HER SECURITIES WERE INSECURE

MRS. CHADWICK HELD $13,000,000 OF THEM

All Bore Andrew Carnegie's Signature, but All Are Declared Worthless—Second Receiver Is Appointed Who Evades Federal Court and Gets All the "Securities" in Reynolds' Possession

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 10.—The feature of today's developments in the financial transactions of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was the disclosure that she possessed alleged securities to the amount of nearly $13,000,000. These all bear the name of Andrew Carnegie and are as follows: Note held by the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, $500,000; note held by Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, $250,000; note admitted to exist by President Beckwith, $500,000; note held by I. Reynolds, $5,000,000; certificate of trusteeship for securities, held by Reynolds, $7,500,000; total, $13,750,000. With this backing Mrs. Chadwick was enabled to obtain large loans during the last two or three years, most of which she repaid, however. The only financial institution which has so far as is known been compelled to close on account of the woman's dealings is the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, the president and cashier of which are now under indictment and bail on the charge of misapplication of national bank funds. The inducements offered the Oberlin bank officials were stated today to have been the promise of Mrs. Chadwick to Messrs. Beckwith and Spear that their bank was to be made the trustee of Mrs. Chadwick's $5,000,000 estate and that the bankers were each to receive a yearly salary of $10,000 for their services. An additional bonus of $40,000 was promised the bank when the loans were repaid. Second Receiver Appointed The legal aspect of the case locally has taken on a new phase today by the appointment of a second receiver for the Chadwick property on behalf of Banker Newton. The appointment

ASK DAYS OF GRACE FOR McCONNELL

Members of Association of Dairy Commissioners to Approach Johnson

A strong effort is to be made to induce Governor-elect John A. Johnson to allow W. W. P. McConnell to remain the nominal head of the state dairy and food commission until July 1. The reason given for this request is that in this manner only can McConnell continue to occupy the position of president of the National Association of State Dairy and Food departments, with the idea that he will thus be able to take charge of the convention of the association, to be held in Portland in June.

H. B. Meyers, of Chicago, representing the national association, was in the city yesterday at the Ryan hotel. After spending the day in St. Paul he went to Minneapolis in the evening to consult with leading Democrats, whom he expects to interest in his proposal. Meyers was very active and contends that he met with considerable encouragement.

Mr. McConnell becomes ineligible to be president of the national organization the moment he leaves the state dairy and food commission office. The constitution of the association provides that all officers must be active dairy and food commissioners. Mr. McConnell was elected to the office in October, at which time the members of the association felt certain that the Republicans would carry Minnesota, and that therefore he would be retained in his position. There is a general desire, according to Mr. Meyers, on the part of members of the association, representing every state in the Union and nineteen foreign countries, that Mr. McConnell be retained as nominal head of the state department until July 1, covering the period of the convention. They ask that it be so arranged that E. K. Slater, recently named for the place by Mr. Johnson, assume the position of assistant until that time. "Dairy and food commissioners throughout the country consider Mr. McConnell one of the most able men presiding over such departments," said Mr. Meyers, "and they naturally desire that some arrangement be made whereby it will be possible for him to have charge of the annual convention. To allow him to retain possession of the title until after the convention is all that we ask, and feel that Governor-elect Johnson will grant our request."

MAY FIGHT GOING TO CLEVELAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick is still confined in a cell in the Tombs. Philip Carpenter, her attorney, said tonight that she would not go to Cleveland before Monday and the belief is prevalent that she will not go to the Ohio city without a fight. Her counsel, both here and in Ohio, unite in opposing her voluntary departure from New York.

TOOK COUNTY FUNDS

This Is Charge Against Deputy County Treasurer

Special to The Globe ST. CLOUD, Minn., Dec. 10.—The county attorney has issued papers authorizing the arrest of C. A. Bernick, deputy treasurer of Stearns county, upon a charge of embezzling county funds. Bernick's shortage is known to be $3,000 and may run into much larger figures before the investigation is completed. Bernick, with T. Shep McClure, of Minneapolis, is interested in Stearns county lands and it is understood that he used the funds he appropriated to make payments to McClure. Nine hundred acres of land in this county stand in Bernick's name, and he will settle with the county, but the prosecuting attorney says he will push the case against him. Deputy Bank Examiner Johnson, on his recent visit here, discovered a shortage of $1,400 which Bernick made good without allowing Chris Schmitt, the county treasurer, to learn of the deal. Schmitt learned of it by the date of the deposit and confronted Bernick, who broke down and told the whole story.

SHERIFF JULIUS

New Uim Officer, Who Procured Koch's Finger Prints by Force

OBJECTS TO GIVING HIS FINGER PRINTS

But Officers Overpower Koch, Who Is Arraigned Charged With Gebhard Murder

Special to The Globe NEW ULM, Minn., Dec. 10.—Dr. George R. Koch, who was arrested last night charged with the murder of Dr. L. A. Gebhard, was arraigned before Justice N. Henningsen this afternoon. On account of the great public interest in the district court room in the court house was secured and hundreds of citizens were present. The arrested man was brought before the justice by Sheriff Julius and seemed downcast, feeling keenly the terrible ordeal through which he is to pass. Attorney George W. Somerville, on behalf of the accused, informed the court that the defense would waive the preliminary examination and Dr. Koch was thereupon bound over to await the action of the grand jury, which meets Dec. 13. As Dr. Koch is charged with murder in the first degree and the offense is not bailable, he was committed to jail. Sheriff Julius and Chief of Police Klaus attempted to secure finger prints of Dr. Koch shortly after his arrest, but he fought desperately and they were unable to secure very good prints. They even handcuffed him, but were unable to overpower him. Dr. Koch had supposed his attorneys relative to the request of the officers and was told not to allow them to secure finger prints. The prosecution intends to show that the bloody finger prints left behind by the murderer when he escaped are those of the man now in custody. A spirited session took place today noon when the citizens' committee, Attorney George M. Popham and Albert Pfander met County Attorney Hoidalde in Justice Henningsen's office to definitely decide as to who would represent the state at the hearing in the afternoon. As Gen. Childs had not arrived the justice thought it advisable to postpone the hearing until Monday morning. Attorney Pfander asked Hoidalde whether he was ready to step out and he replied that he was, but that he would not be dictated to as to what his duties were. This caused a warm discussion and the committee told County Attorney Hoidalde that he had attempted to run the town long enough and that they would insist on it that he keep his promise and he administered to the jury and not attempt to conduct the examination of witnesses at the hearing. The stand taken by the committee brought Hoidalde to time and he agreed to await the arrival of Gen. Childs, who will conduct the prosecution, having been selected to do so by Judge Webster. It proved, however, that the defense did not desire this and waived an examination.

SAYS LAWSON IS A CONSPIRATOR

Profited by "the System" He Had Denounced, According to Financial Writer

Special to The Globe BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 10.—Clarence W. Barron, proprietor of the Boston Bureau, one of the foremost financial writers in America, publishes tonight a bitter denunciation and expose of an alleged secret conspiracy of the Lawson-Gates combination with the Standard Oil-Amalgamated Copper-insurance combine, which Lawson terms "the system." Barron declares that Lawson juggled with the text of the president's message to frighten weakly-minded speculators, small stockholders and traders until they were frightened and ran, thereby plundering the public of millions upon millions of dollars. In his statement he flatly accuses Mr. Lawson of being a part of "the system" which he affects to expose but carefully conceals, and of being used, wittingly or unwittingly, to further stock jobbing in Wall street. He asserts that Lawson led his followers, gained by masterful publicity, like lambs to slaughter, by his four-column Amalgamated "warning," published as an advertisement throughout the country. He says: "Lawson's slaughtering game began Thanksgiving day, when he tested the market and walked away with information as to the weakness and menace of Amalgamated in the market. When the market had been measured up and holdings had been tabulated through banks and trust companies, the bell was rung and Lawson sprung the mine which knocked the bottom out of the market. It was the psychological moment, with the country awaiting the president's message. Lawson exposed to view the highest arts of the manipulating upster during the days of his slaughter of his followers in Amalgamated. It was the most masterful piece of tipster manipulation ever seen in Wall street. While Lawson fiddled upon the telegraph wires of the country, yelling that the Amalgamated Rome was burning, he was Nero, fiddler, fireman and incendiary."

WILL WED HIS NURSE

Romance Due to Culminate in St. Paul Today

Special to The Globe CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 10.—An unusual romance that will be echoed on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts will culminate with a marriage in St. Paul, Minn., tomorrow. Miss Estella Kelsey, of Roseville, Ohio, left yesterday for St. Paul, where she will be married to Harry Y. Saint, of Spokane, Wash. Miss Kelsey is the daughter of J. H. Kelsey, of Roseville, and possesses many graces of mind and heart which have endeared her to her host of friends. She is a professional nurse, being a graduate of the Cincinnati city hospital, and has just resigned as matron of the hospital for women in Philadelphia. While a nurse at the city hospital here Mr. Saint, then attorney of this city, was taken to the institution suffering from typhoid fever. Miss Kelsey was assigned to his case and successfully nursed him back to health. The acquaintance formed while he lay on a sick bed and she administered to him ripened into love and their marriage tomorrow will be the result. Since leaving Cincinnati Mr. Saint has become the editor of the Spokane (Wash.) Press. They will leave St. Paul immediately after the ceremony for Helena, Mont., where they will spend their honeymoon with friends. From Helena they will go to Spokane, their future home.

ABOLISHES STATE OF SIEGE IN RUSSIA

PRINCE MIRSKY MAKES A NEW LIBERAL MOVE

Grand Duke Sergius and Minister of Justice Resign Because They Fail to Head Off the Liberal Tendency—Japanese Cruiser Is Sunk by a Mine and Nearly Forty Men Go Down.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 10.—That Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky is moving in the matter of the zemstvo memorial is evidenced by his decision to suspend the operation of the state of siege in large cities. This measure, which must be renewed annually, will be dropped altogether at the beginning of the Russian new year. The Social Democratic Labor party has issued an inflammatory proclamation, denouncing autocracy in bitter terms, demanding an immediate end of the war and the convocation of a national assembly, and calling upon all friends and sympathizers to participate in a demonstration in front of the Kazan cathedral tomorrow.

It is rumored that M. Muraviev's successor will be M. Nolde, a member of the council of ministers. It is reported that M. Muraviev's letter tendering his resignation to the emperor declares that the principle of autocracy formed the basis of his policy during tenure of office, but as even officials in his department permitted absolutely contrary ideas to prevail, he cannot continue to serve his majesty as a loyal subject.

Grand Duke Resigns As a result of the unsuccessful attempts of Grand Duke Sergius, uncle of the emperor and governor general of Moscow, and M. Muraviev, the minister of justice, to block the liberal movement, both are reported to have resigned. According to the story Grand Duke Sergius advised the emperor not to concede anything and told him he must choose between him and Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky. There fore when the emperor indicated his purpose to support Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky the grand duke tendered his resignation. M. Muraviev's retirement, which will be preceded by the usual leave of absence abroad, is directly connected with the movement for reform of the existing laws.

Kuropatkin Has a Jap Friend TOKYO, Dec. 10.—An interesting story of the great struggle at arms between Japan and Russia lies in a long established personal friendship between Gen. Terauchi, minister of war of Japan, and Gen. Kuropatkin, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in Manchuria, and an exchange of swords as presents on the eve of the war. Kuropatkin and Terauchi met in Paris two years ago. Terauchi, then a major, was military attaché to the Japanese legation to the French capital, and Kuropatkin, a major general at that time went to France to observe the military maneuvers. The two soldiers met first officially and there soon sprang up between them a feeling of warm friendship and regard. They parted in Paris and did not meet until Kuropatkin came to Japan last year. The lapse of a year had brought increased rank and cabinet portfolios for

ROB SLEEPY EYE HORSE IS SHREWD

Burglars Make a Haul and Sleep in a School House

Answers Questions by Power of Observation

Special to The Globe SLEEPY EYE, Minn., Dec. 10.—The clothing store of Salkowski, Glotzbach & Clausen was broken into last night, the safe blown open and $200 taken. The burglars entered the front door by sawing a panel. Previous to this they broke into Kelm's carriage shop and broke open the safe, but found no money. They then took a drill, saw and crowbar from Kelm's place with which to do their work. After committing the deed the men broke into a school house three miles west of town, built a fire and evidently remained until morning. The three then walked west to Cobden, where two purchased tickets to Lambert. The third man was traced south. As soon as the burglary was discovered Mayor Olson wired a description of the supposed criminals. The two that went west stopped off at Sanborn, where both were arrested this afternoon. One purchased a candle during the day at Patmore's store, and another bought soap and cotton at A. A. Mot's drug store. It is said these articles were found and recognized by the men that sold them. The burglars will be brought back from Sanborn and hearing given them Monday.

Berlin, Dec. 10.—Dr. Carl Stumpf, professor of physiology at the University of Berlin and a member of the Royal Academy of Science, and two colleagues, Dr. von Hornboast and Dr. Pfungst, have ended months of experiments with Von Osten's horse Hans. They find that the secret of the animal's replies is in his power of observation, which enable him to perceive, while he looks at his questioner, the instant he has reached a correct answer. Thus the horse failed to tap out a correct answer to a question when the person putting it did not know the answer. For example: "How many persons are in the group behind me?" The questioner, not looking himself, did not know the number and Hans was unable to give a correct answer, nor was he able to calculate or perform the simplest counting. Stumpf does not doubt the good faith of Von Osten, but he concluded that the horse's long training had taught him to detect the eyesight changes in the bearing of his questioner as he reached the right number of hoof beats in spelling or in using the counting apparatus. This sharpness of observation in itself is most remarkable, as the horse notes movements or changes in expression invisible to others, and of which the questioner is unconscious. This conception of the horse's abilities is the only one to cover all circumstances. Dr. Stumpf says he talked with the naturalist Chillingas about this, and Chillingas agreed with him and his assistants, Von Hornboast and Pfungst.

Will Not Defy Their Government Rich Frenchmen Refuse Vatican's Request for Support of New Bishops

Special Cable to The Globe ROME, Dec. 10.—It has just transpired that Pius X. in his anxiety to provide bishops for the vacant dioceses of France, had recently resolved to appoint them without asking the consent of the French government. In order to provide the persons selected with sufficient living, letters were sent from the Vatican to the richest families of the French aristocracy living in the districts to be supplied, asking them how much they were ready to contribute for the support of the bishops to be appointed. The answers received were for the most part rather discouraging for the Vatican authorities, as many of the prominent French Catholics thus addressed refused to contribute anything for the support of personages selected by the pope as they considered the proposed abolition of the concordat to be that Pius X. is firmly determined, in the event the concordat is suppressed, to claim, on behalf of the French church, that the economical conditions of the churches be reinstated as they existed before 1801, when the concordat was concluded.

Stevens Enumerates Properties in Isthmus Which Uncle Sam Secures

Special to The Globe WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—Representative Stevens, of Minnesota, member of the committee that has recently visited Panama, says our government secured considerably more than $40,000,000, which the canal rights cost, in the form of personal property of various kinds. For example, he reports that the committee found 2,700 large and expensive steel dumping carts, 72-dredges, 2,500 buildings, all in fair repair; 125 locomotives, 50 of them from Baldwin's works in Philadelphia; 4 large storehouses packed to the doors with all kinds of brass and steel appliances which will be needed in the work of construction, and various other supplies, all in reasonably good condition. Besides that, Culebra cut, which must go down somewhat more than 300 feet if it is to reach sea level, is already down about 125 feet. Stevens, in common with other members of the committee, is strongly in favor of a sea-level canal.

Andrew D. White Makes a Dreadful Prophecy

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—"Much as I admire President Roosevelt as a true man, we have seen today the sorry example of the mistake a strong man can make. The president was appealed to by a colored Baptist minister to save the latter's son from the gallows for the murder of a farmer in Canada. The president listened to the appeal and has succeeded in securing a commutation of sentence. I don't admire the president for that." This statement was made today by Andrew D. White, formerly United States ambassador to Germany, in an address on "Evolution vs. Revolution in Politics," before the League for Political Education. Mr. White had declared that high crime is more frequent in this country than anywhere else in the world save Sicily, and that there is a widespread superstition here that it is the duty of the people to protect criminals. It was in calling attention to what he termed this mistaken leniency that the former ambassador referred to President Roosevelt as quoted. "Crime is crime," said Mr. White, "and it is our duty to make its prosecution more speedy and less intricate. We should stand together to exterminate criminals." Present American business methods, Mr. White declared, are leading to catastrophes and filling lunatic asylums and poorhouses. He predicted that if better methods are not developed Anglo-Saxons will die out and be succeeded by a cruder race of tougher fiber.

Chaffee; Justice Wright, of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, and Representative Hull, of Iowa.

Of the capital $15,000,000 is to be preferred stock, with 7 per cent non-cumulative dividends.
