DIME FOR HOLD UP

Gun Worker Gets Lonely Ten Cent Piece for Riot

Somewhere in the city of St. Paul there is a disgraced holdup artist. Yesterday morning, shortly before 5 o'clock, a masked man entered the office of the St. Anthony Elevator company, in St. Anthony Park, and covering the night clerk, F. E. Russell, with a gun, ordered him to shell out. Russell dug through his jeans, but after an extended search could only produce a 10 cent piece.

Is that the extent of your pile?" questioned the burglar, disgustedly. "That's all," replied Russell with a grin.

"Ugh," groaned the man with the mask, "to think that the precious valuable time and risking getting pinched for a dime. Still it's better than nothing."

After ordering Russell to keep quiet the burglar left the office and disappeared. The police have been notified, but no arrest has been made.

EDITORS SEEK TO STOP PUBLICATION ABUSES

Present Bills to Limit Field to Legitimate Newspapers

The legislative committee of the Minnesota Editorial association met in conference with Frank Day, governor's private secretary, at the capitol yesterday and considered four bills which will be introduced to the legislature this week.

The bills of greatest importance are those relating to the publication of legal notices. One of the bills provides for a law prohibiting any publication in any other than a legitimate newspaper from receiving remuneration for the publication of legal notices.

Another bill asks that the printing of constitutional amendments be not restricted to one paper in the county, but that several papers be allowed to print the same in a more condensed form, and to receive a corresponding amount from the state for such printing.

The committee was composed of E. A. Parades, G. S. Pease, J. C. Applegate, C. S. Sherman and J. D. O'Brien.

TWO BASE BALLS CAUSE OF BIG SUIT

Ball Club Sued by Man Who Alleges Impairment of Mind

A ball batted over the right field fence of the downtown ball park one day last summer netted Lefty Davis of the Columbia team two bases and will net Cornelius Holland $20,000 or some part of that amount if he establishes all the allegations made in the complaint of a suit begun in the district court yesterday.

The sight of the sphere floating away over the right field fence was discouraging at the time, to Owner Lennon, but he little realized that Cornelius Holland was walking along Minnesota street and would stop the ball with the side of his head. Neither did he dream that that particular two bagger was going to bring him into court to contest a $20,000 damage suit.

It was before the incident he was earning $9 a month, and now his earning capacity is practically worthless. The plaintiff contends that the batting of the ball over the fence, and the violation of the city charter and against the peace and dignity of the community and his suit is directed against the St. Paul Baseball club.

PLAN IS FEASIBLE

Wolfer in Favor of Prison Improvement Shop

Chairman J. F. Jacobson of the state board of control and Henry Wolfer, warden of the Stillwater prison, told the house special committee, appointed to investigate the feasibility of installing a plant for the manufacture of binders in the prison, that they believed that the plan was not outside the range of the possible.

For $500,000 Mr. Wolfer said that the prison could make a very respectable beginning on a plant. This is the amount which will be at the disposal of the prison authorities if the Zschel bill, giving the board of control one-half the net profits of the prison manufacturing plants for the development of other industries at the prison, is passed.

The special house committee met Mr. Jacobson and Warden Wolfer in the state capitol building yesterday. The situation was discussed at length, but informally. Both Mr. Jacobson and Warden Wolfer agreed that there was nothing in the way to prevent the installation of a plant for the manufacture of binders, mowers and hayrakes at a plant for the manufacture of binders, mowers and hayrakes at the prison for the next year.

His premises were based on the understanding that the Zschel bill, giving the prison $100,000 for the purchase of the land and the erection of new buildings, would pass the legislature. No hope, the warden said, could be held for any installation of a new plant in the present cramped prison quarters. The house and senate joint committee will meet with the board of control and it is probable that a bill will be introduced authorizing the expenditure.

MAY LOSE ARM BY SCRATCH ON HAND

Serious Case of Blood Poisoning Follows a Trivial Accident

Clayton F. Sischo, a dealer in jeweler's supplies, living at Highwood, is at St. Luke's hospital in danger of losing his life as the result of a slight scratch two weeks ago. While handling metallic supplies Sischo scratched his right hand, but thought nothing of the accident until the hand began to swell. A physician was called and pronounced the case to be that of blood poisoning and ordered Sischo removed to the hospital. In spite of the treatment at the hospital Sischo's entire right arm became badly swollen and discolored and for a time the physicians considered amputating the arm. Last night the swelling had slightly diminished, but it is feared that the poison has spread to other parts of the body.

TWO MORTGAGES ARE SET ASIDE BY JUDGE

Court Held They Were Executed to Hamper the Creditors

Judge Loehren of the United States circuit court has ordered two mortgages canceled, one given to Henry Holdebrand and the other to Mrs. Doris Schroeder, by Essig Bros., a bankrupt firm. The mortgages were set aside on the ground that they were given a few days before entering bankruptcy proceedings with intent to defraud creditors in their collection of claims. The case came up on petition of A. C. Barber, trustee of the bankrupt estate.
