The News is authorized to announce the following candidates, subject to the action of the Republican voters at the primaries, August 4, 1914:

For Associate Judge, County Court, Eastern District—
H. O. EARL.

Tadlock's Candidate

The News is authorized to announce T. C. Tadlock, of Joplin, a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, August 4.

About 16 years ago Mr. Tadlock came from north Missouri to Carthage, where he lived and was engaged in the practice of criminal law until about four years ago, when he moved to Joplin, where he is now located. Mr. Tadlock during the time he lived in Carthage made many friends who are now earnestly urging him to be a candidate for said office and who will give to him at the primary their hearty support.

It is unnecessary for The News to state that Mr. Tadlock is qualified to fill this office, for he is recognized by all as the ablest criminal lawyer in southwest Missouri, having in his office the largest criminal law library in the state and has devoted about 30 years to the study and practice of criminal law, and since coming to this country has been engaged in all of the most important criminal cases, has achieved great success and made for himself a great reputation as a criminal lawyer, and for these reasons the voters of this country without regard to politics are insisting on him to make the race, as they believe he will not only save the taxpayers unnecessary criminal costs, but will be able to secure convictions in the numerous murder cases that are occurring in this county, and that the time has arrived when Jasper County needs a real lawyer for prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Tadlock has a large law practice and realizes more from it than he will from the office, and for that reason was reluctant about being a candidate and only acceded to the persistent demands of his many friends to make the race. Most of the criminal business and cases come from the western part of the county and from Joplin, and on that account many believe the Prosecuting Attorney should be located at Joplin. Mr. Tadlock, though not a politician is a forceful speaker and a strong campaigner, and his friends claim for him that if nominated he will be elected and make a prosecuting attorney such as this county has never had before. adv.

Judge J. C. Ross Announces.

The News announces in this issue the candidacy of Judge J. C. Ross for Presiding Judge of Jasper County. Mr. Ross is the present incumbent of the office.

Mr. Ross is a substantial farmer and business man. He has been active, as a member of the present county court, in bringing about the many reforms for which this court will go on record in Jasper County. He advocated and promoted, as one of the members of the county court, the auditing of the books of the county officers, in which some splendid results were obtained. He advocated strongly, because it was so badly needed, the building of the new almshouse, of which, when finished, every citizen of Jasper County will be justly proud. More bridges, concrete culverts, and good roads have been made in Jasper County during his term than were made during a period of many years preceding. He has been very zealous in guarding the interests of the taxpayers of the whole county. He has caused the public buildings to be cleaned up, and good and substantial improvements have been initiated.

In fact, he has performed all his duties as an official without enemies to punish and with many friends to reward. He has performed his numerous duties and responsibilities as judge of the county faithfully and well, and has never forgotten to look after the public buildings in Jasper County, and the different state institutions in which Jasper County claims an interest, such as the asylums, sanitariums, schools for unfortunates, etc. One good characteristic of Judge Ross is that he was just the same after he was elected to office as he was during his campaign. adv.
