ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(Special Correspondence.)—A remarkable case that threatens to upset the theory and practice of medicine is reported from Wilmington, O. The human heart has been made to beat again in the body of been made to beat again in the body of a woman given up to death by doctors. The credit for this startling restora-tion is due to that distinguished savant of this city, Thomas F. Adkin, Profes-sor of Vitaopathy, and President of the Institute of Physicians and Surgeons. Previous experiments on animals, like those made by Loeb, of Chicago, and Weaver of Philadelphia, succeeded in

Weaver, of Philadelphia, succeeded in making the heart beat for only a short time after death, and even this partial success probably was due merely to reflex muscular action induced by saline

But in this case Prof. Adkin accomplished a far more wonderful result. By an entirely different method and in an entirely different way, he not only made the heart beat again, but made it made the heart beat again, but made it keep on beating, and today the woman, a Mrs. M. E. Brackney, is alive and well, instead of being in her grave.

The history of medicine, from the time of Galen to the present day, fails to give an explanation of this phenomenal restoration that seems to rival the miracles of ancient writ.

The facts in the case are so un-and far-reaching control over human life, over disease and death.

"Yes, I restored Mrs. Brackney to life and health, made her heart beat again," said the professor. "But it is a mistake to think that this is the first or only case of the kind where I have been equally successful when drugs and doctors have failed. I have cured hundreds of men and women in the same way, of diseases pronounced insame way, of diseases pronounced incurable, rescued them when they were on the edge of the grave, and restored them to health and strength without useless drugs or the surgeon's knife."
"Would you mind giving the names of some of these people?"

One case that I remember particularly is that of Mrs. L. A. Phillips, of Tra-wick, Tex. "It applies to all. With the power that is given me by my knowledge of this law, there is no disease that I may not cure. I have made the blind see and the lame walk. I have overcome paralysis. Episcopalians Find Some Dioceses Fall Short

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—Missionary matters were discussed during the greater part of today's session of the Episcopal church triennial congress. The house of bishops and house of deputles were in joint session as the board of missions nearly all day. The delegates to the woman's auxiliary were also present bishops and notice of deplaces to the women and a suxiliary were also present.

The presiding bishop, Daniel S. Tuttle, of Massachusetts, presided over the joint session. Many missionary reports were submitted regarding the work of the past three years. All were generally satisfactory with the exception of that part of the board of missions report which stated that a number of dioceses had falled to contribute their share of the fundassessed under the apportionment plan.

Rev. Henry Hulse, a Cuban missionary, advocated the election of a bishop for Cuba, and Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee, of Washington, D. C., presented a resolution asking that a missionary bishop for Mexleo be appointed. No action was taken on either proposition today.

The necessities of these robber barons will increase with what they get. Their evil appetite grows quite as much by what they feed upon, as being deprived of sustenance. It was out of a queen's window that Jezebel coveted Nabob's vineyard, and it was out of a crowded harem that King David desired the wife of Uriah. So it has been from the beginning of the world until now; he that hath much wants more; and if the people want relief from this unjust taxation they must get it—not from the men who are getting the benefit of this tax, but by their own votes.

Girl Confesses

Thursday night the father of a girl sixteen years of age took her to the South side police station. He told the sergeant in command and Detective Rhodes that while his daughter said she was employed in a factory and brought home $4 every Saturday night as her wages, she seemed to be unable to tell who her employer was and what manner of work she was following. Pressed by the officers, she finally admitted that she had been obtaining money from some Chinamen. She named a thirteen-year-old girl as the one who had induced her to follow this life. This girl, large for her years, was found at edurch and taken to the life. This girl, large for her years, was found at church and taken to the station. Crushes Him and Tears His Victim's Uncle With Fatal Effect

CODY, Wyo., Oct. 7 .- James Wilson and a nephew, both from Pennsylvania, who were traveling in Yellowstone park, came suddenly upon a bear in a timbered part of the park, which attacked them. The boy was crushed to death and Wilson was so badly torn and bitten that he died soon after being rescued by other travelers. The bear was supposed to be one of the number of tame animals kept in the park and the boy fired a shot at it. The animal became infuriated and attacked the boy, killing him. Wilson went to his nephew's rescue and was himself fatally hurt.

The Nebraska broke away eleven minutes ahead of time and slid into the water on absolutely even keel.

The only reason the vessel was launched ahead of time was that by a slight miscalculation the poppet (a wooden brace) at the bow was raising the vessel too high and in the opinion of experts it was better that the supports be knocked away without delay. Naval men who viewed the launching stated that it was the most successful they ever saw. The Nebraska weighs more than any vessel ever before launched in the United States navy.
