

Written for the Sunday morning BAZOO. AT TIDE TIME.

Wave on wave o'er the sandy shore, faintly seen in the midnight din. With a dreary splash and a sullen roar, it beat on the rocks so gray and grim.

SOCIETY NEWS.

(Any items of interest suitable for this department, from Sedalia or neighboring places, are respectfully solicited. We want a vivacious, active and cheery lady correspondent in all the neighboring towns tributary to Sedalia. FASHION NOTES.

—Coat sleeves takes precedence of all others. —There is a return of favor to glace kid gloves. —The skirts of street dresses are worn shorter.

—Mantle visites and jerseys are things of fine art. —Plush tea gowns are the preferred wear of London society women. —Cravats are again worn by men, and red ones are the most in favor.

—Changeable sarahs are combined with velvet broche surahs in dressy toilets for spring and summer. —Waists grow longer, basques shorter, collars higher, skirts fuller, hats and coiffures higher, dress less artistic.

—The high coiffures adopted for evening toilets are dressed with feathers, jeweled combs, diamond headed pins, and strings of pearls. —The so-called tailor-made suits of the incoming season lack the charm of simplicity that attached to the Puritan like garments of the past.

—The latest fancy in short petticoats, to be worn only in the coldest weather and in the street, is to make them of satin or alpaca and line them with chamois. —Bodices of ball dresses are sometimes so low as to seemingly consist merely of a wide waist belt and two slender shoulder straps.
