Probably Thought it Funny.
The other night as Charley Whitesel and family were motoring on the Carthage road and were on their way home, their headlights revealed several boys about 14 years old scampering away from a point in the road at the Coon Creek bridge. Mr. Whitesel got out to investigate and found a pile of rocks behind the road to make trouble for auto's, or indeed any other kind of vehicle. Of course the boys said they didn't do it but the circumstantial evidence was rather strong.

Formerly of Jasper.
The following appeared in the Omaha (Nebr.) World Herald of August 17, together with a picture of Mrs. Paisley who has been a prominent figure in church and club work the past few years. Mr. and Mrs. Paisley lived north of Jasper at one time and were well known here.
"It is with the most sincere regret that the many friends of Mrs. W. O. Paisley learn of her contemplated departure from the city. Mr. Paisley has bought an interest in the Helena Independent company of Helena, Mont. and will leave for his new home the early part of September. Mrs. Paisley will not go until sometime in October."

Fired by Lightning.
A large hay barn belonging to J. W. Sharp at Harwood, was fired by lightning Monday afternoon, the 18th instant. Among other contents destroyed were 1,500 bushels of wheat, 1,200 of corn, 42 tons of straw and of hay. Mr. Sharp had insurance to the amount of $500 and had application pending for more, but which had not been issued. - Sheldon Enterprise. Mr. Sharp is the senior member of Sharp firm with hardware and implement stores at Harwood and Jasper.
