Mrs. Annie Daly, the highly-respected wife of Kiern Daly, of Plymouth township, died on Saturday last and was buried Monday morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, at the time of her death, were all ill with measles.

The bids for building two hose houses, received last Monday, were opened last Wednesday. The houses are located at the corner of Sumner and Jackson streets, and Thirteenth avenue south and Twenty-sixth street. The building of the two houses was awarded to L. C. Bisbee at $13,400, the steam heating to Martin & Taft for $425; the plumbing to Scott & Hunter for $750.

A. J. Jennings, conductor on the M. & St. L. road, and brother of Mrs. Elie, of this city, whose husband is the well-known cigar manufacturer on Bridge Square, was killed at Waseca on Wednesday. His remains were brought to the undertaking rooms of T. Conolly & Co., and afterwards forwarded to his home in Adrian, Mich., where his wife and children now reside. Mr. Jennings had almost completed arrangements for the removal of his family to Minneapolis when the fatal accident occurred.

O. T. Swett, dry goods, 22 University avenue, E. D.

The St. Anthony Crusaders.

At the last meeting of the St. Anthony Crusaders, held in their hall Monday night, the committee on play submitted their report. It was decidedly satisfactory from a financial point of view, showing a net of $344, which will be devoted to the benefit of the St. Anthony parish schools. This society has never been in such a prosperous condition as at the present time, the membership roll now showing 78 names inscribed thereon, and all of them enthusiastic over their remarkable success in the past. Two weeks ago a literary club was organized in connection with the society. Two debates will take place each month. The first of these will be held on Thursday evening next, and the subject under discussion being one of particular interest will no doubt bring forth some sound logical arguments. Last Thursday night Father O'Reilly tendered a grand banquet to those who took part in the drama produced St. Patrick's night. The names of those present are as follows: Ladies—Lizzie Burke, Annie

ST. PAUL NEWS.

Judges of election have been appointed by the city council.

The real estate transfers for last week amounted to $304,076. Como avenue is to be widened to 120 feet, making it one of the finest drives in the city.

The third annual meeting of the State Bar Association was held at the Capital on Tuesday.

The work of excavating for the new Globe building is being pushed rapidly forward.

The stone-cutter's union are boycotting the boarding houses where non-union men eat their daily bread. This looks like boycotting your father and mother.

The judges of the supreme court met in the House of Representatives on Tuesday. There are 201 cases on the calendar.

Rev. J. B. Cotter, of Winona, and P. D. O'Phelan, of Graceville, made stirring addresses at the Crusaders' hall on Sunday afternoon, and in the evening Father Cotter spoke to a large audience in St. Michael's church and administered the pledge to 232 persons.

The barbers of this city are about to ask the common council to make it unlawful for them to shave a man on Sunday. Strange, but the barbers themselves are the petitioners.

The city council have granted to the street railway company the right to operate a cable railway on Third street and Selby avenue to Western. This will prove to be a quiet and reliable route for the residents of St. Anthony Hill.

The retreat for men only at the Cathedral during the present week is very largely attended. On Wednesday evening in particular, the grand old Cathedral was packed from altar rail to the very doors. The galleries as well were filled. Father Cotter addressed the large congregation for two hours upon the evils resulting from intemperance. He also cited the grand results of total abstinence, referring in particular to the work of Father Mahew in Ireland. At the close of his excellent exhortation upwards of nine hundred men took the pledge.

Instead of going to mass on Sunday last as good people should, Coleman Gary and a few friends congregated at Gary's house and spent the day playing cards and drinking beer. In the evening a row took place, all being intoxicated, and Gary in a fit of craziness struck Patrick Manion with an axe, splitting the latter's head open. At this writing Manion is alive but his attendants say he will live but a few hours at the farthest. Gary is locked up and no doubt feels his position keenly. The saloon-keeper who furnished beer to these drunken men must feel as though he is partly guilty of this crime.

The Citizens Law and Order League of St. Paul met in the Chamber of Commerce on Monday for the purpose of electing permanent officers. Bishop Ireland was elected president and twelve vice-presidents were chosen from among the best known men of the city. H. H. Hart was elected secretary and J. Ross Nicols, treasurer. H. J. Horn, Esq., was selected as special council. An executive committee of thirteen were named, who will meet on Friday afternoon. It is the purpose of the League to secure the services of a paid agent whose duty it will be to look after violators of the law and report all such to the executive committee, and they will see that justice be meted out to all who disobey laws made and provided for the regulation of the sale of liquor.

IRISH TWEEDS

See What the Irish Leader Says:

Extract from Speech by CHAS. STEWART PARNELL, M. P., At Drogheda, on 15th April, 1884:

"Now let me ask you another question. A great movement for a revival of home industry originated a year or two ago in Ireland. How are you supporting that movement? At the present moment how many of you in any of your occupations wear some article of Irish manufacture; how many of you show a practical desire to restore Irish manufacture; what have each of you done to provide employment in the mills at home? This is a matter that should be always present to our minds—we may have to pay a little for Cork or Navan or Athlone or Convey Tweed, but its wear will abundantly recompense us in the end. It is possible for each of us, either man or woman or child, to do something to afford employment to Irishmen or Irish women at home; and I would entreat of you to consider that in the absence of a Parliament such as that which is enjoyed in Australia, and endowed with a power to protect native manufacturers, it is your duty to support this movement. If you do so it is certain that a very little self-sacrifice to-day will restore the ancient fame of Ireland as a manufacturing nation."
