High School Notes.

Mr. F. C. Irion, high school inspector, spent practically the whole of last Friday inspecting the Jasper High School. The patrons and friends of the school will be glad to know that the Jasper High School will continue on the first class fully accredited list.
The inspector expressed himself as being more than pleased. He said, of the more than 100 high schools he had visited this year, the Jasper High School and teachers were clearly above the average.

Because of the poorly matured condition of corn, due to dry weather and early frost last fall, it is believed farmers are going to find difficulty in securing a good quality of seed corn.
Germinating tests all over the state reveal an alarmingly weak germinating power in an exceedingly large number of cases. Farmers all over the state are urged to make tests of their seed corn before planting it so as to be sure of getting a good stand. The agriculture class of the high school is prepared to test from 100 to 150 ears of corn for any farmer who will carefully tag his corn (number it consecutively from 1 to as many ears as he wishes tested) and deliver it at the schoolhouse. Farmers are urgently requested to avail themselves of this opportunity to test their seed corn. It is not only a duty owing to themselves, but to the government as well. It may be added that from 12 to 15 ears will plant an acre of land.

Death of Edgar C. Wardlow.

A brief statement of Mr. Wardlow's death appeared in the last issue of the "News". At that time none of the particulars had been learned and no funeral arrangements made.

The body arrived in Jasper, Sunday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Wardlow and her brother, Robert Kincaid, who met her in Kansas City.

A short funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Moore at the Kincaid home at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. David Houser, accompanied by Mrs. Moore at the piano, very impressively sang, "Nearer, My God, To Thee," "Death Is Only A Dream" and "Beautiful Isle Of Somerwhere." The floral offerings were many and beautiful. An especially handsome piece was sent by the Wool-man of the World lodge of Jasper. Interment was made in the Waters cemetery, near the graves of his parents.
An unusually large crowd was in attendance. Many friends and relatives coming from a distance met with old neighbors to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had spent his life in their midst.

Edgar Craig Wardlow was born in Barton County, Sept. 16, 1886. Died at Phoenix, Ariz., February 13, 1918, aged 31 years, 4 months, 27 days. He was married November 18, 1916, to Miss Jessie Kincaid at Joplin, Mo. He was the son of Samuel E. and Mary A.
Wardlow, both deceased. The father died when Ed was 16 months old. The mother died 10 years later leaving him, her only child, in care of her sister, Mrs. E. C. McArty, with whom he made his home until four years ago, when his doctor advised a change of climate to benefit his health, which showed signs of lung trouble. He then made a sale of his property and went to Phoenix, Ariz., stayed there about 18 months and returned home looking so well and strong that his friends believed him well. A few months later a severe cold followed by the grip brought a return of the old trouble more violent than at first. After this his decline was rapid.

In November, 1916, he returned to Arizona for the winter, but failed to regain his health. He came home in April and stayed until October when he and his wife again went back to Arizona. He made no improvement and a few weeks ago an acute form of kidney trouble developed and hastened his death.

He leaves a wife, one half-brother, J. C. Wardlow of California, and a half-sister, Mrs. Carter of Oklahoma, distant relatives and many old friends.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our gratitude to many friends for their kindness and sympathy in the death and at the funeral of our dear one.

St. Louis Railroad Officials Protest.

W. G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, makes public through the press the following telegram sent to him February 2 by B. F.
Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad:

"Newspapers report that Chairman Simms sent you a great number of letters that have come to him from shippers' organizations complaining of the poor service given by railroads and that the invariable answer of the management to complaints is 'What else can you expect under Government control?' At a meeting of executives of St. Louis lines, held this morning, we protest against this as another gross libel on a class of men who are working assiduously day and night to achieve best results for the country. Hope you will sift matter to the bottom and insist that shippers' organizations reveal the names of the men who have so expressed themselves."
