COUNTRY MEMBERS WATCH RAISEY

Representatives Insist That Much Depends on Attitude of Local Delegation

In the senatorial fight the members of the Ramsey county delegation are carefully avoiding the hotels, and their example is being followed by the country members.

But few of the members-elect of the legislature were about the hotels yesterday, and those who were on hand had but little to say, almost without exception the country members were of the opinion that they should await developments in the fight before committing themselves to any particular candidate.

Think Meeting Dangerous Most of the talk as to the Ramsey county members centered about the proposal of the Clapp supporters in the First ward that a mass meeting should be held in Representative Hammergren's district to protest against the Ramsey county nomination.

Hinton Refuses to Talk Mr. Hinton has been classed as a Clapp man by the supporters of the junior senator, but he declined to make the assertion that he will vote in the way expected when the time comes.

Probation Officer Wants Juvenile Offenders Held From Prison Cells "The fact that very few of the citizens of St. Paul know anything about the juvenile court system was brought forcibly to my mind by Judge Hurley's recent talk at the Commercial club," said Probation Officer Graves.

Probation Officer Wants Juvenile Offenders Held From Prison Cells (Continued) "That crime against juveniles is increasing in all large cities is an established fact and as yet no effective remedy has been found, although some of the best citizens in the land have given the matter their best thought of their attention. In this state, legislation has been enacted which to a certain extent meets the exigencies of prevailing conditions and in some respects is far ahead of the juvenile laws of other states, notably the amendment providing for a juvenile session of the court if the delinquent is under sixteen years, and the exclusion from the trial of all persons not connected with the court."

PATROLMAN SHOOTS ESCAPED THUG

Thomas McDonough, Aided by Brothers, Resists Arrest and Stops Bullet During a fight with three men at Third and Commercial streets early yesterday morning, Patrolman F. Hofer fired a shot which struck the neck of the man in the left arm. McDonough is now at the city hospital, but his condition is not serious.

Hofer placed John McDonough under arrest on a charge of breaking a window in Henry Connors' saloon, Third and Commercial streets. John McDonough went to the saloon at an early hour with a pal to purchase beer, and finding the door locked attempted to force an entrance.

Using his pal as a weapon he dashed through a window, and the sound of falling glass attracted Patrolman Hofer. Hofer pursued McDonough a short distance and caught him. McDonough resisted desperately and called for help, his two brothers, Bartley and Thomas, coming to his assistance. The three men turned on the patrolman, and overpowered him, he was compelled to release his prisoner. "The policeman was thrown to the ground and the men ran away."

Hofer drew his revolver as he regained his feet and pursued the men. He fired one shot which struck Thomas McDonough in the right arm, and the wounded man, but John made his escape.

The officer whistled for help and with the assistance of another policeman sent the two brothers to the Margaret street station. The wounded man was later removed to the city hospital. He will be operated on today, as the bullet could not be located yesterday when the wound was probed.

INSPECTORS WILL ATTEMPT DIVISION OF $100,000 FOR NEW GRADE BUILDINGS

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of school inspectors Wednesday evening of next week there will be considered a division of $100,000 that is to be spent for new grade school buildings in 1905.

It will not be an easy matter for the members of the board to decide where to spend the money particularly when the demands far exceed the sum available. If four-room additions or four-room buildings could be erected at the same proportionate cost as eight-room buildings it would be so hard to decide, but the large per cent reduction in the cost when eight rooms are built makes it more difficult to agree.

Demands Before the Board The demands that are now before the board and under consideration for the coming year are:

The first ward wants an eight-room addition or building, $35,000. The ward has been given sixteen rooms during the past two years, but there remain a number of children in annexes and on half-day sessions. A permanent demand for another eight rooms in this section of the city has been urged upon the board. The location of the additional classrooms can be placed in any part of the Arlington hills district and serve the purpose.

The sixth ward is badly in need of a new school building. It asks for eight rooms to displace the Lafayette school, which is crowded and poorly ventilated. The Lafayette is badly crowded and cellar must be granted. The people of the Sixth ward urge that they should be given a new school building, removed from the flat district. There are two unoccupied classrooms in addition to the Douglas school, completed a few weeks ago, but it is too far removed from the congested district to give relief.

The seventh ward the people have made a strong case, and have virtually been promised a new grade school building. There is a large district in the Crocus hill territory that is not properly served with schools. Children are compelled to walk long distances. It is urged that the rapid development of this section of the city necessitates the erection of an eight-room building.

Ninth Needs New Rooms In the central section of the Ninth ward there is a congestion of pupils that has crowded the building now in use and caused a strong demand for a new building or an addition. Four rooms would satisfy the demand for a new building to construct this number of rooms would mean an expenditure of $20,000, as compared with $35,000 for eight rooms.

The Hancock school, fourth ward, is so badly crowded that it is urged that there are enough pupils in annexes and on half-day sessions to justify the construction of a new building. This is conceded the most deserving section of the city at this time, and although demanding but four rooms will likely be granted eight rooms. A separate building is favored.

Continuing the Ninth and Tenth wards as demanding but four rooms each at an aggregate cost of $40,000, and conceding the claims of the other sections of the city asking for improvements, it will be seen that the total asked for is $145,000. Plainly this cannot be met from the $100,000 at the disposal of the board, and one or more of the districts must be disappointed.

CHRISTMAS DAY IN HOSPITALS OF CITY

Children and Grown Patients Are All Well Cared For Christmas cheer which abounded in St. Paul yesterday, was by no means confined to the many happy homes of the city. Probably nowhere did the spirit of the day appear in more pronounced contrast to the surroundings of those who enjoyed it than in the hospitals. In nearly every hospital of the city some note was taken of the day and the occasion was celebrated with appropriate exercises.

At the city hospital the children and grown patients had a happy day. With gifts, music and other entertaining features Dr. A. B. Ancker and his staff of physicians and nurses beguiled the time for the unfortunate who are under their care. The patients who were able to be out of bed were treated to a concert during the afternoon and gifts were distributed.

The little crippled children of the state hospital, conducted in connection with the city hospital, however, and the most glorious time, Santa Claus visited them and each toy received just what he or she wanted. No noise was spared in gratifying the wishes of the little sufferers.

All Wrote to Santa Two weeks ago each child wrote a letter to Santa Claus, telling him what he or she wanted. These letters were carefully considered and as in each case the request of the child could be gratified none was disappointed. Many received picture books, dolls, toys of every description, and one little boy was made happy by receiving a phonograph which he had asked for. He made the children's ward merry all day after he had been taught by a nurse how to manipulate the machine.

The persons who contributed to the fund with which the presents were purchased would have considered the money well disposed of if they could have seen the joy among the little ones in the city hospital. The happiness of the children was further increased by the judicious distribution of candy, and in the afternoon they listened for two hours to an orchestra which played for their especial benefit.

The children of St. Luke's hospital were treated to an entertainment Saturday night in their ward. Dr. G. E. Ribble, according to the nurses, caused the role of the genial saint and distributed presents among the little ones. A large Christmas tree reminded every one of the joys of home by illness, of the occasion. There was no lack of fun and music. The choir boys of the Church of St. John the Evangelist furnished Christmas carols.

The patients and nurses at Luther hospital were treated to an entertainment by the internes, and each patient received a gift from the hospital authorities. An entertainment given Saturday night Prof. H. G. Strub and Rev. Omdahl, of the Swedish church, furnished the musical features.

A similar celebration was held at Benson hospital. A Christmas tree was displayed and the nurses treated the patients to an entertainment. A quartette of young women from the First Swedish Lutheran church sang several Christmas songs and other young women presented instrumental music. The Swedish nurse and staff physicians to his honor where an old-fashioned Swedish supper was served.

LOVE COLD WEATHER COLD WAVE RAPIDLY APPROACHING CITY

Traveler Tells of Husky Folks of Winnipeg Weather Man Announces That Blizzard is Heading This Way

A cold wave of vigor and vitality is bearing down upon St. Paul from the Northwest, with every prospect that it will reach here this morning, and likely send the thermometers to or below zero. The drop in the temperature, it is predicted, will be accompanied by high northerly winds and snow, and if what is promised is realized St. Paul will today experience the coldest weather of the winter. There is very indication of this result, as the storm is apparently bearing in this direction with undiminished force.

In Western Canada, in North Dakota and other sections of the far Northwest the zero mark has been passed, accompanied by a high wind and snow that approaches the dignity of a blizzard. Continuing in its present course the cold wave seems destined to sweep through the upper Mississippi valley, bringing zero weather north and east of St. Paul. It should arrive before daylight this morning, the citizens thus being warned to prepare for much more severe weather than has ruled thus far. If the prediction of the weather department that a blizzard will blow should be realized it will be the first touch of real winter. Precipitation has likewise been lacking, and the predicted fall of snow will be particularly welcome.
