The Brutal Truth.

The stout lady on the summer hotel veranda is blushing furiously. Furiously is a strong word, but it is the best word for the place.

Her fond friends tell her that her figure is, if anything, a little too slender, but out of the mouths of babes and sucklings comes the truth.

Yonder six-year-old boy with the whip played fishing. "Who will be my fish?" he cried.

"I'll be your fish, dear," the stout lady answered.

"Aw, I want a fish, not a whale," the unfeeling boy retorted.

It is astonishing that babes and sucklings are not welcome at summer hotels?

PENSION TEACHERS

TEN ARGUMENTS ADVANCED IN FAVOR OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2.

SOUND BUSINESS POLICY

Higher Standards and Better Service in Education Made Possible by Measure Insuring Instructors Against Want in Old Age.

The Teachers' Pension Organization in St. Louis, composed of all the public school teachers, supervisors, principals and superintendents in the city, has raised a fund for securing the success of Amendment No. 2 through the voluntary contributions of its members of one mill of every dollar of their annual salaries.

This body has appointed an energetic executive committee to conduct a campaign for engaging public interest in the success of the amendment. Two of their publicity features are a campaign button which reads "Amendment No. 2, Vote Yes. Teachers' pensions," and the following circular to be addressed the week before the November election to every voter in the city:

Why Amendment No. 2 Should Receive Your Vote.

Amendment No. 2 on your ballot next Tuesday favors the payment of pensions to aged or infirm teachers by the Board of Education. For the following reasons you should vote YES and scratch NO.

1. The finest institution of which any country can boast is an efficient school system free to the whole people. It is the cornerstone of our Republic.

2. The most precious wards of any community are its children. They deserve the best of school buildings, the best of education, the best of teachers.

3. In the interest of the children the teaching force should not be allowed to fall below the highest standard. Teachers in active service must be of mental and physical vigor.

4. Legislation for teachers' pensions should be the concern of every parent; of every thinking man.

5. It is not class legislation.

6. It does not give the right to the Board of Education to increase the tax rate.

7. In other countries in which public education has achieved the finest results pension legislation has been operative for over half a century.

8. The success of Amendment No. 2 places Missouri abreast of other states that have taken up pension legislation.

9. In fifty cities and seven states where pension systems are in force, men of ability are drawn into the service of the schools whose energies would otherwise be diverted into other channels.

10. Finally, it is not that teachers want pensions, or need pensions, or ought to have pensions, but that they are demanded as sound business policy in the conduct of the schools.

STONE OPENS CAMPAIGN.

Last Saturday afternoon Senator Wm. J. Stone, leader of the old guard wing of the Democratic party opened the county campaign for the Democrats, by delivering a speech to a rather small crowd at the court house.

It was said by leading local Democratic statesmen that the Senator's speech was not up to his usual standard. We presume that is so. There was nothing in the Senator's talk. The main idea that was brought out by him was that whatever chance there was for a Democratic victory this fall grew out of the discord in the Republican party, and not because of anything that the people had a right to expect from the Democratic party. The Senator's appeal to the voters on the tariff question was particularly unfortunate, as his main idea was that it was all wrong to maintain conditions so that a proper use of brains, money and energy would produce wealth. It was in fact merely the old appeal to prejudice and an attempt to secure votes by causing enmity between the successful and the unsuccessful citizen. The Senator is a poor imitation of a statesman and a perfectly good calamity howler.

ROOSEVELT IN ST. LOUIS.

Former President Roosevelt will be in St. Louis next Tuesday and deliver an address at the coliseum. Gov. Hadley, Congressman W. A. Rodenberg, former Congressman Jas. E. Watson of Indiana and Congressman Richard Barthold of St. Louis are also on the program for the meeting.

HON. REUBEN F. ROY,

Republican candidate for Congress, who will speak at the Court House tonight.

ROY-CLARK DEBATE.

This, Friday, night Hon. Reuben F. Roy, Republican candidate for Congress, and Champ Clark, Democratic candidate for re-election, will speak at the court house on the political issues of the day. As both gentlemen are good talkers, well posted on the issues of the day, able debaters, it should be an interesting evening for all who are watching the progress of political events.

I will close out the remainder of the car of apples at 75c, $1 and $1.25. You will have to hurry.
