robinson, and in walked this remarkable figure, to the amazement of the guests. One of them, a French abbe, lifted his fork three times to his mouth and each time laid it down without tasting the food. Unable to resist to restrain his curiosity longer, he burst out eagerly: "Excuse me, monsieur, are you the famous Robinson Crusoe so remarkable in history?"

SEEK MORE TIME TO UNLOAD LUMBER CARS

Shippers Would Extend Period of Non-Demurrage in Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 9.—Complaint of the Lumbermen's Club against the Louisville Car Service association, the Kentucky railroad commission, will tomorrow determine the question of whether it has authority to require the latter to extend from forty-eight to seventy-two hours time allowed by railroad companies running into Kentucky for the unloading of cars containing lumber and other freight before adding charges for car service.

It is understood that the extension will be ordered. The railroad companies affected deny the authority of the state commission to interfere, and the question will be litigated.

Argument of the question was made here today before the commission.
