Parson—I'm surprised, boys, to see you in swimming on Sunday. Didn't you promise you wouldn't?
Jimmy—Yes, sir, but we ain't swimmin', we're only bathin'.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble get after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

BREAKS YOUR COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" instantly relieves stuffiness and distress

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!—Adv.

"FIDDLE-FIT"

Keep Liver and Bowels Clean and Active with "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will have you feeling clear, rosy and as fit as a fiddle by morning. They work while you sleep.—Adv.

New Designs in One-Piece Dress

The demand for the practical and very smart one-piece dress of serge or tricolette has in no way abated, advises a leading fashion writer. Indeed the new models of this sort of frock are so charming as well as so serviceable that no wardrobe is complete without at least one. Serge seems to have had its day, at least for the early fall and spring, for at this time the newer duvetyns and tricolettes are raging up and down the land.

It is hardly possible to describe the beauty of these one-piece frocks. When one has said they are of either of the two materials mentioned and that they are of the chemise type much has been told, but to appreciate fully the beauty and charm of such a dress one must see it. The trimmed hips prevail in the smartest of the new models. In fact, every dress, of whatever nature, reveals this fashion of adorning the hips. This is done either by so arranging the draperies that they give the desired extended line or by placing fringes, plaits, braid or frills in a decidedly extended effect along the hips and down the sides.

Curious Model Finds Favor.

There is one curious model which has attained a certain following which has waist and skirt cut all in one with no break whatever at the waist line.

Charming Frock of Navy Blue Lyons Velvet Faced With Red.

the whole presenting a perfectly flat back and front. At the hips the skirt is extended in a wide flare, suggesting pockets which stand well away from the body of the gown. Except for the line of buttons down the back or an occasional string belt this gown shows no other trimming. Obviously it is for the very slender, since the curved and more developed figures will not appear to advantage in a gown of such straight up and down effect that the skirt is little wider than the bodice.

Doubtless we shall grow a little tired of the emphasized trimming on the hips, but at this time it is well to recognize the fact that this sort of trimming is a distinct feature in the one-piece gown.

The coat dress simulating jackets or longer coats is ideal when developed in navy blue serge or duvetyn or tricolette. The latter fabric will probably be superseded as the season advances except in those cities where the climate permits lighter weight fabrics than the woolen.

I have observed a very charming coat dress of dark blue serge with a tight, narrow underskirt of the serge, ankle length, and over which there hangs a tunic of the serge somewhat fuller than most we see. The upper part of this dress has a short Eton jacket faced down the front with scarlet broadcloth, and this is toned down with black soutache. The scarlet cloth forms a rather narrow vest and a belt extending all the way around the waist. The sleeves are long and tight, of the coat type, and button at the wrist. This is an ideal morning dress for shopping or other practical street wear. Soft fur collars of fox or lynx are worn with this kind of dress.

French Styles Modified.

The duvetyn frocks are particularly lovely this year. They do not follow closely the French abbreviated sleeves and skirts, though the general idea of the French dresses, uncorseted, loose and scant, has been followed and modified to suit the American wearer. Many of the duvetyns have elaborately embroidered motifs on the skirts. Some have aprons of cloth thickly stitched with contrasting silk in good designs which enhance the beauty of the dress. They all have for the most part the new square cut neck, not nearly so decollete as earlier models were, and the sleeves may be short or long, as preferred. If short, they reach well to the elbow and flare. The longer sleeve is of the most tailored coat type and buttons at the wrist. Some of the makers do not adopt this method of closing a sleeve.

Fringe, ruffles and ribbons are to be reckoned with this fall. As to the fringe, many of the Parisian gowns of the most elaborate materials show it used in the most lavish way. For instance, over a gown of black satin there is placed an overdress of long and very heavy black silk fringe which hangs from the neck to the hem. At the waist the fringe is held in with a string belt ending with long silken tassels. From underneath this belt the long ends of the fringe hang out, and as they flare with every movement of the wearer the effect is distinctly Hawaiian or Samoan, where short skirts of a curious straw fringe are worn.

Two of these fringed silken frocks appeared the other day and were observed by all with intense interest, though the wearers scarcely seemed conscious of the concern they created.

Fringe on Duvetyn Dresses.

The duvetyn dresses, too, are being trimmed with this long fringe, as, for example, one finds a taupe duvetyn with the bodice made entirely of an uncut silken fringe placed over the duvetyn. The long apron tunic repeats a row of the fringe along the edge. Nothing has been more interesting than the continuation of this fringed trimming. It was so exploited two seasons ago that it comes as a slight surprise that it is still famed just now and seemingly more than ever. Undoubtedly we shall see much use of ribbon.

EVER CHARMING VELVET

Velvet is the joy of every woman's heart. It used to be that most women waited until their daughters were married, or at least fifty years had been reached before they could boast of a velvet gown. In those days a black velvet gown and some "real" lace and pearls were the synonyms of much wealth, therefore it is no wonder that all women longed for a velvet gown. Of course, velvet was frightfully expensive in those long ago times, but nowadays with duvetyn at $20 the yard, and peach bloom and tricolette close followers in this price, velvet seems almost economical. It is much used for the one-piece afternoon frock.

Not so much trimming is used on the velvet dresses. One excellent example is of black chiffon velvet with the draped hips so prevalent. The only trimming used is introduced at the neck in a half collar and on the sleeves in half cuffs of silver cloth embroidered in a beautiful shade of myrtle red. This fashion of making very small collars and cuffs is a lovely one, as charming touches of color can be cleverly used.

The very long overblouse of velvet or plaited satin or georgette is destined to become very popular, as it is a practical mode which all may follow. The new plaid skirts of the fine Scotch woolsens are particularly good when topped with a tailored velvet overblouse of some harmonious color contrasting well with the mingled plaids. Everything in Paris reveals plaitings of some sort, bodices, skirts and indeed entire dresses being made of knife plaited or accordion plaited fabrics. The latter plaits are more satisfactory than the wider, as they are put in by machinery and do not come out so persistently as the others do.

Corrage Fastens Behind.

Once more fashion decrees that the corsage shall be fastened behind with a row of tiny buttons.

Raised Waistlines.

Blue serge frocks show soured skirts and raised waistlines.

WANTED TO SEE THAT PIG

"Animal" Had a Strange Fascination for the Thirsty Easterners of a Century Ago.

The present prohibition law is much more stringent than was the dry law of Massachusetts of 100 years ago, when the "Striped Pig" gained its fame. At that time the law read that liquor could not be secured, save in 15-gallon lots. That gave the "pig" its chance.

An enterprising resident attended the military muster on the Readville fair grounds, and established a side show. A banner before the tent flouted the likeness of a red and black pig which, a sign said, could be seen for four pence. Many men went in to see the strange animal, and returned many times. As the law did not prohibit the exhibitor from giving away liquor he gave each patron a generous glass of the forbidden drink from a huge stock he had laid in. The "Striped Pig" became famous overnight. Songs were written about the animal, a beverage was named after it, and a burlesque play in New York adopted the absurd title.

Animals Slaughtered.

It is estimated by competent authorities that 30 per cent of the leather furnishing animals of Italy have been slaughtered for food purposes during the war. Some years are necessary to recoup these losses.

WOULD BE FRIEND IN NEED

Grateful Colored Man Promised to Go if Services Should Be Needed.

"The race riots in Chicago remind me of the same sort of excitement that ran around Atlanta when I was living there as a young man," said George McDaniel of Metro, Cal., recently.

"My brother and I were both medical students of smooth and virgin sheepskins. We shared the same office and lunched at the same counter. In the midst of wild confusion, one day, a wounded negro rushed into our office and begged for protection. This was freely granted, for we had no race prejudices, in spite of our Southern upbringing. We also poured saline on the negro's bruises.

"'Yo' shuah been good to me,' said the grateful darkey, turning to my brother—who, by the way, is now practicing in Los Angeles—'an' I'll 'member it, doc. Say, if yo' ever kills anybody mah friends and I'll get you out if we have to bust the jail to do it.'"—Los Angeles Times.
