INSPECTOR HOLDEN BORROWS FROM STOREY

Resigns From Service When Fact of His Connection With a Loan From Get Rich Quick Concern Became Known—Holden Declares That H. J. Barrett While With the Department of Justice Was Attorney for Storey and Aided in Preventing a Fraud Order Being Issued

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—George C. Holden, the inspector in the United States postal service, attached to the inspection division, who yesterday admitted that the Storey Cotton company, most of whose officers are fugitives from justice, advanced $1,100 to him as a loan for a few days, has sent his resignation to Washington.

Holden declared that he received the money and paid it back a few days later, without any understanding or agreement with the Storey Cotton company that he was to protect the company against investigation by the postoffice department. He, however, admitted that in accepting the loan from the company he was indiscreet and thought it best, in view of the revelations in the case to send his resignation to the postal authorities.

Holden Borrowed Money The discovery that Holden had received a loan from the Storey Cotton company was made Thursday, but not made public until last night. A record of the loan was made while District Attorneys Stuart and Swartley of this city were making an examination of the defaulting officers for the purpose of gathering further evidence against Stanley Francis, who is under arrest, charged with being an officer of the concern. The loan was entered in the general cash book and read: "April 29, 1902—George Holden, $1,100."

When the entry was shown Holden he was greatly surprised to find that it had been entered on the books. His explanation at the time was that it was a personal loan. The matter was immediately reported to W. W. Dickson, inspector in charge of the local division, who in turn communicated the facts to the chief inspector at Washington.

Cortelyou Investigates By direction of Postmaster General Cortelyou, Inspector Mayer of the New York division has been sent to this city and is making an investigation of Holden's connection with the Storey Cotton company.

Inspector Mayer started work on the case yesterday and returned to Washington, where he had a conference with Chief Vickers.

He came back to this city tonight to continue his investigation.

In a statement made by Holden he says that loan was paid back within a very few days and that he was surprised to learn it had been entered in the books of the company, because it was a personal loan from F. Ewart Storey. He believes, he said, that the loan was placed on the books to do him injury. Since the loan was made, he says, he has sent three separate reports to Washington, recommending that fraud orders be issued against the Storey concern.

Inspector Holden tonight in an interview told how he came to accept the loan from Storey. He said he had been sent to the offices of the Storey Cotton company to make an investigation as the result of a complaint. While there he met Storey. Holden was about to leave the office, when in conversation with Storey he—Holden—incidentally mentioned that he had to go out and raise some money quickly to tide himself over in a stock transaction.

Storey told him he would lend him the money, and Holden replied that he could not accept a loan as he might have to investigate the company at a future time. Storey, Holden says, assured him that the company was doing a legitimate business and that he would never again have occasion to look into the affairs of the concern.

Storey insisted, he said, in helping him out, and Holden finally accepted a draft. Holden says he realized a few minutes later that he had acted indiscreetly, and made every effort to pay the loan back as quickly as he could. This he did in a few days.

Connects Barrett The Philadelphia Record tomorrow will say that Inspector Holden declares that Harrison J. Barrett, formerly of the department of justice, Washington, and nephew of the late James Tyler, who was involved in the postoffice scandals, was the attorney for the Storey Cotton company while he was actually connected with the department of justice.

Asked if it was true, as Holden contends, that Barrett was responsible for the failure of the postoffice department to issue a fraud order against the Storey company, and that he was their lawyer, United States Assistant District Attorney Stewart tonight said:

"I can only say the investigation into the Storey affairs and the discovery of certain papers seem to partially bear out that contention. I know what he got."

THE GERMAN EMPEROR

Kaiser Wilhelm in a Rare Photograph. He Has Again Disturbed Europe.

FOCUS ATTENTION ON SPEECH OF KAISER

All Europe Draws Conclusions From Words of German Monarch

ST. PETERSBURG, April 3, 1:05 a. m.—Emperor William's speech at Tangier and prospective developments therefrom engross the attention of the Russian newspapers almost to the exclusion of peace discussion. Her treaty relations with France and the friendly attitude of Germany during the war places Russia in an awkward position. Nevertheless, the difficulties of floating further loans in France and the absence of assistance on which unofficial Russia, at least, had vaguely counted incline the scales somewhat in favor of the western neighbor, whose benevolent neutrality and frontier pledge enabled Russia to place in the field a Manchurian army so well supplied with artillery.

Decided pleasure is also expressed at the remarks encountered by the new Anglo-French entente. The Russ terms the visit of the German emperor to Tangier a demonstration against the entente, and points out that refusal of Emperor William to recognize French pretensions must deeply impress the Moroccans to the disadvantage of both France and Great Britain.

Sees Stupendous Alliance "Expectedly," the Russ says, "a grouping of powers in west Europe has begun, and, perhaps, we are on the eve of great developments in international events."

The Novosti sees in the German emperor's supposed pleasure trips to Jerusalem, Constantinople and Tangier a fixed plan to uphold Turkey in Morocco and create "a Mussulman peril," which is Germany's answer to Great Britain's "yellow peril."

In the discussion of peace prospects special stress on the statement that it is about the maddest of a conflict with Great Britain and France allied.

Rejects French Proposal LONDON, April 3.—Many versions of Emperor William's Tangier utterances were reported by the press.

PRESIDENT IS READY FOR LONG VACATION

Starts Today for Swing Around the Circle of the South-west

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Roosevelt will leave Washington tomorrow morning on a long trip to the west and southwest. He will be absent from the capital for nearly two months. One of the chief objects of the trip which the president long has had in mind is the reunion of his rough rider regiment of the Spanish-American war, which is to take place at San Antonio, Tex., next Friday, and for which an elaborate programme has been arranged.

There will be a number of brief stops en route to San Antonio, where the president will make addresses. Leaving San Antonio, there will be a brief stop and address at Fort Worth, which will terminate the public part of the trip, following which the president is to go hunting in the panhandle of Texas and later in Colorado.

All arrangements have been made whereby the president will keep in touch with public affairs both during his railroad ride and while hunting, so that he will be enabled to pass on all matters requiring his attention.

Anticipates Sport The president is looking forward with keen pleasure to his long vacation. The following statement regarding the itinerary of the trip was made public at the white house tonight: "The president will leave Washington Monday, April 3, at 9 a. m., over the Pennsylvania railroad. He will be accompanied by Secretary Loeb and Dr. Alexander Lambert. Gen. S. B. M. Young, Lieut. G. R. Fortescue, M. C. Latta and J. L. McGrew, stenographers and representatives of newspaper press associations.

Will Visit Nation A few short stops will be made in Indian territory on Wednesday. At Sherman, Tex., where the party will arrive at 4 p. m., the president will leave the train, drive to the public square and make a brief address. Dallas will be reached at 6:30 p. m., and after a public address the president will attend a dinner.

The train will reach San Antonio at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, but there will be no public programme until the following morning. The object of the president in visiting San Antonio is to attend the reunion of his regiment. Exercises have been arranged which will fill the entire day, including a review of the regular troops at Fort Sam Houston, a procession in which the president and cabinet members will take part, luncheon at the rough riders' camp and a dinner by the Business men's club at Hotel Menger. The president will then go to Colorado Springs and will then go to Fort Worth, where he will arrive at 11 p. m. on Friday morning at 9:45 and leaving at 10:45. The programme for Fort Worth will consist of a drive and an address.

At Fort Worth the public part of the trip will end. The president will spend some days hunting in the panhandle of Texas and will then go to Colorado Springs and will then go to Fort Worth, where he will arrive at 11 p. m. on Friday morning at 9:45 and leaving at 10:45. The programme for Fort Worth will consist of a drive and an address.

Kentucky to Give Water LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 2.—President Roosevelt will be presented three gifts during his short stay in this city on Tuesday. These gifts, while intended as souvenirs of his visit, are nevertheless of a historical character.

One is a silver flagon, filled with water from the spring on which Abraham Lincoln was born. On the flagon is the inscription: "The spring on which Abraham Lincoln was born. Presented to President Roosevelt by the citizens of Louisville, Ky., April 4, 1905."

The third gift is a unique piece in the shape of an inkstone. It was made from an oak tree which grew near the spring on the old Lincoln homestead. The ink holder is of silver sunk into the wood.

RED TERROR STALKS IN STRICKEN WARSAW

Military and Police Patrol Slaughter Jews in Streets of City

WARSAW, April 2, 2:40 p. m.—A serious conflict occurred at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Dzika street, where a Jewish socialist society, known as the Buki, had organized a demonstration. The troops were called to disperse the gathering and fired into the crowd, killing four persons and wounding forty others.

Other disturbances are reported to have occurred. The streets had been patrolled throughout the day, the authorities having anticipated trouble. Conditions here are causing much uneasiness and nervousness. Hand printed proclamations have been found in the streets warning the public against walking near government buildings and other places, as bombs would be thrown in these places.

Terror in the Schools Several parents whose children are attending school in defiance of the school strike, have been warned by letter to withdraw their children as the school buildings would be blown up. Presentatives of the party of violence—it is not quite clear whether they are revolutionists or socialists—are visiting private persons and levying contributions for ammunition.

They produce lists of names with the amount to be collected from each and require their contributor to sign his name opposite these assessments, which range from $2.50 to $50.

When Gov. Gen. Maximovitch arrived here ten days ago to assume his official duties he ordered that the Cosack detachment meeting him at the station be retired. Driving through the city today, however, the governor's general carriage was surrounded by twenty Cosacks.

The editors of the Polish newspapers here were summoned to the castle yesterday. Gov. Gen. Maximovitch received each of them separately in the most friendly manner and talked with them on various subjects freely, especially on the question of the censorship. He invited them to come to him in case of any difficulty.

Patrol Fires Volleys into Crowd The trouble in Dzika street began when, under the pretext of holding a memorial meeting for a late Jewish socialist leader, a crowd of over 1,000, mostly Jews, carrying red flags, marched.

APPROPRIATIONS TO MEET PRUNING KNIFE

LEGISLATURE MUST CUT ITS APPROPRIATIONS

Lawmakers Are Confronted by Demands for Two and a Half Millions Beyond Amount Ordinarily Required to Meet Running Expenses of State—Chairman Roberts of House Committee Declares All Unnecessary Amounts Must Be Cut From Omnibus Bill

Confronted by demands for $2,500,000 in appropriations beyond the amount ordinarily required to meet the running expenses of the state, the prospect for a reduction by half in the state tax levy is by no means flattering.

With bills carrying appropriations in the hands of either the finance committee of the senate or the appropriations committee of the house, or in both committees, approximating $4,500,000, and with only about $2,000,000 in revenue in sight to meet them, the joint subcommittee of the appropriations committees promises to burn the midnight oil before it can perfect a bill which will be satisfactory to both senate and house and which will still be within the limits of the state's strong box for the next two years.

The legislature has already appropriated approximately $500,000, and it has done little more than provide for the legislative expenses, estimated at $150,000, to give the capitol $160,000, the St. Cloud women's dormitory $65,000, and a few smaller sums.

The estimate of State Auditor S. G. Iverson of the receipts of the revenue fund for the next two years is in round numbers $10,000,000, while his estimate of the disbursements is $8,000,000. This would leave $2,000,000, but a deficiency of $300,000 must come from this. Then the $500,000 already appropriated by the house must be lopped off. The board of the receipts of the revenue fund for the next two years is in round numbers $10,000,000, while his estimate of the disbursements is $8,000,000. This would leave $2,000,000, but a deficiency of $300,000 must come from this. Then the $500,000 already appropriated by the house must be lopped off. The board of the receipts of the revenue fund for the next two years is in round numbers $10,000,000, while his estimate of the disbursements is $8,000,000. This would leave $2,000,000, but a deficiency of $300,000 must come from this. Then the $500,000 already appropriated by the house must be lopped off.

It is true that the state treasurer is permitted to borrow from other funds $600,000 a year, but with the appropriations asked for in this session of the legislature the legislative leaders say that Mr. Iverson's recommendation of a reduction in the tax levy from one mill to one-half mill is not practical.

Chairman Roberts Talks "The state is at a stage in its development where every department and every interest seems to be legitimately entitled to more liberal appropriations," said W. P. Roberts, chairman of the house appropriations committee. In speaking of the demands upon the committee for money, "Nearly all the bills before our committee have merit. The state is increasing in wealth and population. It seems to have attained that point in its development when there must be a change, not specially in policy, but in means and men to carry on the state's business.

"The state institutions are overcrowded, and there is need of enlarged accommodations in almost every institution. The state offices at the capitol make a strong showing that additional labor is required to properly care for the state's business.

"Our joint committee is giving hearings to the representatives of the institutions and the officers of the state who have asked for increased appropriations. We spent nearly all day Saturday listening to statements of these men and will put in a part of Monday in the same work. But it is simply out of the question to attempt to meet all expectations.

"The joint committee will hear everybody interested, and we will then go to work and lop off the things that possibly can be taken from the omnibus bill as it will be presented to the legislature for its final consideration. It is going to be a trying task, and members must take into consideration the situation and not forget the dilemma in which the committee finds itself."

Some Appropriations The board of control estimate for the state university's new building is $308,000. The university bill carried $417,000. This is one of the big items to be considered in the omnibus bill. Another is the $200,000 asked for by the State Agricultural society to build the proposed new stock amphitheater. A $100,000 item is the proposed home for wives and widows of old soldiers at Minnehaha. One of equal size is the proposition to spend $100,000 for purchasing a new site and inaugurating a new industry at the Stillwater prison. The soldiers' home board wants additional support money for the home and women who will be sent there if the women's home bill goes through. For the state census $65,000 will have to be appropriated. A total of $200,000 is asked for the state institutions and the state normal board aside from the estimate of the board of control. Another $14,000 is asked for to aid the county agricultural societies. For a girls' industrial school $100,000 will take $30,000 and the Itasca state park another $30,000.

CUTS WIFE'S THROAT Frenzied Man Then Uses Razor on Himself

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 2.—John C. Walton killed his wife tonight by cutting her throat with a razor, and then after cutting his own throat, walked to the office of a physician 300 yards distant and expired, just as police officers were about to place him under arrest.

The couple were married about ten years ago and had four children. About two years ago Mrs. Walton left her husband, but was reconciled through the efforts of her mother, Mrs. Hackett. A bitter quarrel several months ago brought about another separation. Mrs. Walton and children returning to her mother's home.

When Walton's 8 year old daughter Bessie answered the bell to let her father in the house tonight he was heard to kiss the child and send her for her mother. Mrs. Walton, fearing no trouble, went to meet her husband. In about five minutes a shriek from the woman brought the family to the dining room, where they found Mrs. Walton lying on a couch with her head almost severed from her body.

DAKOTA'S FAST RUN Great Northern Ship Makes Railroad Train Speed

Special to The Globe LAMBERT POINT, Va., April 2.—On her owners' trial trip the giant steamship of the Great Northern Steamship company went over a course in the open ocean today fifty-nine nautical miles in length at an average speed of 17.7 knots an hour for the full course. The ship behaved splendidly on the run and showed to special advantage in the last half of the trial.

The average revolution of the screws was eighty-seven per minute and the speed of the big vessel, the greatest cargo carrier on the seas, developed an actual horsepower of 10,800, with a coal consumption of 1 1/2 pounds of coal per unit.

While the speed developed on the trial is not as great as that of some of the transatlantic liners that carry passengers as a specialty, it is about equal to the high average speed of the fastest battleship in the world. The most economical speed of the Dakota will probably be about 14 knots, and at that rate she will have a wide a steaming radius as any ship in the merchant marine of the world.
