URGES ROOSEVELT TO TRY MEDIATION

LONDON TIMES WOULD HAVE HIM STOP WAR

"Thunderer" Claims the American President Is Best Fitted to Start a Movement for Successful Mediation ---Meanwhile Japs and Russians Continue Using Artillery Against Each Other

Special Cable to the Globe
LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Times says: "It is universally felt here that Roosevelt has a unique opportunity to utilize the immense influence conferred upon him by the American people to initiate a movement for the cessation of the far Eastern war. When the Kaiser heard of Roosevelt's triumph he exclaimed that it presented the first hope of successful mediation, and there is no doubt that the Kaiser, from not entirely disinterested motives, would second Roosevelt in an effort to secure peace. Russia has now been sufficiently weakened militarily for the Kaiser's ends, while his avowed friendliness toward her in adversity places him in a most favorable position for future developments."

entertained. Both sides seem content for the present with a suspension of hostilities. An artillery fire from both sides continued at intervals. At 10 o'clock the Russian wing, where, all day Nov. 9, and also during the night, the Russians shelled the Japanese positions with their heavy guns. Neither side on that date gained any advantage. As a result of the heavy bombardment by the Russians the Japanese have withdrawn some of their batteries from the advance in the positions. It is now believed that, not being ready to attack, they are falling back to the hills. Advantage for Russians The Russians gained a great advantage when, towards the end of the battle on the Shakhe river, they recaptured Lone Tree hill, which has since been renamed Poutloff hill, in honor of the colonel who led the last successful attack. The hill commands a large part of the plain over which the Japanese must advance. The operations are about the same each day. There is artillery firing most of the time and the frequent clashes of infantry at night. The soldiers of the opposing outposts in close proximity exchange cigarettes and other luxuries. During the bombardment last night the Russians threw sixty large melinite shells into the Japanese camp opposite Manjion hill. The Japanese, who during the previous campaigning seemed to have successfully used a searchlight directed against the Russian positions for the purpose of covering their operations at night in the extension of their field works in the region of the light, did not reply last night when the Russians attacked them further to the east. Japanese Economical The Japanese are notably economical. Continued on Third Page

Use Their Artillery
MUKDEN, Nov. 11.—There was a heavy exchange of artillery fire yesterday at the Russian right wing. The Russian batteries began shelling the Japanese trenches and the Japanese batteries responded. During the night Russian volunteers dislodged a detachment of Japanese infantry from trenches in front of Lone Tree Hill. The Japanese continue to show activity on the left flank without, however, engaging in any serious movement. Comfortable dugouts are being built along the Russian lines and the soldiers seem to think that they will winter where they are. The idea that Field Marshal Oyama contemplates an attempt to take Mukden is not generally

EXPERIMENT IN AIR

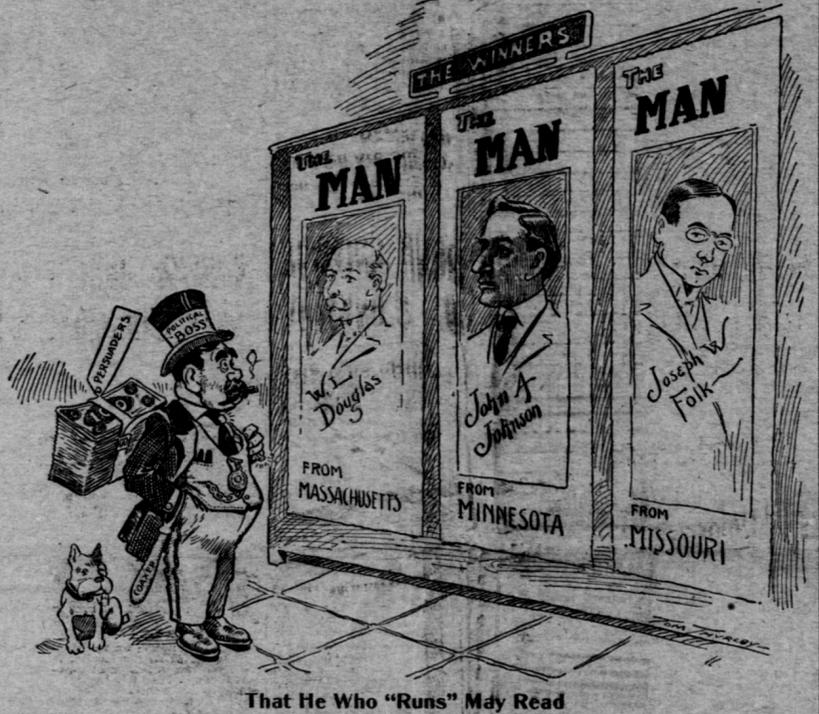

Wireless Telegrams Are Received in a Balloon

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 11.—As the result of a scientific experimental balloon ascension made today from the aeronautic concourse on the world's fair grounds, the practicability and accuracy with which wireless messages could be received, both as to altitude and distance, was satisfactorily tested. More than twenty messages were transmitted from the world's fair wireless tower and received by the operator in the aerial craft. Paul Knabenshue, accompanied by the operator, A. W. McQueen, of Guthrie, Okla., and W. S. Foreman, of St. Louis, made the ascension. After making a successful journey through the air one hour and a half in duration, Aeronaut Knabenshue made a safe landing four miles southwest of the concourse. As Knabenshue threw the ballast over, the balloon shot rapidly into the air. The first current of air sent it to the east, whence its course veered to the south and soon disappeared in the hazy atmosphere. The highest-point of altitude reached was about two miles.

GEN. WADE PRESENTS FILIPINO SOLDIER

Tells of His Progress and Favors the Restoration of the Canteen

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Gen. J. P. Wade, commander of the Philippine division, in his annual report, says: The Filipino soldier, both scout and constabulary, has done and is doing good work, but it is the work of the trained soldier against the mob. He has been well armed, drilled and disciplined by American officers and led by these officers against the undisciplined, undrilled and poorly armed outlaws of the provinces, men of his own race but lacking his advantages and having nothing to gain and all to lose by fighting. Many persons have evolved theories for a continental army to be composed in whole or in part of natives. In fact, most army officers and many civilians seem to keep bills for these purposes in stock, fully developed and ready to be drawn up in the form of an act of congress. In one respect too many of these schemes resemble the numerous projects for a Filipino republic, which provide for a dictator and a lieutenant general. The actual value of the Filipino as a regular soldier, he says, is still an open question, adding: His staying power when brought against a force equal or superior in number, drill and arms, his loyalty to those who employ him and many other questions of vital importance have not been decided. He has to some extent been a pupil of the American soldier, but is far from being a graduate. Gen. Wade approves the canteen, saying: Under the canteen system more men will remain in the post, keep better dressed, have more money and more self-respect. The young recruit will be less liable to become a drunkard, as he will not be brought in contact with the low dives that flourish in the near vicinity of military posts when prohibition rules on the reservation.

MARYLAND'S VOTE REMAINS UNDECIDED

Seven of the Eight Electors Chosen Are Supposed to Be Democrats

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 11.—That an official count of the ballots cast for the presidential electors in Maryland will be required before definite knowledge of the result can be assured was demonstrated tonight by the semi-official count in Baltimore and in twenty of the twenty-three counties of the state. The returns received thus far indicate that seven Democratic and one Republican elector were chosen. The congressional situation remains unchanged—three Democratic and three Republican congressmen having been elected. The state board of canvassers will make the official announcement of the vote. This board must meet and complete its labors within thirty days after election. It is explained by the election supervisors and the political leaders that the mismarking of ballots caused the discrepancy between the vote for the national and congressional candidates. In this connection charges of fraud are made by the leaders of either party, and it will be necessary to await the official count to decide upon the ultimate result. Of the presidential electors Charles J. Bonaparte (Rep.), of Baltimore, was elected, and the remaining seven members of the electoral college were

TOWN IS BURNING

Destruction of Anacosta, Col., Is Threatened

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 11.—The town of Anacosta, in the Cripple Creek district, is in danger of destruction by fire. One block has already been burned and the fire is beyond control of the local department. The buildings of Anacosta, which are among the oldest in the district, are all frame, and they are burning like tinder. The origin of the fire is not known. At present it is confined to that portion of the town west of the Florence & Cripple Creek depot, just below the Mary McKlenny mill, and the shaft houses are in danger of destruction. Artists Burned Out BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 11.—"Harcourt Studios," a two-story brick building in the Back Bay, was gutted by fire tonight, causing a loss of $200,000. About thirty artists' studios were in the building and many artists slept in the building, and several who were asleep when the fire broke out were rescued by firemen. Many of the studios contained valuable paintings. Some of these were saved by being thrown into the street, but many more were destroyed. The fire is thought to have originated in spontaneous combustion.

PHILIPPINE TARIFF MAY BE CHANGED

President Will Favor Revision and Taft Propose Reduction of Dingley Rates

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt will recommend to congress that authority be given the Philippine commission to revise the tariff now in force. The matter was brought up by Secretary Taft and his recommendation was approved. The tariff was the work of the Philippine commission. It was put into effect by executive order and afterward approved by congress. Since it has been in effect many changes have become necessary for the development of the islands. The act of congress approving the schedules, however, was worded as to preclude future revision by the commission. The commission has already prepared a scheme of revision which has been made public for the purpose of securing criticism and suggestions from the business interests of the United States. In this plan, some of the schedules are raised and some lowered. The revision is planned with a view more to the development of the business of the islands than from a revenue standpoint. Secretary Taft has decided to lay before congress at the approaching session a proposal for the reduction of customs duties on goods entering the United States from the Philippines from the present rate, which is 75 per cent of the Dingley tariff rate, to 25 per cent of those rates, the reduction to apply to sugar and tobacco, while all other Philippine products are to be placed on our free list. The secretary's proposition last year was to cut the Dingley duties on sugar and tobacco to 50 per cent of the regular rates, but he argues now that in view of the additional burden placed by congress on Philippine goods through the requirement that Philippine goods shall be carried in American bottoms alone, it is only fair to reduce the American import duties on Philippine goods to the point indicated.

ELECTION OF JUDGE IS STILL IN DOUBT

CONTEST CLOSE BETWEEN O'BRIEN AND HALLAM

Corrected Returns Decrease the Former's Lead, While They Increase the Majority of Anton Miesen for Sheriff Over Justus---T. R. Kane Is Easily Re-elected County Attorney Over Howard Wheeler, but Armstrong Appears to Have Defeated County Surveyor Irvine

Early this morning a report was received from Mounds View which, if verified, will elect Hallam by 22 votes over O'Brien. The report was based on the memory of one of the judges, but it is given some credence, and a recount will be necessary to decide the result.

There is no doubt of Miesen's election as sheriff, the official returns opened and tabulated yesterday showing that he is elected by 362 votes, and in addition it is palpably evident that he is not accredited with the number of votes that he received at Mounds View. He was given but 10 votes there by the newspaper reports, but it is known to have received many more than this number. T. D. O'Brien is apparently elected judge of the district court over Oscar Hallam by 101 votes, although it is likely that this majority will be cut somewhat by the official returns from Mounds View, where O'Brien was given 82 votes to 16 for Hallam. It is believed this is an error, but the change cannot be sufficient to defeat O'Brien, although it will possibly reduce his majority to about 65. On the face of the returns Armstrong, Republican, is elected county surveyor by 76 votes, but it is altogether likely that the official returns from Mounds View will change this result. The returns from this precinct are so mixed and inaccurate that it is likely that the correct vote will show that Irvine, Democrat, is elected. T. R. Kane is safely elected county attorney, having 446 majority over Wheeler, Republican. The official returns increased Kane's lead to some extent. Kane is also expected to make a gain in the official returns from Mounds View. Jesse Foot, Republican, is elected county treasurer by a majority of 604 over Metzdorf, Democrat, his majority having been considerably reduced by the official figures. Metzdorf will likely make a gain of about 60 votes in the official report from Mounds View, still further reducing Foot's majority.

The opening of the official ballots brought to light the fact that a number Continued on Third Page
