

WEEKLY BAZOO.

SEDALIA, Mo. TUESDAY, APRIL 16, 1889.

MINOR MENTION.

Little Things Picked up at Home and Abroad for Bazoos Readers

Mr. Highnote lives at Clinton. Nevada is the biggest little town in Missouri. The Hannibal papers are beginning to drip river news. One plain drunk was gathered to his fathers about eight o'clock last night. Tom O'Bannon, of Lamonte, has gone to Oklahoma to bust up with the country. Carthage has a free kindergarten, which is a great snap for mothers who like to gad and gossip. Do the members of the Missouri legislature know that corn ground in this state ought to be prepared by the 15th of April? George Wiseman was sentenced at Charleston to two years in the penitentiary for having three living, two dead and two divorced wives. For general blacksmithing, go to E. J. Kiesling, 314 West Second street. Every job guaranteed. S&W It. The joint committee on the band tournament held a meeting on Friday evening and adjourned until next Thursday night. It is now eleven years since Jesse James left Missouri, and his address has remained a matter of doubt during all this time. It pleases the county seat of Buchanan county as much to be called the "electric city," as it makes it mad to be called St. Joe. Mrs. Alice Williams lectured at the Congregational church last night under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. A large audience was present. Al Smith, who is in the Oklahoma country, had four horses stolen a few nights ago. Oklahoma will be a splendid horse market this summer. Sheriff Smith returned yesterday from Nevada, where he had conveyed Miss Annie Carlinski, who was adjudged insane by the County Court on Friday evening. Jefferson City has declared, by ordinance, that the capital of the great state of Missouri is not adapted to the purpose of a cow pasture. A little son of Con Quin, living at Twelfth street and Missouri avenue, was bitten Friday evening by a dog belonging to a man named O'Bannon. Officer Laird killed the dog yesterday morning. The bill to establish an additional court in Buchanan county, has passed both houses of the Missouri legislature. This is in the nature of a black eye for the St. Joseph Gazette. Messrs. Sterne, Riley and Smith left for Topeka yesterday morning, but will return the first of the week and institute work on the erection of the new electric light plant. The latest case of insanity is reported from Jefferson City, said to have been caused by absorption. The victim is a young lady, prominent in capital society circles, and has been sleeping nightly for three months under a crazy quilt. Oklahoma will be open for settlement April 22d, but you will find the enterprising Grocery and Feed store of Bruns, Harbaugh & Allen open at all times sending out the finest, choicest and freshest goods in the market. Every day in the week at 606 and 608 Ohio street. Three Score and Eleven. To-day Major William Gentry is 71 years old, having first seen the light of day in Heward County, Mo., April 14, 1818. To-day there will be a grand family reunion at the old family mansion, northwest of Sedalia. The children and friends will be gathered under the old roof to bid the hero of two generations a pleasant birth-day and a continued life of health and prosperity. A Pleasant Trip. D. H. Smith and family returned yesterday from their Southern tour. They had been gone about two weeks. Mr. Smith, in a conversation with a BAZOO reporter yesterday, said: "I don't think the ladies did ever enjoy a more delightful trip. We had a special car and traveled very comfortably. We spent several days in New Orleans; there the flowers are all in bloom and you can buy a bouquet as large as your head for ten cents. Oranges and fruits of all kinds are plentiful. We stopped in San Antonio and Dallas. I think they are both beautiful cities. We are all well satisfied with the trip." California Horses. A string of nine horses belonging to Senator George Hearst, of San Simeon, San Luis Obispo County, California, passed through the city yesterday en route to Louisville, Ky., where they will go into training until the meeting of the spring races. They were under the charge of trainer Murray. Three horses had to be left at Fort Worth, Tex., on account of them getting sick of travel, and among them was the famous Pacific coast running horse, "Almont." He also had two other noted horses with him, "Idlewild" and "Robinhood," besides several good colts. A Pleasant Surprise. The social given at the residence of Miss Carrie Gold at Third and Osage streets, Friday evening proved to be, as was predicted, a grand success. Music, both instrumental and vocal, games etc. were the main features of the evening, after which the most delicious refreshments were served, to which the young people present did full justice. It is impossible to give the names of all those who were present, but the evening was voted by all a very pleasant one. On to the Pen. Sheriff Miller, of Jasper county, passed through the city yesterday en route to Jefferson City, having in charge a prisoner named Allen Easley who was sent to the pen three years for grand larceny.

PERSONAL.

L. C. Hall, of Omaha, Neb., is in the city. J. H. Russell, Jr., is here from Jackson, Mich. S. G. Clarke, of Springfield, Ill., is in town. Smith Crow, of Paris, is at Siebers hotel. William Odenwald, of New York, is at Kaiser's. J. C. Hurley, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is a guest at Kaiser's. J. R. La Puelle came up from St. Louis yesterday. A. G. Glasgow came down from Kansas City yesterday. R. W. New, of Chicago, is autographed at Siebers' hotel. Aleck C. Bremer, of Cincinnati, was in the city yesterday. B. B. Sommerville, with the Missouri Glass Co., is in the city. H. W. Ireland, a Chicago traveling man, is at Hotel Kaiser. W. F. White, of Deepwater, Mo., is stopping at Hotel Kaiser. C. E. Lyman, of Milwaukee, Wis., is autographed at Kaiser's. W. F. Johnson came up from Pilot Grove yesterday morning. Dr. S. K. Crawford came in from the east yesterday afternoon. Hon. J. H. Bothwell came up from the state capital last night. S. J. Wilson, of Macon City, came up from Jefferson City yesterday. A. H. Campbell, has returned from a visit with friends in St. Louis. Thomas J. Bradburn arrived in town yesterday from Detroit, Michigan. Richard Engart, a prominent farmer of Howard county, is in the city. Willis P. King, jr., went to Kansas City yesterday to spend Sunday. Abe Stein, advance agent for the "Little Nugget" company is in the city. Frank Donohue came down from Kansas City yesterday to spend Sunday. Secretary F. M. Jacobs returned yesterday morning from Lexington, Mo. Rev. Trone, chaplain of the house, came up from Jefferson City last night. John A. Hannay, of the Gazette, left yesterday to spend Sunday at Versailles. Mrs. Bently of Chicago, a sister of Judge Z. F. Bailey, arrived in the city last night. Ex-Governor Crittenden passed through the city last night on his way to Kansas City. Dan Sprecher, wife and child, came up from St. Louis yesterday to visit relatives and friend here. Col. B. R. Richardson, a prominent attorney and land agent of Versailles was in the city yesterday. George Plattenberg, a brother-in-law of Major John N. Edwards, passed through the city last night, going east. H. Swalley returned from Chicago last night, where he has been laying in a supply of type and other printing material. T. M. Roberts and nephew, R. Jones, went to Sedalia last night to visit Mrs. Gray, a daughter of Mr. Roberts.—Clinton Democrat. City Marshall Garrett, of Tipton, was in the city last night, looking after the tramp who committed the rape at California, Mo., last Thursday. George W. Sol-mou, James M. Key, H. R. Finke, T. M. Pond, Charles Everett, John N. Ople, John T. Wood, Thomas J. Gavin and C. W. Prosser, all of St. Louis, are registered at Kaiser's. Mr. C. C. Clay, the Sedalia marble man, was in Boonville Saturday. He is soon to put up a fine monument in the Andrew Adams' lot in Walnut Grove cemetery.—Boonville Advertiser. Miss Nellie A. Ingram is preparing an excellent and entirely new programme for her dramatic recital to be given at the opera house May 2nd. It is in the interest of the Masonic Orphan's Home of Missouri and doubtless Miss Nellie's many friends will give her a crowded house. Dr. Leslie Crowell, traveling representative for Warner's remedies, has been in the city for several days, and will leave for Warrensburg this morning. Dr. Crowell got into a little misunderstanding with an officer a day or two ago, which has been joyously reported, but the matter has been adjusted in a manner which reflects no discredit upon the doctor either as a man or a gentleman. He will return to Sedalia in a few days. "Keep a reliable friend always on hand," such Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has always proven itself to be. Don't!—If a dealer offers you a bottle of Salvation Oil in a mutilated or defaced package don't touch it—it may be worthless counterfeit. Died. Mrs. Fred Photenhauer died at 721 Grand avenue at 4 o'clock this morning of malarial fever. Time of funeral unknown. Neglect kills injuries, revenge increases them. A neglected cold increases its injurious effect on the system consumption finally kills, unless cured by Warner's Log Cabin Cough and Consumption Remedy. It is ye reliable remedy of ye olden time. The Police Force. It is generally understood that one or two heads will fall in the police force after next Monday night, but no one seems to know who it is. A pressure is being brought to bear upon the council to pay Frank Shackles half salary and place him on the regular force. He is now employed as night watchman by the merchants, and by adding $30 per month to his salary it is thought that a saving could be made to the city, and at the same time have efficient police service.

MARITAL MISERY.

A Woful Tale of Domestic Infelicity and Unhappiness.

Jacob Rudy is Willing to Swear that in His Case Marriage is a Failure

His Wife Marries Him for a Purpose and Fails to Accomplish It.

Pretty nearly everybody in Sedalia used to know Mary J. Sugdon. If they didn't know her personally they did by reputation. She bore the name of being tough, tough, me lud, as a back number beefsteak. She was the daughter of old George Sugdon the notorious miser who died three or four years ago and left property in Sedalia valued at between thirty and forty thousand dollars. He was evidently "on to" Mary J. and willed all his property to nephews living in the east, with the proviso that if his erratic daughter would brace up and settle down and marry and have an heir, that heir should have the property. Mary realized the fact that she must become a wife and mother or go broke, and it goes without saying that she braced up, and it wasn't long until she wooed and won the heart of a farmer named Jacob Rudy, living near Lamonte. They were married on the 21st day of August, 1887, and the fates waited. They are still waiting. For a time the bliss of married happiness hung over Jacob and Mary like an aurora borealis, and the nephews in Philadelphia trembled in their boots. Time rolled on. It always does. "The letter that was longed for never came" and Mary saw the fortune slipping from her grasp, and her love for her liege lord and husband became as cold as a woman's feet and she made life a burden and a snare for Jacob. The end came. It always does. Forbearance ceased to be a virtue and on yesterday Jacob Rudy, by his attorneys Sangree & Lamm, commenced a SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

After reciting the date of the marriage and telling how he had been a faithful, loving and devoted husband to Mary, the petition goes on to unfold a tale of marital woe that would make a wooden Indian weep. He avers that for a year or more, she has led him a miserable life by a long, continued and intolerable course of conduct, calling him vile and unspeakable names, indulging in violent fits of anger interspersed with spells of sulkiness. She had on several times driven him from the house and compelled him to sleep in the barn. On one occasion she had smashed a valuable watch belonging to him by throwing it on the floor. She kept a loaded revolver in her trunk and frequently threatened to puncture his cuticle with the contents. She said she would leave him as soon as she won a certain law suit which she was prosecuting, involving a large amount of money. She had taunted him with the fact that she had only married him which said purpose was connected with the suit, and that she did not love him, and threatened to desert him if he did not leave her all his property. Plaintiff further avers that he was compelled to leave her about the first of March, 1889, since which time she has threatened him with blackmailing letters, in which she charged him with foul and horrible wickedness and criminalities. This and much more, does the plaintiff allege, the petition forming quite a voluminous roll. The trial will doubtless prove rich, rare and racy.

FOR A CERTAIN PURPOSE,

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming a well known and so popular as to need no special mention. After Sixteen Years

Officer Frank Shackles had a very pleasant surprise yesterday. It was no less than a visit from a brother whom he had not seen for sixteen years (and supposed was dead). About sixteen years ago Frank lost his arm in a railroad accident and shortly afterwards his parents died leaving his little brother Warren there a baby, with a kind family who adopted him. They afterward moved away from Sedalia and a year or two later Frank heard that his little brother was dead. Warren is living at Chattanooga, Tenn., and bearing a few days since that he had a brother living in Sedalia, at once came to visit him.

What is more attractive than a prettifer face with a fresh, bright complexion? Foy it use Pozzoni's Powder.

Before the Kadi.

Seven unhappy victims of rum and unfortuitous circumstances faced "the terrible" at the police court matinee yesterday.

George Hammersline was run in for late hours and was fined $5 with a stay of execution, giving him sixty minutes in which to leave the city.

J. E. Haynes, a one-armed printer, drifted into town and proceeded to fill himself up with benzine. He was fined $5.00 and given a stay on condition of good behavior.

Leonard Fisher plead guilty to trespassing on the premises of the M. K. & T. and went to the rock pile in default of $5.

Thos. Carr went to the rock pile on the same charge.

Wm. Stewart plead guilty to late hours and was fined $5 and given a stay of execution for one hour until he could shake the dust of the city from off his sandals.

Geo. Freeborn plead guilty to trespass and was fined $5 with a stay for one hour.

Edward Freeborn plead guilty to trespass and was assessed $5 and costs.

Fell Off of His Mule.

A frowsey headed individual full of firewater and a desire to paint the city, and riding a very frowsey little mule that looked like a Colorado burro was going south on Kentucky street yesterday when the mule shied to one side and the frowsey individual shied into the mud, head first. The mule stood still like a good mule should and the said frowsey granger, looking as though he had been run over by an Oklahoma boom, scrambled to his feet and after several attempts again resumed his exalted position upon the back of his frowsey steed. The last seen of him, he was steering the said steed south on Kentucky street, weaving from side to side and expecting himself to fall off at every street crossing. It is presumed that he arrived at his rural home all right, as his name is not on the police court slate.

Feed For Cattle.

Within the past five years the farmers who have been able to make any money are those who have turned their attention to cattle, and the great question is, what is the best feed?

In Kansas and Texas the farmers have used and prefer SORGHUM CANE FODDER to all other feed. Many of them claim that fodder is equal to 50 per cent of corn. It can be sown in drills and the stalks cut up, but the popular and most profitable way to plant is to sow broadcast, one and one half bushel to the acre. It can be cut twice and ten acres of this can be produced as much as forty of millet. R. T. Wall, Vernon county, and L. K. Schofield, St. Clair Co., Mo., use this feed extensively. There has been such a demand for this sorghum sugar cane seed, but for the production from the sugar cane raised for the Kan. sorghum sugar, the seed would be well worth $2.00 per bushel, but such has been the growth of the sorghum mills of Kansas, and the consequent supply of seed from the sugar cane, it can be delivered at any station in Missouri at within 75 cts. per bushel. Davis & Co., grain dealers, Ft. Scott, Kansas, control most of the seed from the mills of Kansas. 4-14dtw1t

Sold His Residence.

Traveling Engineer Robert Lister, last Friday, bought the residence of Dan Leonard, on Engineer between Fifth and Sixth streets. The amount paid for it is unknown.

BILLIARDS BARRED.

A Bill Passed that Will Interest Sedalia Saloon Keepers.

The bill introduced in the house by Dr. Newberry of Madison, for the regulation of dramshops, has passed. The measure is of interest in Sedalia. It provides that it shall be unlawful for any dram-shop-keeper to set up, keep or use, or permit to be kept or used, in or about the premises of his dramshop or by any other person, or run in connection with such dramshop, in any manner or form whatever, any billiard table, pool table, or any other gaming table, bowling or ten-pin alley, cards, dice or other device for gaming or amusement, and shall not permit any person in or about his dramshop to play upon any such gaming table, bowling or ten-pin alley, or with cards, dice or any gaming device of any kind. Every person violating the provisions of this act will be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not less than $10 or more than $50, and in addition to such fine shall forfeit his license, and shall not again be allowed to obtain a license to keep a dramshop for the term of two years next thereafter.

"Men, like trees, begin to grow old at the top." Avoid the first appearance of growing old by keeping the hair in a vigorous and healthful condition by the use of Warner's Log Cabin Hair Tonic. Sold by all druggists.

A YOUNG REPROBATE.

A Boy Worth $1000,000 an Inmate of the Sedalia Calaboos e.

Brother Marcellian of the Brother's College at St. Joseph, arrived in the city this morning and took charge of Charles H. Thornton, the boy who ran away from the college some time ago and was apprehended at this place. Brother Marcellian says that the boy is a terror—in fact the most wilful boy in school, and it was only about two weeks ago that he ran away and had to be brought back from St. Louis. The boy, who is about fourteen years old, will, when he becomes of age, come into the possession of an estate valued at one hundred thousand dollars.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at Mertz & Hale's Drug Store.

White Caps. It begins to look as if the infernal White Caps had struck Sedalia. Yesterday an honest German named Hoffentler, living in the suburbs, received a notice telling him that if he didn't look out he would be terribly dealt with. The usual skull and cross bones were drawn on the note, which was wrapped up in an old newspaper containing a bundle of switches. The affair creates some excitement and a good deal of uneasiness in certain quarters.
