IRI REYNOLDS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11.—Secretary Iri Reynolds, of the Wade Park bank, declared tonight that his implicit belief in the statements made to him by Mrs. Chadwick in which she declared herself to be the daughter of Andrew Carnegie was the impelling cause of his financial dealing with her.

her husband are false. He is now in Europe and is penniless. "Just to show the methods of Mrs. Chadwick, I will tell of what she offered to do for me about one year ago. She came to me in my office here and said she was grateful for all that I had done for her and that she wished me to accept a present from her. She then offered me $100,000 in four notes of $25,000 each. The notes were drawn by her and she declared that they were as good as gold. They may have been, for I know that her notes for similar amounts had been negotiated in banks in this city and had been taken up at maturity. Of course as an officer of the bank I could not accept such a present and remain in the institution. I was compelled either to resign or decline the present of the notes, and I declined the notes."

PHILIPPINE BILL TO COME TO VOTE

Senate Will Consider Measure for Islands This Week

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The principal event scheduled for the senate during the present week is the taking of the vote on the Philippine civil government bill, which is set down for next Friday at 3 o'clock. Under the agreement to vote the bill remains the unfinished business of the senate until that date, and it will have preference over all other questions in the matter of debate each day after 2 o'clock. Many Democratic senators are opposed to the bill, but the best information obtainable is that there will be no general debate on the Philippine question, as they consider the passage of the bill a foregone conclusion.

They will devote their efforts to securing a modification of some of the provisions which they regard as especially objectionable, giving special attention to the bond and Chinese immigration clauses.

Senate Will Rest After the vote on the Philippine bill on Friday the senate will adjourn until the following Monday, and it is considered doubtful whether much more business of general importance will be then undertaken until after Christmas, as many senators already have announced their intention to leave for home immediately after the vote on the Philippine measure. It had been the original intention of the senate to press for an adjournment as early as the 19th inst., but there is now manifest a disposition to allow the house to have its way in fixing the date for the 21st, even though the senate remains only technically in session, as will be the case, according to the present outlook.

It is the intention not to transact much business other than the Philippine legislation during the present week. Senator Heyburn on Monday will make an effort to secure consideration of the pure food bill, but if he succeeds in getting it before the senate it will not be seriously proceeded with before the holidays. It is believed that the statehood bill will not be reported from committee before the holidays. The vacancies on the senate committees probably will be filled during the week.

Thief Robs Gambling House TONOPAH, Nev., Dec. 11.—In the presence of a large crowd a gambling house was robbed of $1,000 last night by an unknown man, who crawled 300 feet under the building and with a large auger bored a hole in the floor. TO GUARD INTERESTS LINER STRIKES GALE, PANIC IN STERAGE

Railroad Will Object to Increase of Commission's Powers and Thousands Were in Peril

Special to The Globe PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 11.—There is to be a concert of action among the great trunk line officials against the proposition to increase the powers of the interstate commerce commission. A vice president of a trunk road said tonight that in view of the position taken by President Roosevelt there would be a meeting of railroad presidents shortly to frame a plan of action, and in all probability the meeting will be held in New York city. Several railroad presidents who were at a dinner given by Thomas Dolan Saturday, discussed the forthcoming meeting and practically agreed that the railroads should agree upon the appointment of a small and select committee to prevent any legislation that will embarrass the operation of railroads.

George F. Baer, who was at the dinner, today expressed the opinion that the great transportation corporations would never agree to an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, unless the members of that body should be hereafter made up of eminent railroad men, whose practical knowledge of the business would prevent any serious injury to vested interests.

TEST STANDPAT RULE

Labor Unions to Put Case Up to President

Special to The Globe NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—"Standpat" policy was "put up" to the president tonight by members of the central federated union at a meeting in the University Settlement building. The steamer St. Louis, due here from Southampton later in the month, is the bone of contention. President Roosevelt will be requested to compel the owners of the St. Louis to pay a tariff on repairs made to the steamer on the other side at an expense of more than $500,000. The question was brought up by James Wilson, delegate of the International association of machinists. He declared that the owners of the steamer had deliberately taken the St. Louis to the other side for the purpose of having repairs done, and it was the duty of organized labor to see that a tariff was paid on new material used on her machinery and boilers. He said: "The tariff on machinery is 45 per cent, and the owners of the St. Louis have no right to be exempt from the duty. If this tariff is imposed it will mean at last $200,000 additional cost to the owners, and this money is better in the United States treasury than in the pockets of the owners of the ship."

PAT CROWE SHOOTS

Elusive Suspect Escapes From Federal Detectives

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 11.—A force of policemen, deputy sheriffs and detectives have been scouring the Missouri river bottom lands north of St. Joseph today, for the hiding place of Pat Crowe and Sam, alias "Horse Thief" Johnson, who met Detectives Tug Wilson and William Wheeler at an early hour this morning and exchanged a fusillade of shots. Both officers are confident that one of the men was wounded. The men are believed to be still hiding in the dense brush of the bottom lands. Yesterday the secret service department received a tip from a reliable source that Pat Crowe, the much-wanted alleged Cudahy kidnaper, was at the home of Charles Christian. Detectives Wheeler and Wilson were detailed on the case. Driving to the locality, the two officers secreted themselves in the sand hills southwest of Christian's house. However, nothing was seen of the men until early this morning. Both officers, lying on the ground, became chilled and started to draw a trifle closer to the Christian home. Just at that moment two men were seen to leave the side doorway. In the dense darkness it was impossible to recognize either. The two detectives posted themselves at an advantageous position by the roadside. When the two men came within ten paces both officers stepped to the road. "Throw up your hands; we're officers," exclaimed Wilson. A curse and a volley of shots were the answer. Both officers opened fire with Winchester. The two men sprang from the road, firing rapidly and emptying their guns. Under cover of smoke, and aided by darkness, the men escaped.

Mr. Chadwick stating that he did not care to say anything for publication at this time.

RUSSIA IN FACE OF INTERNAL WAR

MONSTER MOB RIOTS IN ST. PETERSBURG STREET

Army of Police and Gendarmes With Drawn Sabers Charge Into Solid Mass of Humanity in Efforts to Break Up Demonstration Against the Government --- Crowds Demand That the Struggle Against Japan Cease and Citizens of Czar's Domain Granted Fair Treatment

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 11.—A popular anti-government demonstration, the participants in which included large numbers of students of both sexes, began at midday in the Nevsky prospect and lasted about two hours. Hundreds of police and mounted gendarmes, who were hidden in the courtyard of the public buildings, emerged suddenly and charged the crowd at full gallop, driving the demonstrators in headlong confusion and screaming with terror upon the sidewalks and into adjacent streets. This led to serious encounters, fifty persons being more or less severely injured. Large numbers were arrested.

Not since the riots of 1901, when Cossacks reaching across the Nevsky prospect from building to building, charged down the boulevard from the Moscow station to the Neva, has the Russian capital lived through such a day of excitement as this. The authorities last night got wind of the big anti-government demonstration planned for today by the Social Democratic labor party to demand an immediate end of the war and the convocation of a national assembly. Leading the articles in every paper this morning was an explicit notice warning the people at their peril to desist from congregating in the Nevsky prospect. At the same time extensive preparations were made to quell any disturbance. The police on the Nevsky prospect were equipped with the dorniks or horse porters were marshaled in front of their respective buildings. Half a dozen squadrons of mounted gendarmes were massed in the rear of the Kazan cathedral, and battalions of reserve police were stationed in several court yards out of sight. Minister of the Interior Svyatopolk-Mirsky gave orders, however, that no Cossacks should be used, and Fulton, chief of police, issued explicit directions to avoid harsh measures unless it should become absolutely necessary. The newspaper warning, however, by giving notice to those not apprised of the prospect of a demonstration, defeated the very object for which they were designed, attracting seemingly all the people of the vast thoroughfare to this vicinity, and despite the pleadings of the police, who literally lined the sidewalks, the street was almost impassable, while the snow-covered boulevards were black with sleighs filled mostly with the curious. The crowds on the sidewalk were composed of practically the whole student body of the capital, including many young women, who have always been prominent in Russia in revolutionary movements, also thousands of workmen belonging to the social democratic party. Shortly before noon the workmen seemed to swarm to the corner of the boulevard opposite the Kazan cathedral. The police, realizing the critical moment had arrived, tried in vain to keep back the human tide. Then when there was not a single mounted policeman in sight on the stroke of one, from the heart of the thickly wedged crowd a blood red flag, like a jet of flame suddenly shot up. It was the signal. Other flags appeared in the crowd, waving frantically overhead, and they were greeted with a hoarse roar "Down with autocracy."

HOLDS VOTE RECORD

Roosevelt Leads All Presidential Candidates in History

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—A canvass by the New York Times of the popular vote at the last presidential election, complete except as to one county in Tennessee and four counties in Michigan, for which estimates are given, shows that President Roosevelt defeated Judge Parker by 2,546,169. He polled the largest vote ever given for a president of the United States, 7,640,560. This is more than 400,000 in excess of the vote cast for McKinley in 1900.

The official figures for Missouri show that Roosevelt carried that state by 25,600 votes. In Maryland one Republican elector received the largest vote, but his colleagues were defeated. The Democrats of Maryland will therefore have seven votes in the electoral college, while the Republicans will have but one.

A comparison with the vote table of 1900 shows a marked change in the Socialist vote. Debs, the candidate of the party that year, was also the candidate this year, and his vote shows an increase of more than 300,000. Watson, the Populist candidate, ran strongest in his own state, Georgia, where he received 22,635 votes. He received most of his votes in the South and West, but only one was cast for him in South Carolina. The total vote is given as 13,534,119, and that for each of the presidential candidates is given as follows: Roosevelt, Republican, 7,640,560; Parker, Democrat, 5,094,391; Debs, Socialist, 332,857; Swallow, Prohibition, 248,411; Watson, Populist, 124,381; Corrigan, Socialist Labor, 33,519. The electoral vote will be 336 for Roosevelt and 140 for Parker.

Feel Frost's Grip

GEN. KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, Dec. 11 (via Fusan, Dec. 2).—The army has had its first taste of the real quality of a Manchurian winter the past week. Last night the thermometer fell 4 degrees below zero. The days are cold also, but sunny, and the absence of severe winds makes the life tolerable. The hills are covered with snow, which or the plain is an inch in depth. All the streams are thickly frozen.
