IT WAS FERTILIZER DAY.

ELEVEN CAR LOADS DISTRIBUTED TUESDAY.

Biggest Shipment Ever Received in Southwest Missouri--Webb's Big Dinner.

Last Tuesday was about the liveliest day Jasper has experienced for some time. It was occasioned by the large number of farmers who came in to get their fertilizer. Eleven cars of Swift's fertilizer arrived on Monday and by Tuesday evening nearly the entire lot had been distributed throughout the country around Jasper. Tuesday was set for the distribution and the farmers began to arrive about 9 o'clock and soon the streets were crowded with teams. There were upwards of 100 wagons and when starting out made a procession about a mile in length.

In honor of the event Messrs Bert and Orr Webb, the agents through which the product was sold, had prepared a big dinner for the farmers who had purchased fertilizer. A fifty-foot table was spread in the west room of their new building. The table accommodated 60 persons at a sitting and it was filled twice and partly filled the third time. It is estimated that at least a hundred and fifty people partook of their hospitality. The dinner was in charge of Messames Hughes, Bert and Orr Webb and was pronounced first-class by all who partook.

About noon Mr. Burkett, the photographer, happened around and took a snapshot of the crowd.

This was one of the largest, if not the largest consignment of fertilizer ever received in southwest Missouri. One hundred and fifty tons was distributed from this place last year, but this year it footed up 275 tons and represented an outlay of $7,500.

ABOUT THE OIL WELLS.

All Drill Prospecting Suspended for the Present.

"How about the oil wells?" asked a News reporter to John Fairfield, who owns land in the oil regions west of Jasper. "All work has been suspended for the present," answered Mr. Fairfield, "but I think it will be resumed some time later. It will cost about as much to case up the thousand foot hole which has already been put down as to put down a new one and so that will probably not be sunk any deeper."

"However, the Carthage company will have to sink three more holes or forfeit the leases which they hold on the land in that vicinity, as one of the conditions of the leases is that the company agrees to put down four holes, unless they should happen to strike oil sooner."

"If the company does not continue the prospecting, there are a number of us land owners out there who are ready to go in and continue the search, as we are almost certain that the oil is there if we can just get to it."

IT IS NEAR AND ROBERTS

RECEIVED THE APPOINTMENTS FOR RURAL CARRIERS.

They Receive the Best Grades in their Examination and are Given the Positions.

Postmaster Wade was notified last Friday that John H. Near and Preston Roberts had been appointed as the carriers for the two new delivery routes which will start from this place the first of September. The two appointees secured the best grades on their papers in the regular examination some time ago, and as a consequence secured the positions. Mr. Near gets the route to the northeast which will be No. 3, and Mr. Roberts will get the northwest route or No. 4.

The new carrier furnished the required bond and are now busily engaged getting ready for their new duties. Each carrier under the present law is required to furnish his own substitute. Mr. Near has selected his wife as his substitute and Mr. Roberts has chosen his brother Dan Roberts of this city to substitute for him.

Mr. Near is out on his route today securing the names of all the persons he will be required to deliver to.

Route No. 3 will pass through Dublin starting out which will give the residents of that burg their mail early in the morning instead of late in the afternoon. The carrier on route No. 4 will also come through Dublin on his return trip and will gather up any mail which the Dublinites desire to send out, so it will be seen that Dublin will get two visits from the mail man each day.

A GOLDEN ROD WEDDING

Was the Hardaway-Peterson Nuptials Last Night.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mattie Peterson, in the south part of town, last evening, the contracting parties being Mr. Loyd Hardaway and Miss Jennie Peterson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ferguson in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends.

The front parlor, where the ceremony took place, was beautifully decorated with golden-rod. Promptly at the hour appointed, the door from the south room was gently opened and the wedding party marched in, the attendants, Mr. Thos. Hardaway and Miss Emma Hendricks leading the way. On reaching the northeast corner of the room, the attendants separated, the bridesmaid stepping to the right and the groomsmen to the left, the bridal couple taking their position beneath an arch of golden rods. The minister then stepped forward and spoke the words which made them man and wife.

The bride was charmingly attired in a beautiful dress of white swiss, trimmed in silk applique and white ribbons. She wore a bouquet of white tea roses in her hair. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful white dress and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses in her hand. The gentlemen were dressed in the usual black.

After the ceremony and congratulations, a dainty wedding supper was served in courses in the dining room.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

About 10 o'clock the band appeared in the front yard and serenaded the party, after which they were invited in to supper.
