ARREST QUARRY MEN

City Engineer Takes Action Against Lang and Employes

A. H. Lang and six laboreas were arrested yesterday morning on complaint of the city engineer, charged with quarrying on Gorman street, between George and Robie. The men were accused of trespassing and the case was continued one week. Thirteen years ago John Fischer obtained permission from the city to take stone from Gorman street, but the privilege was later revoked by the council because the quarrymen were digging a road into the street. Recently the board of aldermen passed a resolution granting A. H. Lang the privilege of removing stone on condition that he would maintain the street. Lang immediately went to work without waiting for the assembly to act on the matter, but the assembly failed to pass the resolution. The arrest of Lang and his men followed. Over $100,000 worth of stone is said to have been taken from the quarry. The laborers arrested were: John Lang, Frank Zeitman, John Wegscheiger, John Grand and George Han.

ELEVEN TRIBLE BILLS

RELEIVED BY JURY

Gottschalk's Case Is Not Brought Up for Official Consideration

After reporting that indictments had been returned in eleven cases examined, and that no bill was returned in the case of Reuben Reed, the grand jury was adjourned by Judge William Louis Tuesday, April 1. The Schneldecker murder case, which was not touched by the jury. If Edward Gottschalk, the alleged murderer, is held to the grand jury after his preliminary examination next Tuesday his case will not be officially probed into by the jury until the April meeting.

After the jury had reported upon its work Foreman M. F. Kain announced that the investigations of the jury had not been entirely completed, and County Attorney R. Kane said, in a short address to the court, that all of the jail cases had been examined, with two exceptions, one, that of Edward Gottschalk, having not yet come to the jury after a preliminary hearing, and the other being one in which the principal witness for the prosecution is dead.

The indictments reported are as follows: Joseph Diamond, forgery, one count; grand larceny in the second degree, one count. Otto Westburger, forgery in the second degree, three counts. Hugo Brennan, unlawfully driving away a horse. Bernard Monsinger, grand larceny in the first degree. William F. Carter, grand larceny in the second degree. John Kubczak, burglary in the third degree. Christ Sutherland, grand larceny in the second degree. One other indictment was found for a minor offense, but was withheld from the jury because the indicted party could be placed under arrest.

The Monsinger indictment is based on allegations that Monsinger took $735 in cash belonging to his mother-in-law Feb. 5 and went to Stillwater, where he was arrested by Detective Sweeney.

Christ Sutherland is the confidence man who is alleged to have bamboozled a Hager (Wis.) man out of $80 to pay a fictitious freight bill. William E. Carter is the former dining car conductor on the Northern Pacific, charged with appropriating $296 of the company's funds for his private use.

Joseph Diamond is accused by his former roommate, Will Gilmore, of having stolen his bank book and then exhibiting it to secure the cashing of a check for $430 which he forged.

The prisoners will be arraigned before Judge Kelly Monday morning and given an opportunity to plead. After this formality the trial of the cases will be taken up as rapidly as the defendants can prepare themselves.

DE PACHMANN TO GIVE HIS RECITAL MONDAY

Virtuoso's Interpretation of Chopin Will Be Compared With Paderewski

The music lovers of St. Paul will have an opportunity to compare De Pachmann's interpretation of Chopin's music with Paderewski's, who delighted them at evening's ago. M. de Pachmann's recital will be given Monday, March 13, at the Y. M. C. A. hall.

People's church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. hall. De Pachmann was a violin "prodigy" in early childhood. His father, a doctor of philosophy and law at the University of Odessa, and a violinist of note, was his son's instructor, and the violinist by the time he was ten years old had become proficient enough to astonish the public with his mastery of the violin. He preferred the piano for his life work, and when he was eighteen he went to the Vienna conservatory, where in two years he was awarded the highest honor, that of laureate. Ever since then he has given up his life to study, practice and concert giving in all the European countries, and now that he pays his fourth visit to this country, in the height of his powers and the zenith of his fame, this season's tour is expected to be a long series of brilliant triumphs.

CAVALRY BARRACKS AT SNELLING ARE READY

Squadron of the Third May Be Ordered Here From Fort Assiniboine

The new cavalry barracks will be completed at Fort Snelling before the end of this month. The barracks, which are sufficient to accommodate four full troops or one squadron of cavalry, are situated in two groups. Each double barracks will be large enough for two troops recruited up to war strength.

While it is thought likely that a squadron of the Third cavalry will be ordered here from the officers at the post say that the report that the troops at Fort Assiniboine had been ordered here is premature at best.

Bishop Shanley to Speak

St. Paul friends of Bishop Shanley of Fargo will be given an opportunity to hear the former pastor of the cathedral parish. Bishop Shanley has been secured to deliver the address at St. Patrick's day entertainment at Mozart hall on the evening of March 17. During his many years' incumbency of the cathedral parish Father Shanley endeared himself to hundreds of St. Paul people of all denominations.

RESTORE LANDMARK STORM IS SHORT

Government Tears Plaster From Old Block House Small Blizzard Operates for a Few Moments

The old block house at Fort Snelling, which was repaired and made conventional and useful from the standpoint of the war department, will soon be back again in its original condition, or as it was prior to the time the alleged repairs were made on it. Work was started yesterday to pull off the cement and plaster that had been added last year and at nightfall about a quarter of the added material had been detached from the old landmark and once more it began to take on the aspect of a picturesque old ruin. The repairs that were made on the old building caused a storm of protest from the people of the Twin Cities and the claim was made at the time that the improvements were in the nature of desecration. It is thought that building can be put into its old condition as far as the exterior is concerned within a week.

PRINTER COMMITTED TO INSANE ASYLUM

Robert J. Ringwald Is Sent to Rochester in Hope of Recovery

Robert J. Ringwald, formerly one of the best known printers in St. Paul, was committed to the hospital for the insane at Rochester by a jury of physicians before Judge Bazille in probate court yesterday. About ten years ago Ringwald, who is now 44 years of age, was attacked with epilepsy and since that time he has been unable to work. Recently his affliction has been growing more acute and upon several occasions he has become violent. It is believed that an extended course of treatment may effect a permanent cure.

ILLINOIS SEEKS

Bank For Convicts

Legislative Committee Inspects the Twine Plant at Stillwater

The bindery twine plant at the Stillwater state prison will serve as a model for a similar plant to be installed in the two Illinois state prisons at Joliet and Woodstock. If the report of the commission about the Stillwater plant, who visited the Stillwater plant yesterday, is favorably acted upon. Senator C. P. Gardner, D. A. Campbell, E. F. Emberton, E. C. McKinstry, H. K. Galpin and Carl Mueller composed the committee. They visited the prison plant yesterday morning and were shown about by Warden Wolfers. The system was thoroughly explained to them, and statistics, which they will present on their return, were quoted showing the successful operation of the plant during the years it has been established.

No Work for Prisoners

The state of Illinois is in dire need of some industry at which its prisoners can be employed. A constitutional clause prohibits the hiring out of convict labor or competition on the part of the state with the private industry. The binding twine plant would circumvent this condition unheard of in other states where they wear away if anything as the regular price of twine in the market is in a bad way and unless prisoners are done are in danger of going insane. It is a pity that there is not something to do—men who, at least some of them, never did a stroke of honest work in their lives.

EMBALMER WORKS ON BOARD FLYING TRAIN

Remains of Man Who Died Traveling Cared for En Route

While the North Coast limited of the Northern Pacific road was flying over the rails, bound for St. Paul at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, the body of a man was being embalmed in the baggage car. Mr. Sullivan, accompanied by his wife and son, was on his way east when a few miles out of Cornell, Wash., he suddenly expired. A telegram was sent on to Spokane, where an undertaker reported the death of Mr. Sullivan, and while the flyer was covering the 150 miles the body had been embalmed and was ready for burial after completing his task the undertaker left the train and returned to Spokane.
