NO. 36

Old Stand-bys at Webb's

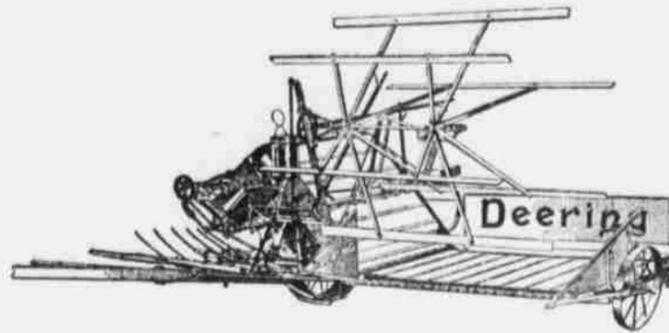

A Car of "Turkey" Flour.

We are just unloading a car of that wonderful "Turkey" flour, the cooks' friend, without which no kitchen is well supplied. Better lay in a supply now to last you, as there's no telling how long present prices will last.

Henney Buggies

You don't find better buggies than the Henney. We refer you to any one of the hundreds of owners of Henney buggies in these parts for confirmation of this statement. Stylish, strong and light-running it combines all the qualities of goodness you expect in a buggy and excels in every one. And the price is right.

PAINTS: Farm and Home paints and Waggener's Lead and Zinc are the best. Ask for them.

The Old Reliable Deering Binder

The Deering is the king of them all. Come in and let us show you. Six unbeatable cultivators—No name, New Western, Golden Rule, balance frame Dandy, Dutch Uncle, and Captain Kidd disc. See them.

F. J. McComb Here.

F. J. McComb, who spent two years here in the telephone business, leaving here about a year ago, dropped in last Saturday and spent a few days with old friends. Mac and his family spent most of the past year in California, and only returned to Missouri last week. They spent the last month in San Antonio, Tex., where Mac put in a month of very assiduous toil for the Bell people, the first work, he admits cheerfully, that he has done since he left Jasper, and he says it almost decided him to work no more at all, for the southern sun removed about fifteen pounds of highly cherished avardupois from his frame in that short time. Mrs. McComb and Master James, whom Mac declares is now a "great big boy," went on to Lebanon, their former home, not stopping in Jasper.

Musical Tomorrow.

Tomorrow evening, Friday, May 5, the Presbyterian Y. P. S. C. E. presents a musical at the church, in which we are advised most of the city's best musical talent will have part. The admission is 10c and 15c, and you are assured that it will be worth the money. Go and hear it.

Here From Colorado.

Charley Spencer, well remembered by most Jasper people, was in town a couple of days last week visiting his mother, Mrs. Frank Cline, and renewing old friendships generally. It has been seven years since Charley left Jasper, a few years of which time he spent at Carthage and the remainder at Wiley, Colo., his present home. Since going to Wiley he has become identified with banking interests there and has the cashier slip of the leading bank. He is in love with his new home and is apparently getting his share of the good things of life. His old friends will learn with gratification that this is so.

worth of medicines to be given away at my drug store at 3 p. m. Saturday to married women only. One bottle Wine Cardui and one bottle "Velvo". The Carduis worth $1.00 and the Velvo 50 cents. Remember only twelve bottles of each, so come early and get your name in the box. 12 of you will be lucky and get $1.50 for nothing. H. F. PITTS, The Rexall Store.

Phone No. 7 for canned mushrooms.

DEATH'S HARVEST

William Weed.

William Weed, whose illness for the past few weeks has received frequent mention in these columns, passed away last Thursday afternoon at five o'clock, at the St. James hotel, his home for twenty years past. Funeral services were held at the hotel at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and were attended by a large gathering of friends of the deceased and his family. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. O. Thompson.

It was planned to take the body to Dunlap, Ia., on the Friday morning train, for interment, but the wreck on the Mo. Pacific near Boston made it necessary to postpone that part of the obsequies a day, and the burial service at Dunlap was on Monday.

Mr. Weed had enjoyed unusual health, considering his advanced age, until a very few weeks ago, when he was seized with inflammatory rheumatism, which told on his constitution so rapidly that a week before his death practically all hope of his recovery had been abandoned.

Deceased was a resident of this city for more than twenty years and it is likely that nobody hereabouts numbered a larger circle of friendships. He took charge of the St. James hotel in 1890 and his long tenure as landlord of that hostelry had made him probably the most widely known hotel man in this part of the state. He was a native of Trumbull county, Ohio, his birth occurring on August 18th, 1827. At the age of 20 he moved to Illinois, and served in the eighth cavalry of that state (Company B) during the civil war. This regiment saw hard service throughout the great conflict as part of the Army of the Potomac, and Mr. Weed served therein nearly the entire four years of the war. Enlisting as a private, he was a lieutenant when discharged. After the war he returned to Illinois, where he married Miss Pheba Jane Isabella. Seven children were born to them, of whom three died in infancy. The four surviving children, namely, Miss Eva Jackson of Rushville, Neb., Effa Thomson of Jasper, Florence Palmer of Gilman, Ills., and Miss Jessie Weed of Jasper, were all at his bedside when death came to end his earthly troubles.

From Illinois Mr. Weed moved to Dunlap, Iowa, and lived there twenty years, moving thence to Nebraska. After two years in that state he came to Jasper as aforesaid, in 1890.

An upright estimable gentleman, a kind father and neighbor, his death cast a gloom over the entire city. He will be missed as few are missed.

Mary A. White.

Mrs. Mary A. White, the aged lady whose sudden attack of paralysis was noted in this paper last week, died Sunday afternoon at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Everett Lambeth, after a week's illness. Her condition since the first seizure had been such that death was almost hourly expected, and when it arrived it came as a relief to a hopeless struggle during which she never attained more than a semi-consciousness. She passed away quietly and without pain shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Sample conducted funeral services at the Baptist church at two o'clock Monday, which were followed by burial in the city cemetery.

"Grandma" White, as she was familiarly known was in her 82d year, having first seen the light of day at Greenwood, New York, on March 15, 1830.

She came to Missouri forty years ago and had been a resident of Jasper county for more than 25 years, part of which time was spent at Jasper and part at Avilla. She came to Jasper the last time, to make her home with the Lambeths, last February.

Her husband died not long after their removal to this country. The mother of five children, she survived them all. Three grandchildren were present at her funeral, namely, Mrs. Lambeth, Mrs. Weaver of Lamar and Earl White of Kansas City.

She was an earnest Christian and well beloved by everyone whose fortune it was to know her.

Baby Dies.

The infant child of Mr and Mrs. C. R. Patterson southwest of Jasper, born last Friday, died the following day, and was buried on Sunday at the Brethren cemetery on the Base Line, funeral service being conducted by D. W. Teeter. Much sympathy is felt for the parents in their bereavement.

Will Visit Old England.

Mrs. Wm. Sheldon was here from Carthage the latter part of last week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Wagner. Mrs. Sheldon will leave shortly for a trip to her native country, England, on her first visit there since she left for America, a little more than fifty years ago. She expects to visit her old home at Bedford, Bedfordshire, and will also visit London, Liverpool, Edinburgh and other points of interest on the island as well as taking a short trip on the continent. She will leave early in June and does not expect to see America again until October.

The First National Bank

Organized but nine years ago, developed and conducted on the principle of conservative banking along conservative lines, the First National Bank has preserved the integrity of its individuality intact and on this basis has gained a little each day in strength, in scope, and in the confidence of the public.

Governed by the same principle, and entertaining a reciprocal confidence in a public which recognizes the right relationship between service and recompense, this Bank expects to continue to grow both in its capacity and its opportunity to serve, and to that end invites the patronage to which it believes it has improved itself entitled.

Our Statement issued on the 7th of this month is the largest in the history of banking in the city of Jasper.
