THE SENATORSHIP

From now until after the legislature has met and balloted, the fight for the United States senatorship will absorb pretty much all political interest in Minnesota. It is going to be a real old-fashioned scrap, and the outcome is as yet by no means clear.

Those who believed that Senator Clapp would have substantially no opposition, or who thought that his indorsement by the Republican state convention was equivalent to a reelection, either have little knowledge of practical politics or were forgetful of past senatorial contests in this state.

He has the fight of his life on his hands; and unless he has actually secured the pledges of a sufficient number of members of the legislature to elect him, secured them in some such fashion that they cannot be canceled, and had them put away where they would be safe before the recent election, many chances will be against him.

One of these is Joel P. Heatwole. Mr. Heatwole has had his own eye for a long time upon that senatorial chair. His aspirations were made clear in his famous alliance with Dunn and the equally famous cohesiveness that came between them.

tract members to Mr. Lowry's support. Those who remember the fierce and well stocked assault, ludicrous fiasco though it proved, that was made in the last moments of the last senatorial campaign will understand what is going forward. Whenever it is necessary, the Gillilan contingent can be swung to Mr. Lowry's support, and he is the actual and only formidable Hennepin county candidate.

Aside from these two lines of pronounced hostility, there are a few modest lightning rods showing at other points, and particularly in Ramsey county. It is felt by the ambitious that Ramsey county, having the senatorship now, should retain it at all costs; and that in the possible event of circumstances conspiring to defeat Senator Clapp, then at least his successor should be a St. Paul man.

Hennepin announces that it will back Gillilan for the senate. Goodby, Gill, take care of yourself.

THE MINNESOTA ELEVEN The Minnesota football team finished the season of 1904 by defeating the Iowa team, thus closing a strenuous campaign of three months with an uninterrupted string of victories. The team now has a clean record for two years and in the number of points scored has distanced every eleven, not only in the West, but in the East as well.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MINNEAPOLIS Our sister city up the river seems to be afflicted with more than her share of crime. Highway robbery, mysterious deaths and murder are everyday events, and the lesser crimes and the scandal that are sprinkled in with these are all helping to seriously injure Minneapolis' reputation.

Contemporary Comment

Next Presidential Inauguration There seems to be every prospect that the multitude in this city on the next 4th of March will break all previous records. On that occasion, as during the recent campaign and election, the picturesque and commanding personality of President Roosevelt will be the popular magnet.

The President and the South It is not likely that President Roosevelt will go out of his way to excite the South by some new excitement over the race problem.

The Next Congress and Tariff The fifty-ninth congress will be un-pleasantly free to deal with the tariff as it sees fit.

What the Editors Say

Governor-elect Johnson announces that his first official act will be the appointment of Hon. Frank A. Day as private secretary. This is the most important office with the gift of the governor, and carries with it salary of $5,000 a year.

Senator Clapp is certain to find a contest on his hands for re-election, because his personal ambition entered into the contest, and the man for whom he fought fell in the battle of votes.

The great question of tariff and trusts which the Democrats made a leading issue in the campaign just closed, is still a problem to be solved.

FEDERAL TAXES

Differences Between Brewery Workers' Union and Various Brotherhoods Adjusted

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 25.—After spending almost the entire day in a bitter debate, the differences between the Brewery Workers' union and the international brotherhoods of the brewers, firemen and teamsters was settled by the American Federation of Labor.

The union insisted that all firemen, engineers and teamsters employed about breweries should join and come under the jurisdiction of the union.

The representatives of the international brotherhoods of the brewers, firemen and teamsters objected to this and introduced a resolution to the effect that all workers in breweries be organized according to their respective crafts, and asked the convention to vote that all engineers, firemen and teamsters now in the Brewery Workers' union should leave the same and join organizations of their respective craft.

For an hour a debate was indulged in on the proposition to substitute the word "men" for "shall," and the convention finally voted for the change.

This permits the engineers, firemen and teamsters to elect whether or not they shall remain in the Brewery Workers' union. It was then that during the debate that the union had filled the places of engineers and firemen on strike in St. Louis and Belleville, Ill., who had recently thereupon organized the latter. It was requested that the federation compel the convention to be reinstated and the convention voted that all injunctions pending or obtained by the Brewery Workers' union against other organizations should be withdrawn or dissolved.

Bad Report From Porto Rico Porto Rico Iglesias, representative from Sanago, Cal., Nov. 25.—The men in his native land was worse under the present regime than when Spain was in power. He averred that 600 Porto Ricans died each month from starvation.

The proposition to amalgamate the three central bodies of San Francisco was found to be an impossible task at the present time, as was the attempt to adjust the differences between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and the Association of Shipbuilders.

The delegates unanimously voted to use every effort to make more effective the union label, as it was avowed that the enemies of organized labor were endeavoring to destroy the label's meaning.

A resolution to do away with the Washington lobby was voted down, after the lobbyist had made his own speeches in favor of its passage. The socialists were opposed on the floor by President Gompers. The latter denounced the lobby as a "snake" for what he termed their sneering tirades.
