JOB FOR CITY CLERK

County Treasurer Through Selling Bicycle Tags

The assembly last evening passed an ordinance requiring that bicycle tags be sold by the city clerk, the price being fixed at 50 cents each. Assemblyman Keller introduced the measure and explained that the tax is collected in this manner in Minneapolis, and that the plan is found to work more satisfactorily than in St. Paul, where the tags have been handled by the county treasurer.

Generally the ordinance closely follows the state law on the subject, requiring that all work shall be done under the supervision of the Ramsey County Sidewalk association, all paths being not less than four feet and not more than eight feet wide. Any person convicted of riding on the paths without a tag is to be fined not more than $10, or sent to the workhouse for not more than ten days. The city clerk is to pay over all collections on the first of each month to the city treasurer, who is to create a sidewalk fund, from which will be drawn the money to pay for construction and repairs.

ASSEMBLY WILL AID IN BUILDING SEWERS

Stewart and Arbor Streets Will Receive Financial Assistance

Resolutions were passed by the assembly last evening providing $1,300 to assist in the construction of the Stewart avenue and Arbor street sewers, notwithstanding the protest of Dr. Schiffmann.

Stewart avenue property owners will receive aid in the sum of $500 and the Arbor street people get $800, providing so much is needed to bring the cost within the limit provided that prevents property being assessed for more than 25 per cent of its taxable assessed valuation for a local improvement. Dr. Schiffmann insisted that the notice of the board of public works that it is necessary to appropriate the sums mentioned to assist in the construction of the sewers was not sufficiently specific in that the exact amount needed was not specified. He thought all such applications should be closely investigated. He secured the support of Keller, but with seven votes in favor of the resolution the board of public works having amended them so that the property must be assessed the full 25 per cent before the money appropriated can be used.

ROBBER SPLITS MAN'S SKULL WITH HATCHET

Father of St. Paul City Official Murdered in Florida Town

George Baer, father of Frank Baer, chief clerk in the city treasurer's office, was murdered at his home in Fernandina, Fla., word of the crime reaching the son yesterday. The rear door of the store was open and the purse and money had been taken from the inside vest pocket of the dead man.

Mr. Baer had been in Fernandina for about twenty-five years. The murder had its incentive robbery, Mr. Baer having had about $200 on his person just previous to the commission of the crime. According to the last information received, the definite clue has been discovered by which it is hoped to find the murderers.

On the morning of Dec. 29 the body of the murdered man was found under the counter of his place of business, the skull being cut through by some sharp instrument. It is believed that a hatchet was used. The rear door of the store was open and the purse and money had been taken from the inside vest pocket of the dead man.

DRUG CLERK BOWLERS SIT AT BANQUET BOARD

Winning Team of League Is Entertained by Losing Clubs

The winning team of the Drug Clerks' Bowling league, the Spirits, was banqueted last night at the Cafe Newman by the losers in the recent series. The losing teams, the Tinctures and Emulsions, were present. The prizes hung up for the contest were the same as last year. The team from the team prize E. A. Otto, who made the high score, 236, was given a special prize, and H. Bodgard, the high average man, was honored for his consistent work during the thirty games.

The league was reorganized after the dinner and substituted the names Pills, Capsules and Tablets. The players were switched about in an effort to make the teams even. A new series will be started Thursday and will continue for ten weeks.

Death of Jailer Cronin Compels Number of Transfers

Several transfers were made in the police department yesterday as a result of the death of Richard Cronin, night jailer of the Margaret street substation. Patrolman Matt Tschida has been detailed to succeed Cronin, and Patrolman Fitzgerald, formerly of the Central station, has been assigned to the Margaret street detail.

Following this address and others, there was a varied programme of musical and literary numbers by professional and amateur talent, an oyster supper and dancing until after midnight.

LECTURER PICTURES LIFE IN THE ORIENT

Francis Ramaley Speaks Before Gannett Union at Unitarian Church

"Life in Asia" was the subject of an interesting lecture delivered by Francis Ramaley at the Unitarian church, Summit and Wabasha, last night. Prof. Ramaley, who traveled extensively in the Orient and obtained hundreds of pictures of Eastern life, illustrated his lecture with stereopticon views. Japan and its people were first discussed and many scenes of Japanese home life were shown. Prof. Ramaley then took up Java and Ceylon, discussing the nature of the two countries, the character and habits of the inhabitants and the industrial features. A number of scenes picturing native life in Java and spice raising in Ceylon were shown and greatly appreciated. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Gannett union, an organization composed of the young people of the church.

ASSEMBLY WANTS TO HAVE TOTALS OF BILLS

Assemblyman Whitcomb Tires of Hearing Long List of Details

Assemblyman Whitcomb, at the meeting of the assembly last evening, secured the passage of a resolution calling upon all departments to present totals of their bills sent to the city council.

This action was brought out by the fact that City Clerk Redington had been engaged for several minutes in reading a vast array of small items coming from the board of education and representing purchases for the grade and high schools. Dr. Whitcomb was of the opinion that the school inspectors and other "boards" should send in the totals, particularly when the council merely acts in an advisory capacity.

The city clerk was instructed to notify the boards of the wishes of the council.

Judge Lewis Orders the Partition of Marston Family's Property

The partition of land worth $6,500 into eight equal parts for the benefit of eight parties, who have heretofore owned the tract in common was ordered yesterday by Judge Lewis, of the district court, as the result of proceedings brought by Mary Marston against Oliver E. Marston and others to secure such division.

The beneficiaries, each of whom will secure $812, are Mary, Olive E., Frank G., William E. and Henry T. Marston, Eva L. M., and Winifred Alexander and Ella J. Ford.

As referees to appraise and divide the land the court names P. J. Farrell, Anton Skiba and William Devine.

Red Men Install Officers

Oscelota Tribe No. 47, Improved Order of Red Men of South-St. Paul, held their annual installation of officers at the city hall last night. The following officers were elected: Sachem, I. D. Hoover; prophet, M. Broadfoot; senior sagamore, C. E. Weber; junior sagamore, George Kellerman; keeper of records, J. G. Kennedy; wampum, wampum, Andy Kennedy; guard of wigwam, H. C. King; guard of forest, H. D. Kennedy. The judge turned out an full force and the applications of several candidates were considered. A number of visitors from the Gopher tribe, West St. Paul, were on hand.

Schafer Escapes Jury Duty

A good excuse was given yesterday by Harn Schafer, after he had been brought into the district court on a bench warrant for failing to appear as a member of the petit jury. He said he could not speak or read the English language. Feeling, no doubt, that this deficiency would prevent the juror from enjoying the eloquence of attorney Judge Orr discharged Mr. Schafer.

Railroad Settles Case

The case of Bridget McDonough against the Chicago and North Western Railway company has been settled and dismissed by agreement of attorneys. The plaintiff sued to recover $5,000 for personal injuries received. The terms of the agreement were not made known.

FEINBERG IS EASIER TO KILL THAN CAPTURE

Policeman Is Slain and Others Wounded as Result of Attempted Arrest

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—One officer was killed, an ex-convict mortally wounded and others wounded less seriously today during an attempt by the police to capture Harry Feinberg, a brother of former fugitive "Kid" Farmer, now in the penitentiary. Harry Feinberg was wanted in connection with the shooting of a policeman and for recent robberies. Policemen James Keefe and Richard Birmingham encountered Feinberg today at Twenty-fifth place and Wallace street.

Without warning Feinberg fired twice. The police promptly returned the fire. Birmingham was struck and slightly wounded. Feinberg ran, entering a saloon, the policeman closely following. In the house three more shots were fired by Feinberg, one lodging in Keefe's abdomen. Keefe died almost instantly. Saloonkeeper Frank Gagan was wounded. Feinberg escaped from the house but was captured later. He was taken dying to a hospital and the wounded saloonkeeper was put under arrest. Both Feinberg and Gagan were convicts together at Joliet penitentiary.

Alumni Propose to Raise Endowment Fund of Many Millions

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 5.—Plans are being worked out among the alumni of Harvard for the raising of a permanent endowment fund for the university, of at least $3,000,000, while some of those interested hope it may reach $10,000,000.

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS THE BEEF TRUST

So Declares T. F. Swift Before His Stockholders

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—This annual meeting of the stockholders of Swift & Co. was held here today. In an address to the stockholders President T. F. Swift said:

"It is needless for me to say to those present that the reports in circulation about the 'beef trust' are without foundation. There is no conspiracy or combination to control prices of live stock, the sales of meat, or packing house products. On the other hand, the packing industry is subjected to the severest kind of competition, both in buying and selling, and the percentage of profit on sales in the packing house industry is less than in other lines of business."

STATE ASSAILS THE ALIBI OF DR. KOCH

and Somsen at Burg's cigar store. Brooks went on down Minnesota street toward his office and Somsen went west on First street north toward Broadway.

Young Woman's Story

The first woman witness was Cecilia Martinka, who took a stroll with Joseph Polta on the evening of the murder. She said she came to New Ulm that afternoon with her brother and Miss Roesch. In the evening Miss Roesch and the witness came up town and met Joseph Polta and then they went for a walk. In returning she heard sounds in front of the Brown County bank. The young woman was requested to imitate the sounds and attempted to show the court the nature of the cries. These cries were very loud afterwards. She went up stairs where her sister lives, near Burg's cigar store, and after she was in the room some time the church clock struck twice, indicating 9:30.

Somerville asked the witness how she knew the time by the church clock and it was ascertained she could not follow the striking of the timepiece. She was asked concerning whom she saw going up stairs and stated some one came from the printing office and went up, but soon came down again and was accompanied back up stairs by another man. Miss Martinka stated that she saw the man when at the Brown County bank. "There they go," she said. "At this time there was a man drinking at the fountain situated near the Brown County bank and looking up at the window."

In conversation during the recess Joseph Polta said that the statement of Miss Martinka that she heard the church clock strike twice was a mistake, and that it was three times instead of twice, making the time 9:45.

Miss Roesch Corroborates

Miss Roesch was placed on the stand by the state after the recess and told of her stroll the evening of the murder, her testimony being similar to that of her two companions. The man who was drinking at the fountain in front of the bank the witness identified as Frank Behnke. They crossed over to Hansen's grocery store and walked up the street to a place in front of Stimmitt's barber shop, and the witness testified she observed a man go up the stairs and come down again soon. Then two persons went up to the offices afterward and the trio waited a minute before going to the Bart home, where the young women were left by Polta, and departed for their home in Nicollet county shortly afterward.

Alfred Keller, a mere lad, was the next witness. He was questioned concerning his transactions the evening of the murder and said Herman Lindmeyer, a cigarmaker friend, came into the drug store where witness was employed shortly after 9 o'clock and returned. He said he saw Lindmeyer locked the store and the two started up Minnesota street homeward bound and stopped in front of the express office at the same time. Lindmeyer remained several minutes, and returned to the Masonic block.

Here Keller went up stairs to the toilet rooms and Lindmeyer remained at the bottom of the stairs. Keller remained up stairs four or five minutes before returning to the street. He met Fred Vogel, who asked him to open the drug store so he could make a purchase. He did so.

Heard a Loud Scream

While he was coming down the stairs he stated he heard a loud scream coming from the direction of Dr. Gebhard's office, and that Vogel said, "There is something wrong up there." They entered the drug store and Vogel made his purchase and they returned to the street. Keller stated he and Lindmeyer both looked out into the roadway and Lindmeyer pointed to the window leading to Dr. Gebhard's offices. He saw Brooks go up stairs alone and return in about three minutes and have Lindmeyer and Vogel and Brooks go up again. The witness stated that it was about 9:38 when he saw Brooks go up the first time.

The witness stated that they remained in the street about fifteen minutes and finally went up stairs. He fixed the time of closing the store the first time by the time the busses passed to the railroad station.

Herman Lindmeyer was the next witness, and in many instances his testimony did not coincide with Keller's. He stated it was about twenty minutes past 9 o'clock when he went into Pfefferle's drug store, and after Keller closed the store they went out on the street and passed up the street to the express office at the same time.

When Keller was about half way up Brooks passed Lindmeyer carrying the evening mail and unlocked the door and passed into the Review office. Following him came Alfred Vogel, who came in and stood in the doorway and asked Lindmeyer if the drug store was locked, receiving the answer that Keller was up stairs. Lindmeyer went up called Keller, who came down and went into the drug store with Vogel. The cries began at this point and continued until Brooks came out of the Review office and went up stairs. He came down and went up stairs and returned with Cavanaugh and went up again. Keller and Vogel then came out of the drug store and Keller told Lindmeyer to stand near the door while he went out in the street to see what was the matter. He returned in several minutes and locked the store the second time and the two went up stairs.

This testimony regarding the action of Brooks does not agree in any particular with that of Keller. The noise he heard coming from the office he described as being low groans.

Barber Remembers the Time

Joseph Kohler, a barber, testified at the morning session that he met Dr. Koch on Minnesota street, between Center and First streets, on the east side of the street, at about 9:05.

George Schmidt, bookkeeper for Cuddy & Cavanaugh, testified: "I saw Dr. Koch at Minnesota and Center streets, near the Cuddy & Cavanaugh bank. He was going south. This was some time after 7 o'clock. I saw him again at a little after 9 o'clock on Minnesota street, in front of Hansen's grocery store. He was going north and was carrying a package in one hand. It was about 9:05 p. m. when I saw him the second time. I noticed he had something in his hand, but I didn't tell what it was. It was done up in paper."

Anton Stimmitt, a barber, who has shop directly under Dr. Gebhard's office and next to the Review office, said: "I was in my shop on Nov. 1 at 9:25. Eugene Pfefferle was there also. Koch came into the shop at 9:20. He stood three or four minutes and then went out."

Told by a Druggist Eugene Pfefferle, a druggist, was the next witness. He said that he left his shop at 9:10 and went into Stimmitt's barber shop. He was sitting in the chair when Koch came in at 9:20 and asked for Arnold Stamm. Koch stood near the door three or four minutes, and then went out.

Alfred Heinz, porter in Stimmitt's barber shop, was called.

"I left the shop the night of the murder at 9:05," he testified, "and went to Pfefferle's drug store, next door to the shop, and stood on the sidewalk in front of the store. While I was there Dr. Koch passed. It was then about 9:08. He was walking north and when he got to Fessenmaler's hardware store, four doors north, he turned and came back and asked if Tom Kretsch was away. He then asked me if Stimmitt was in the barber shop and I told him that Stimmitt and Pfefferle were in the shop. He went into the shop and I did not see him come out. I went into the drug store, turned the lights, and says he went into the shop at 9:20.

Difference of Ten Minutes

The boy's testimony was the first introduced by the state that impeaches Koch's alibi, but it does not exactly tally, because young Heinz said that Koch entered the barber shop at 9:10, while Stimmitt and Pfefferle say that it was 9:20. Koch admits that he walked north on Minnesota street at 9:05, on his way back to his office to turn on the lights, and says he went into the shop at 9:20.

Captured Garrison Marshaled

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Special dispatches from Tokyo say that the Port Arthur garrison was marshaled at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at Yatsuli, in accordance with the terms of the supplementary agreement.

The Standard's Port Arthur correspondent reports that the town appears to have been little damaged by the bombardment. There are no fires, he says, are moving about filled with people, who are apparently anything but starving.

The ruins on the hills look as if shaken by mighty convulsions, and in many places the faces of the works have disappeared.

Keeps Foreign Ships Out

CHIFU, Jan. 5.—Japanese consul Mizoune tonight informed Russian consuls that the first portion of the 1,000 resident non-combatants at Port Arthur who are to come to Chifu will arrive there by the end of the month. The refusal of the Japanese to allow either the British ship Andromeda or a ship offered by Paul Lessar, Russian minister at Peking, to visit Port Arthur, is in pursuance of a strict policy not to allow any foreign ship to approach the harbor. Both of these ships were to carry supplies for the garrison.

STARVING WOMAN HAD PLENTY OF MONEY

Several Hundred Dollars on Her Person and More in Home

NYACK, N. Y., Jan. 5.—In a starving condition, and half frozen for want of fire, in her house, Mrs. Louisa Gastro, an aged widow, was taken from her home at Spring Valley to the Rockford county jail.

Upon forcing the woman to change her wretched clothing for more comfortable and clean garments, the authorities found that the woman, who had been a subject of charity for a long time, had several hundred dollars tied up in rags upon her person.

Her home was afterward visited by the health board, who found, besides an accumulation of offensive rubbish and filth, two pocketbooks filled with bank notes and coins of different denominations stuck around in various nooks and crevices in the building, and a careful search to be made later is expected to reveal more valuables.

When the woman was visited at her home she was found lying in a heap of rags, half famished, and shivering from the cold.
