

CITY NEWS CITY IS WAITING FOR NEXT MOVE

Appeal Will Be Made When the Decision Is Filed

For the reason that there was no opportunity for developments in the street railway gross earnings tax proposition yesterday, there were no new developments. In city circles the action of the committee Thursday night in deciding to report back to the common council that they could make no progress towards a compromise was decided to permanently settle the compromise question.

The only thing the city hall is preparing to watch now is the appeal of the case to the United States supreme court. Preparations for the appeal of the case will begin as soon as Judge Lochren enters his decision made in favor of the street railway company. This decision will be made as soon as the attorneys for the street railway company present the written form to the judge for signature, or, in case the street railway attorneys are slow in this action, upon a motion from the corporation attorney.

BOURNE DECISIONS UPHOLD BY COURT

Justice Lovely Writes Decision Holding Bondsmen Liable

The supreme court has affirmed the decision of the Ramsey county district court, in holding former county officials and their bondsmen liable for losses incurred through the forgeries of Walter B. Bourne, former deputy auditor of Ramsey county.

The result will be to convert $23,351.85 into the county treasury, due from former county officers. On the discovery of Bourne's forgeries of redemption and refundment warrants suits were instituted by the county commissioners against F. E. Elmund, former county treasurer, and Dennis M. Sullivan, former county auditor, and against O. H. Arosin, former county treasurer, and W. R. Johnson, former county auditor. Both sets of officials served during Bourne's tenure as deputy county auditor.

The Ramsey county district court found for the county for $17,200, and the decision is sustained by the supreme court. The interest accrued since the forgeries were committed brings the total amount due the county to more than $23,000. Bourne's peculations amounted to $5,618.20 during the term of office of Elmund and Sullivan. The original judgment obtained against Elmund was subsequently sealed down by a writ of habeas corpus issued by the court. The Ramsey county district court found for the county for $17,200, and the decision is sustained by the supreme court.

The court at the original trial and judgment against each for the full amount of the claim. Later the judgment against Arosin was reduced to $9,429.14, and both judgments are sustained by the supreme court. J. W. Lusk, Maurice Auerbach, M. P. Ryan, J. Haug, Robert A. Smith, Joseph Loney, E. Y. Hanson and Theodore Hamm are sureties on the Elmund bond. F. B. Kellogg, C. A. Severance and D. M. Robbins are the sureties on the Sullivan bond. Not Medicine.

Liquozone is not made, like medicine, by compounding acids and drugs; nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in laboratory from the best oxygen producers. The process of making takes 14 days, and requires immense apparatus. At the end of two weeks we get one cubic inch of Liquozone for each 1,250 cubic inches of gas used. The amount of this product has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

LEGISLATURE WILL MAKE IT EASY FOR THE COPPERS

Representative Lemon Aims a Bill at Massage Parlors and Clairvoyants

The mosaic law is as nothing compared to the provisions of a bill introduced in the house yesterday by Representative Walter T. Lemon, of the Second ward, St. Paul. Mr. Lemon's measure enumerates persons, occupations and places which may be declared disorderly, and, if it should, by any chance, be enacted into law, the St. Paul policeman will gradually efface himself. With the Lemon law under his arm, the policeman will only have to walk his beat once a week and the lawbreaker will take himself hence.

The clairvoyant, the fortune teller and the astrologer, who tell your future while you wait, will go out of business and the depths of the future will be as an unknown book to St. Paul people and the rural persons who come to town to look around. The public happiness will suffer, for the Lemon bill forbids the sale of medicines and compounds designed to bring back the recreant lover, the errant knight—who has perhaps come as far as Minneapolis—and the dead to life. The venerable lock game, the plate game, the brace bank, all these and a host of other amusements will be out of commission, for the Lemon bill will drive every thrifty operator to cover. Even the bath is placed within the limits of the Lemon bill, for it puts the ban on the massage, and the cold porcelain tub alone is in favor with the bill.

The general reputation* and character of persons and places are to be proved of guilt at the trial of offenders. The Lemon bill's appearance in the house yesterday caused some discussion in the Ramsey county delegation. One of the safest astrologers in the city sent word to the delegation that her horoscope showed the bill doomed to defeat. The insurance rates are to be the subject of the next legislative inquiry by an inquisitive legislature. Representative A. K. Ware, of Northfield, yesterday introduced a resolution asking for the appointment by the speaker of a committee of five to investigate insurance rates in Minnesota. The resolution asks for authority to compel the attendance of witnesses and to administer oaths. Mr. Ware pressed his resolution for immediate passage, but it went over under notice of debate.

That Liquozone Does What Medicine Cannot Do. A 50c Bottle Free

There are at least three million homes in America which know from experience the value of Liquozone. Some of those homes use it simply to keep well, as we do. But tens of thousands have lives that were saved by it. Yet some remain sick with a germ disease while all of those millions know that Liquozone cures. Some still cling to drugs for what drugs never can do. They are wronging themselves. Their own friends—their own neighbors—can tell them the way to get well.

We ask those sick ones to write us. We will buy for each one the first bottle of Liquozone, and pay the druggist ourselves for it. Each is welcome to try it at our expense, then let the results decide about using it afterwards. Don't try to kill inside germs with drugs for you cannot. Don't cling blindly to old methods of treatment, used before germs were discovered. Let us prove what this new way means to you.

Liquozone is not made, like medicine, by compounding acids and drugs; nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in laboratory from the best oxygen producers. The process of making takes 14 days, and requires immense apparatus. At the end of two weeks we get one cubic inch of Liquozone for each 1,250 cubic inches of gas used. The Opponents of Carlson Bill Present Their Arguments

Opponents of the Carlson bill, provided for making session notes non-negotiable, had their innings yesterday before the house committee on general legislation, and strong arguments were brought out against the bill. Much of the discussion related to the original cost of imported Percheron horses in France.

Prof. Thomas Shaw, of St. Paul, made a vigorous speech in opposition to the bill. He declared that the farmer did not want the legislation that was asked for to protect him from the horse importer and breeder. He said the issue was between the breeder and importer of Percheron horses. He believed that the time had not yet come when the American bred horse was sufficient to supply the market for the breed. There are not enough, he said, of any good breed of horses in the state, and if the legislation proposed would have a tendency to keep out good horses he was opposed to it.

The principal arguments against the bill were made by Representative John Welch and T. D. McLaughlin, of St. Paul. Mr. Welch insisted that the high prices of horses was due to their cost in France and the expense attendant upon their sale to companies. Mr. McLaughlin was before the committee for over an hour.

He declared that the purpose of the bill was to drive his firm, which has invested $30,000 in barns in the Midway district, out of the state. He read a letter from an importer in Wisconsin, saying that he had been so handicapped by a similar law in that state that he was about to remove to St. Paul. He also produced a letter from the author of the Wisconsin law, saying that its evil effects about equalized its benefits.

It developed that McLaughlin, Bros. import about half the number of stallions brought to the United States from France each year.

H. P. Clarke, of St. Cloud, a breeder of livestock, also made a strong argument in favor of the bill. The committee will have another hearing before reporting the bill to the house. The committee is apparently about equally divided for and against the Carlson bill.

Committee Report Delayed

Owing to the illness of Capt. R. T. Lewis, chairman of the committee, no report of the house public buildings committee was made yesterday. The report of the committee, substituting the Putnam bill for the Horton bill, is expected to appear in the house this morning. There will be minority reports from Capt. Lewis and R. L. Mork.
