CARNEGIE ADVISES EMPLOYER AND MAN SAYS THEY SHOULD BE BETTER ACQUAINTED

August Belmont Is Elected President of the National Civic Federation— Archbishop Ireland Declares Labor Problems Should Be Settled on the Basis of Intelligence and Mutual Sympathy

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—August Belmont was tonight elected president of the National Civic Federation, to succeed the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna. The election took place at the dinner of the federation. During the day a committee, composed of Archbishop Ireland, John Mitchell and Franklin MacVeagh, was appointed by the executive committee of the federation, which is holding its annual meeting here, to select a president, and the choice fell upon Mr. Belmont. The committee reported its choice tonight and Mr. Belmont was elected. The other officers chosen were:

First vice president, Samuel Gompers; second vice president, Oscar S. Strauss; chairman of the ways and means committee, Henry Phipps; treasurer, Charles A. Moore; chairman welfare department, H. H. Vreeland; chairman trade agreement committee, Francis L. Robbins and John Mitchell; chairman executive council, Ralph M. Easley; secretary, Samuel B. Donnelly.

The dinner was attended by 270 members of the federation. Samuel Gompers acted as toastmaster. He said labor had found out through the federation that employers are not the "modern monsters" which they used to picture in the past. He said he welcomed, advisedly for labor, which he represented, the organizations of employers.

Carnegie as Conciliator
When Mr. Gompers announced that Andrew Carnegie's indisposition kept him away and wished for a speedy recovery and improved health for the iron master, there was much applause.

He then introduced Ralph M. Easley, who read Mr. Carnegie's address, in part as follows:

"Peace reigns in all quarters of the industrial world. There are seven millions engaged in manufacturing, mining and industrial occupations. I am persuaded that quarrels arise quite as often from the employer's ignorance of the fine qualities of his employees as from ignorance of the workmen of the good qualities of their employers. I think the great corporation engaged in a dispute with its men makes a mistake if it adopts the policy of running the works with new men. Just in proportion as the workman is earnest and efficient, just so is his pride in his work. To compel him to stand aside to see an outsider, sure to be his inferior, take his place, is to subject him to a trial he should be spared. That the support of his wife and children depends upon his labor of which he is deprived by another is the most excruciating thought of all. This is a trial to which no workman should be subjected.

"Even when the employer succeeds in running the works with new men, his victory is really a defeat. He will ultimately lose more by the change than he would have lost had he patiently awaited a settlement with his old men. If, in case of a strike, the employer promptly informs his men that they need have no apprehension about their jobs, that he would not have any but his own men and knew he could get his men if he would wait for them until the unfortunate affair was settled, all would be well. What the Civic Federation should aim at is that strikes and lockouts should be prevented, and for them I can see no cure so effective as a trade agreement providing for arbitration, after every effort has been exhausted to settle the difficulties by the employer and his men."

Archbishop Ireland Speaks
Archbishop Ireland was then introduced. He said in part:

"I have supreme faith in America

SCANDAL COMES OUT

Why French Deputy Syveton Committed Suicide

PARIS, Dec. 15.—The circumstances attending the death of Deputy Gabriel Syveton, who was found dead from asphyxiation in his apartments at Neuilly Dec. 8, are developing into a domestic drama of startling magnitude. Many sensational features have come to light.

It is established that the wife of M. Syveton was about to apply for a divorce on the ground of improper relations between M. Syveton and Mme. Menard, a daughter of Mme. Syveton by a former husband. Both M. Menard and Mme. Syveton had accused the deputy of these relations and a family council took place shortly before M. Syveton's death, at which violent scenes were enacted. M. Menard declaring that it was the duty of the deputy to put a bullet through his head, and Mme. Syveton announcing her purpose to sue for a divorce. This was the eve of M. Syveton's trial for assaulting War Minister Andre in the chamber of deputies Nov. 4.

The deputy foresaw the public disclosure of his relations with his wife's daughter and thereupon committed suicide for the purpose of averting the disclosure. The foregoing is interwoven with many scandalous details which the police and house are following with absorbing interest. The case has taken on a political aspect, the Nationalists associated with M. Syveton asserting that there were threats of disclosures which amounted to a conspiracy on the part of the government's supporters to compel the deputy to take his own life. This charge does not appear to be supported, as the tragedy was clearly the result of a scandalous domestic drama.

It has developed that M. Syveton had been receiving a salary of $5,000 as secretary for Count Boni de Castellane.

MILLIONAIRE MAY HAVE TO GO TO JAIL

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—George F. Harding, Chicago millionaire and club man, has lost his contest over the payment of $300 a month alimony to his wife, Mrs. Adelaide M. Harding, and in an opinion given today Judge Gibbons held Harding not only responsible for future payments, but in contempt of court for arrearages to the amount of $33,301. This amount Harding must pay within ten days or he will be lodged in jail, according to the decree.

LAWSON WAITING FOR TROUBLE TO START

GREENE TAKES TRIP TO LAWSON'S CITY

Fur May Fly Today and Lawson
Gives Another Dynamic
Talk

Special to The Globe
BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 15.—Col. William C. Greene, president of the Greene Consolidated Copper company, who

The Author of Frenzied Finance as His Admirers Picture Him

said Thomas W. Lawson's bear raid in the stock market has cost him millions, who publicly notified Lawson that he would call on him at his office and denounce him as a liar and fakir, and who has been loudly invited by Lawson to "come on," arrived in this city at 9 o'clock tonight. He was driven to a hotel. About an hour later he was settled. Greene's arrival leads to expectations of lively doings here tomorrow, though, seriously, nobody expects "gun play."

It would be hard to imagine a more perfect picture of concentrated human force than Lawson today when he read the announcement that Rockefeller, Rogers and their Standard Oil associates were considering criminal proceedings against him as means of ending his revelations of secrets of "Frenzied Finance." He said:

"Indict me for publishing false statements to effect stocks? Was there ever a jokier joke? In all my writings I have said that these men, whatever else they were, were brainy, but I am almost tempted to take it back. They are advertising to the world that they are going to have me indicted, and the world stops for a minute and wonders if they are, and also if it is possible that they have taken me by surprise. "Let me tell you. I'm the wet nurse of this law quote. If they had been attending to their business properly they would have known that I know it from A to Z. In fact, I was the first man indicted under it. Oh, if this story were only true. If Rockefeller, Rogers and the rest of them were only just try to apply this law to this case! Well, I'd pay not only all the expenses of the shindy, but I'd agree to bow my head in ashes and emigrate

DR. KOCH CARRIED HAND IN A SLING

Witness Will Say Alleged Murderer
Asked Him to Bandage
Member on Night of Murder

Special to The Globe
NEW ULM, Minn., Dec. 15.—The grand jury today noon took an adjournment until tomorrow noon in the consideration of the Gebhard murder case on account of expert testimony from outside the city, which is expected here tomorrow. The chemist of the state university who made an analysis of the bottle of poison which was sent to Dr. Gebhard several days prior to the murder will be here tomorrow, and the handwriting on the bottle will also be identified as that of Dr. Koch by several witnesses who have letters in their possession written to them by Dr. Koch shortly before the bottle was sent to Gebhard. Detective Riddell was called before the grand jury today and gave some of the evidence which he has collected since Nov. 2.

The attorneys of Dr. Koch are beginning to realize that in A. P. Brooks they will have a witness who undoubtedly will hurt their case, as he has been giving out too many conflicting statements as to who the murderer

REPUBLICANS SET OUT TO DOWN DEPEW

In a Conference a Majority of Odell's Lieutenants Pronounce
Against Senator

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Gov. Odell and many of his lieutenants held a long conference today at the Republican club to discuss the senatorship and other matters of importance to the Republican organization. Both Senator Depew and ex-Gov. Black, the two candidates for the senatorship, were represented. Senator Depew tonight said his candidacy for the senatorship was in the hands of his friends and he would not withdraw from the canvass because of any action the conference might have taken. No statement was secured from ex-Gov. Black.

Twenty-six leaders were in the conference, according to the Herald. They were asked by the governor to say whether they desired the re-election of Senator Depew or the election of Mr. Black. Seventeen of them declared for Black, seven for Depew, and two of them, Gov. Odell and Speaker Nixon, indicated no preference.

One of the dramatic scenes of the conference was caused by Cornelius N. Bliss, who is a warm supporter of Senator Depew. Mr. Bliss told the governor and his friends that if they decided to elect Mr. Black in place of Senator Depew it would be regarded as a breach of faith. At the close of the discussion, Gov. Odell said the sentiment as represented by the leaders seemed to be overwhelmingly for Mr.

BUDGET IS PASSED WITHOUT THE CUTS COUNCIL RESTORES FUNDS PRUNED AT CAUCUS

Members Repudiate Their Action of
Sunday and Increase Conference
Committee's Total of $2,926,208 by
Including $27,000 for the Armory—
Objections to Attempt to Prune
Figures Are Heard in Executive Session—Assemblymen Keller and
O'Brien Cast Negative Votes

THE BUDGET AS ADOPTED

The budget as adopted, as recommended by the conference committee, and as recommended by the caucus of the city council, is here shown:

	Council Budget.	Conference Recommendation.	Recaucused.
Interest fund	$428,675	$428,675	$428,675
Sinking fund	48,000	48,000	48,000
Fire department	245,000	245,000	245,000
Police department	214,000	214,000	214,000
Lighting fund	190,000	190,000	185,000
Water supply fund	3,000	3,000	3,000
Board of control	39,983	39,983	39,983
School fund	775,000	775,000	775,000
City hall	22,250	22,250	22,250
Workhouse	25,000	25,000	22,100
City Engineer	30,000	30,000	30,000
Board of public works	12,000	12,000	12,000
Salary fund	48,500	48,500	48,500
Street and sewer	200,000	200,000	187,500
Bridge fund	75,000	75,000	75,000
Judgment fund	21,100	21,100	21,100
Printing fund	35,000	35,000	35,000
Municipal court	15,500	15,500	15,500
Library fund	55,000	55,000	45,000
Park fund	90,000	90,000	90,000
General fund	306,200	278,200	207,700
Health fund	12,000	12,000	12,000
Sprinkling fund	49,000	49,000	49,000
Garbage fund	25,000	25,000	22,500
Totals	$2,953,208	$2,926,208	$2,842,808

At meetings of both bodies of the city council last evening every item cut from the budget at the Sunday caucus was restored to the figures reported by the conference committee, and the $27,000 allowed for the completion of the armory retained.

This makes the budget complete at $2,953,208, increased from $2,926,208 as recommended by the conference committee.

The increase is represented entirely by the amount for the benefit of the armory, all other items having been restored as they were previous to the Sunday caucus, at which $110,400 was cut from the budget and the $27,000 for the armory added.

On the final vote on the adoption of the budget Assemblymen Keller and O'Brien cast the negative votes, both explaining that while they favored the allowance for the armory there were other items to which they objected. They did not specify. With Assemblymen Powers absent, this left the vote in the assembly 6 to 2, and with the absent members counting in the negative, gave barely enough votes to enable the presiding officer to declare the ordinance carried. There was not a negative vote among the aldermen.

List of Funds Restored
The department funds cut Sunday and restored last evening were: Lighting, $5,000; workhouse, $2,900; streets and sewers, $12,500; library, $10,000, and garbage, $10,000.

The items cut from the general fund by the caucus and restored were: Street intersections, $10,000; main sewers, $25,000; to pay local assessments on exempt property, $10,000; playgrounds, $7,500, and Capitol park, $25,000.

This represents the entire $110,000 reduction from the report of the conference committee as noted, with all additions taken from the general fund restored, and in addition the $27,000 for the armory taken from the same source.

Consideration of the items was in executive session. The members of the council went to one of the committee rooms and admitted those objecting to the budget proposed by the caucus one at a time.

E. A. Young appeared for the library

SOMNAMBULISM COMES FROM TOO MUCH PIE

Special to The Globe
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 15.—Ed. Bagger, a well known resident of Terry, overloADED his stomach with pumpkin pie and fruit cake, and as a result developed somnambulist tendencies which nearly caused his death.

He arose in his sleep and left his room in a Terry hotel. He made the wrong turn in the hallway, and, instead of going down stairs, opened a door at the front of the hallway and stepped off into thin air.

He was awakened by coming violently in contact with the cold, hard street. His back was badly injured and he received such a general shaking up that he will not be able to wander in his sleep for some time to come.

TRAFFIC SUSPENDED

Freight Wreck Hangs Up Passenger Trains

Special to The Globe

WINONA, Minn., Dec. 15.—Traffic on the river division of the Milwaukee road has been suspended east and west of Winona since 6 o'clock tonight. An east-bound freight train left the track one mile west of the city, and although none of the trainmen was injured, several cars were demolished. Train No. 5, west-bound, will not leave here until early in the morning. The fast mail and Pioneer Limited trains, which left the Twin Cities early this evening, will not get away from Winona until early tomorrow morning.

OFFICER SAVES MEN

Three Lives Lost by Battleship
Accident

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 15.—Caught in a trap and helpless to save themselves, three men lost their lives and four others, including Lieut. William C. Cole, assistant chief engineer, were terribly scalded today by a rush of steam and boiling water in the fire room of the battleship Massachusetts, lying at the League island navy yard. With the exception of Lieut. Cole, all the killed and injured were residents of Philadelphia. Lieut. Cole received his injuries in an heroic effort to rescue the others.

The accident was caused by the giving way of a gasket or rubber washer on a boiler on the starboard side of the ship. The Massachusetts has been undergoing repairs. The boiler at which the accident occurred had recently been cleaned and thoroughly tested. Without warning the gasket between the boiler plate and the boiler head gave way and a terrific rush of steam and hot water escaped. The doors of the fire room were closed, and the only avenue of escape was a safety ladder. Only one man, Bramlet, assistant fireman, thought of the ladder, and he escaped. The work of rescue was prompt and to this promptness those who escaped owe their thanks.

The first to enter the firehole was Lieut. Cole. Without hesitating at becoming scalded he entered quickly and dragged the men from the place to the door, where they were taken in charge by others.

Whether the gasket was defective or whether it had been carelessly put in place remains for the official court of inquiry to determine.
