Table with 4 columns: TIME, THER., BAR., WIND, WEATHER. Rows for 7 a.m., 9 a.m., and 9 p.m.

Extremes, 5 and 35.

TO BAZOO READERS.

We hear complaints from various sources that it is difficult to buy copies of the BAZOO, while other papers are always to be had.

TOWN TALK.

A ladies donkey kid button shoe for $3.00 at Vanwagner Bros. The first in the land for the money.

Mrs. John Stark received word yesterday of the death of Mrs. D. C. Jones, of Sebree, Kentucky, sister of Mr. John Stark.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Jesse B. Bradley and Laura B. Cress, both of Pettis county. They will be married to-day at Drsdren.

Hinsdale and Menefee purchased yesterday of B. T. Sterling, thirty head of fine mules. From all indications the mule trade is better at present than it has been for years in Sedalia.

Get out the rye, you slyctail 'possum. You can't catch a coon with a pokeberry blossom!

Said a customer to his druggist, when he handed him a bottle of iron bitters, instead of Brown's Iron Tonic—his favorite medicine. Sold by Metz & Hale.

PERSONAL.

James Ponison has returned from a visit to St. Louis.

J. L. Morrison, of Fayette, Mo., paid Sedalia a visit yesterday.

F. Baird, of Clinton was in the future capital on business yesterday.

Mrs. J. H. Meyers, wife of express Messenger Meyers is reported seriously ill at her home.

R. T. Cain arrived home yesterday after a pleasant visit to his father in North Carolina.

Joe Simpson, representing Dr. Miller's Harris cough bitters, returned home after a week's successful trip south.

L. Fredenburg was in the city yesterday shaking hands with old friends. He says Sedalia after all is far ahead of any of the Kansas towns.

Cocaine, Iodoform or Mercurials in any form in the treatment of catarrh or hay fever should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain, agreeable to use. Price 50 cents of druggist.

Real Estate.

This is the best time there has been for several years to buy real estate in Sedalia or Pettis County. It is known to all that we are on the eve of a general improvement in business and a grand boom for our city and county. Those who buy now will make the advance in values. Some rare bargains in improved city property building lots and a few good farms for sale cheap. Easy terms arranged for all purchasers if desired. Improve the present opportunity by calling on

W. L. PORTER, 2-8dlm Corner Main and Ohio Sts.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pains, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Farm For Rent.

The fine stock farm, known as the General Hancock farm, in Pettis county, one mile east of Windsor, containing 665 acres, mostly in grass, well watered and improved. Rents low and terms easy. See or address,

WHAT

The Paper Published for the People Now on Earth Would Like to Know.

-If Sedalia will get the Colorado road? -If the populace of Clinton will meet Major Cole with a band of music?

-If the real christian people in Sedalia do enthusiastically endorse the Salvation army?

-If Chief Jackson will receive the thanks of the people for getting the streets clean?

-If the Democrat don't think it quit abusing the salvation army about the right time?

-If the capital removal project is not only tangible but eminently successful as far as it has gone?

-If the Salvation army should not have a great, big credit mark for insinuating the present revival?

-If Major Cole will be met at the train by Bob McElhanev, of Springfield, who is a real square Methodist?

-How much money the churches will pay Major Cole to-morrow for his services in evangelizing the people?

-If A. K. B. is not ashamed himself for staying several hours in a gambling room at Jefferson City, Sunday evening February 6, 1887, and subsequently endeavoring to make decent people believe he is a christian?

Died.

At Lamonte, Feb. 12, Emma Reavis, wife of J. J. Mesh, aged about thirty-seven years.

The deceased was a most excellent neighbor, an indulgent mother, a loving wife and exemplary christian. She leaves three daughters, one son and a sorrowing husband, besides parents to mourn her death.

The funeral will take place from the Baptist church at Lamonte at 11 a. m. to-day.

THE COLORADO ROAD.

The Surveyors Arrive From Versailles as far as Breakfast Creek.

F. Neher, division engineer of the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado road, with eleven assistants, registered at Hotel Kaiser last night. Mr. Neher was seen by a BAZOO scribe, and in conversation stated that the survey had been completed to Breakfast creek, one mile east of the city limits.

"What is the actual distance over the surveyed route to Versailles?" was asked.

"Just thirty and one-half miles to where we now are, and it will be thirty-two miles when we reach a terminal point in the city."

"Is your survey an air line?"

"As nearly so as practicable. It does not vary two miles from it at any point."

"How do you find the grades?"

"The grades in Morgan county are what we call heavy work they are not the worst but they are heavy. After we struck the Pettis county line, however, we had pretty smooth sailing."

"How far do you miss Florence, in Morgan county?"

"About two miles to the north, we run through Piermont and we leave the lead mines two miles to the south."

"Do you expect to continue the survey through the west?"

"Yes sir we will for the present make Sedalia our headquarters until we get out of reach and continue on in a northwest direction for an air line to Kansas City or as near air line as we can get."

"How far is the Colorado road completed?"

"To Union, in Franklin county, The survey is completed to Versailles."

"How long before the road will reach this point?"

"That is more than I can tell, or I guess any one else, but it will be pushed as speedily as is possible."

As Mr. Neher desired to accompany some of the boys to the minstrel show this ended the conference and the reporter retired.

Hersford's Acid Phosphate.

Beware of Imitations. Imitations and counterfeits have again appeared. Be sure that the word "Hersford's" is on the wrapper. None are genuine without it.

A Letter of Inquiry.

Father Murphy reterday received a letter from Mrs. John Coffey, of Wheaton, Pott county, Kansas, asking for information concerning Mrs. Bridget O'ncer nee Miss Bridget O'Malley. The latter stated that Mrs. Coffey was a sister of Mrs. O'ncer, that the latter had resided in or near Sedalia some eight or nine years ago and that Mrs. Coffey had heard that she had died recently leaving several children of whose whereabouts and condition Mrs. Coffey is anxious to learn. The letter was turned over to Officer Kelly. It is stated that Mrs. O'ncer died at her home on Flat Creek some time since but of her husband and children the BAZOO could learn nothing yesterday. Any one knowing of them will confer a favor by communicating to Officer Kelly or Mrs. Coffey.

-Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

FILLS THE BILL.

make your consecration so complete that you will completely belong to the Lord. Every time you testify for Him you get stronger, and after awhile will belong to Him."

The evangelist then told of a friend of his who was in the lumber business, but who resolved to just give himself and everything he possessed to the Lord, and who did so, and finally when his lumber interests became involved and he had many trials, among them the loss of his beloved wife, said, "Cole, I can stand it. I have Him."

"Oh," said the Major, "what a blessed assurance, and now of you business men who think religion will do well enough for women but not for you, let me tell you, you are making the mistake of your entire lives. I know of a man who invested $5.00, which he said was for the Lord and in less than two years, he sold it for $22,000."

Praise the Lord, of you love Him. He will be your strength. All things work together for them that love God. Please do get hold of Him this morning. If you do not confess what the Lord has done for you, you will soon have nothing to confess. There is such a thing as dedicating yourself to Him."

The speaker then went on to say that it had been his own experience to be physically weak and that he had always gone provided with medicines enough to found a drug store until at one time while attending a certain church service where testimonies were being given, he had asked what he should do for his physical ills and had finally just taken them all to Him and had according to the instructions in the book of James been anointed with oil. Since that time he had not been a slave to medicine or physicians and had been enabled to toil unceasingly. He had given himself soul and body to the Lord, and the Lord had carried him through. In conclusion the evangelist made a powerful plea to his hearers to come and place themselves before Christ no matter what there needs were and remember that it was not it, or it, or it, but Jesus who was everything and Jesus will fill the bill.

Prayers were offered by Rev. Wilkins, Rev. McFarlane, Rev. Davis and Dr. Bruner, and several came forward to the altar, after which the meeting closed.

Rev. McFarlam preached in the Calvary church every evening last week and had large and attentive audiences. His subject for Friday evening was: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul," and he handled it in a masterly manner. His explanatory illustrations were apt and to the point, his logic convincing, and his appeals powerful and impressive. At the conclusion of his remarks, quite a number, among them Dr. Fleischman, Dr. Carr, Jack Newton, and others went forward and took the evangelist by the hand with words of congratulation for his very able effort.

THE COLORED FOLKS' MEETING.

Last night Major Cole, accompanied by Rev. Jones, Mr. Abraham Meyer, and a few others, went to the African M. E. church and addressed a large audience of colored people. The service began by the singing of "Awake and sing the song of Moses and the Lamb."

This was followed by a very excellent prayer by a blind man named Wallace Smith.

"There is a fountain filled with blood" was sung, and then John Wesley led in prayer.

Rev. Jones announced that they had been having good meetings on this side, and now Major Cole had come to address them."

Major Cole said, "I want to keep my mouth shut, and I want Jesus to do the talking. I don't want any Cole here, only just Jesus. We have been having lots of 'old time religion' in our meetings and I want you to sing about it. Do you sing it here? If you don't I will teach it to you." And thereupon he struck up

"Tis the old time religion."

It was readily sung and was well given. While the song was being sung eight people under conviction went to the front. The evangelist again said, "A brother remarked over in one of the other meetings, 'It is not alone the old time religion, but is good all the time.'"

"The old time religion was again sung with much enthusiasm."

"I would not give a cent for religion if it were not worth something," said the evangelist, "It saved me from sin. It shall be called Jesus, why? Because it saves from sin. When our sins are washed away then our heaven has begun and we reign over the world, the flesh and the devil. It makes no difference, whether a man saws wood or is the president of a bank, if he has Jesus, one is as good as another. We can't see Him with our eyes but he is here."

The evangelist went on talking to his interested hearers in the well known style which is characteristic of him and by his peculiar illustrations succeeded in interesting his hearers most profoundly. The meeting was very orderly throughout and no doubt much good will result from the Major's visit. Among those who came forward were George Nolin, Will Nolin, Jasper Wright, Abe Dillon, Charles Garrett, Mary Anderson, Ida Kidd, Missouri Hawkins and Lillie Wright.

Prayers were offered by Rev. Jones and Abraham Meyer, after which "Nearer my God to Thee" was sung.

Among those who testified was Grandma Kelly, aged seventy-five years, and Mrs. Bryant. Both of them grew very happy and shouted lustily.

SALVATION ARMY

Held forth last night to a large audience, which was quite attentive. Happy Adam conducted the meeting with his usual order, ambition, energy and earnestness. The "Kid" did his full part, as he usually does, and the "crap shooter" acted as a short runner on long errands to put the coal in the stoves, keep the lamps trimmed and fill in the short-stop prayer act.

NOTES.

-One conversion last night.

-Sinners of Springfield, Mo., prepare to surrender.

-Grand Salvation free and easy at 3 o'clock p. m., to-day.

-Total number of conversions by Happy Adam to date, 526.

-Major Cole at Wood's opera house at 3 p. m., and at night at the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

-The negroes will want to vote for Major Cole for president since he preached to them last night and will preach to them at 10 o'clock a. m., to-day.

-The St. Louis Clergy are almost unanimous in their approval of the Salvation Army, believing that it is only through this medium certain classes can be reached.

CALL FROM HOUSTONIA.

HOUSTONIA, Mo., Feb. 12.

Editor BAZOO:

Please give the following space in your paper, and then give the letter to the Salvation hero of the hour, "Happy Adam," and oblige.

THE COMMITTEE.

Happy Adam:

DEAR SIR.—The people of this vicinity are anxious for you to send three or four of your members to this place, believing this to be as favorable a point as any in the county. We were appointed as a committee to extend the invitation. Have engaged a hall, fuel and lights free. Come and we will give you a hearty welcome. We remain most respectfully,

Fred Wilson, R. S. Vantyle, D. E. Longan, M. I. Burke, C. A. Safear, A. T. Dorsey, W. L. Allen, R. T. Quisenberry.

We will meet you at the depot next Thursday evening. We mention this day so as to give you time to make arrangements, and we will look for you; be sure and come.

COMMITTEE.

MAJOR COLE AS AN EVANGELIST.

The following sketch of the evangelist will be read with much interest by not only his friends here, but all over the country. He really commenced in its public character in November, 1874, though he had previously on many occasions actively labored at revival services, especially those conducted by Major Whittle and Mr. P. P. Bliss. In that month he was at Moline, Ill., and there a blessed work of grace was witnessed. Four weeks were spent there and the secular newspapers bore testimony to the spirit of wonderful harmony and union prevailing and to the number of dissipated and reprobate characters reformed. Thence Major Cole went to Rock Island, and afterward to Barraboo, Wis., at the last-named place in connection with Mr. John V. Forewell. In March of 1875 Major Cole went to Louisville, Ky., by an invitation, where he labored with Major Whittle and Mr.

P. P. Bliss in a long series of services with the most blessed results.

Soon after the conclusion of these services Major Cole went to Europe and held services in London, Liverpool, London-derry (Ireland), Gloucester, Chester and other cities. An important feature in the English work was the children's services; those held at Bow Road Hall and at the Victoria Theatre, London, being especially successful. A congregation of from 9,000 to 10,000 children was by no means an uncommon gathering, large numbers attended the inquirers meetings, and many conversions took place. Messrs. Moody and Sankey were then laboring in England, and Mr. Moody urged Major Cole to commence work among the young men of Liverpool. In complying with his request Major Cole was abundantly blessed, and among the most interesting conversion recorded were those of young men who had fallen under the power of the intoxicating cup. The major could speak from his own sad experience to these men in a way that went to their hearts, and having trodden the same path could point them to the only sure way of escape.

SALVATION OF A SCOFFER.

At one of Major Cole's meetings in Liverpool a christian friend called the speaker's attention to the fact that a notorious scoffer was in the house, and Major Cole accordingly directed his remarks pointedly toward that class of hearers, and at the conclusion of his address asked that the hymn commencing, "Stay, thou insulted Spirit, stay," should be sung. It was done, and no sooner had the last note of the music died away than the scoffer was seen to rise. He said that he and his brother had attended these and other meetings for the avowed purpose of turning them into ridicule; they were both atheists. Their mother, he said, was a christian. He was in great distress, but said he knew that for such as he there could be no hope. Conversation and prayer followed, and at length light broke in on his soul. His cry then was "Wonderful! wonderful! that Jesus should save me. It is a miracle, a miracle!" He then went out in all haste to search for his brother and to bring him under the same influence.

At Glasgow, a large meeting was held of Christian workers in connection with Major Cole's services, when many interesting testimonies were given. Among these was that of Rev. Dr. Cairns especially remarkable from the fact that the caution and moderation which are prominent characteristics of Scottish character are strongly developed in Dr. Cairnes. He said he had felt great pleasure and thankfulness in being associated with Major Cole in Berwick, and he could say the same in behalf of the whole evangelist committee in that town. No impression made during the whole period of religious awakening had been more interesting than those connected with Major Cole's visit. They had meetings which quite surpassed those held in any other place he had seen in the profound impression made by the singing and addresses.

Similar testimonies were given at Perth, York, and other places, and so urgent were the requests Major Cole received to continue his work, that he abandoned his long cherished desire to visit the continent of Europe, and spent all the time he had at his disposal in Great Britain. He returned to America amid the kindest wishes of his British friends, and their earnest prayers for his continued usefulness.

Since Major Cole's return he has conducted special services in many parts of the country, of which one of the most remarkable was that at Adrian, Mich., where he now resides. There the meetings were held in the Grand Opera House, which was crowded nightly by an audience of 1500 people, and as many more went away unable to obtain admission.

Dr. Talmage thus writes of his work in Brooklyn, New York: "I commend this evangelistic trio to all whom I may know. Their is in their singing a pathos and power different from any music I ever heard. They live the gospel as well as sing and preach it."
