From developments recently made in the strike of the railroad employes in Indiana, it is quite evident that the organization of a Law and Order League is needed at Evansville and Terre Haute to put the wheels of commerce in motion.

The statement of the condition of the Missouri Trust company published in this issue of the BAZOO is a splendid showing for that well known institution and shows it to be as solid as a rock. It is a credit to Sedalia and a very useful institution.

The article concerning the removal of the Agricultural college from Columbia, contributed to the Kansas City Live Stock Indicator, by Hon. J. H. Bothwell of this city, and which will be found in a condensed form in another column of this paper, is both timely and appropriate.

Owing to the fact that the winter has been a particularly mild one, there has been no organized effort for the relief of Sedalia's poor, and yet charity in a quiet way has not been idle. The BAZOO knows of cases where several destitute families have been almost supported by private charity.

There appears to be an irresistible penalty among certain newspaper writers to try to create panics over the public health. They are never happy unless they can publish stories of fatal epidemic and disastrous plagues.

There is a question of time when humanity is to be decimated by disease—the only uncertainty being as to the malady of which people are to die. Just now these panic-mongers are filling the papers with accounts of the ravages of the influenza. According to their reports, the European hospitals are full of patients and whole cities are stricken; the largest dry-goods establishment in Paris is said to have been closed in consequence of the illness of the shop-boys; single schools have 500 pupils laid low; so many Deputies are attacked that it is proposed to close the Chamber; one-third of the telegraphers on duty are invalidated; the military school of St. Cyr is closed; one-third of the total mortality is charged to La Grippe or La Dengue. In Germany, the ship-yards have been shut up because all the ship-carpenters are sick. In Austro-Hungary there is a large increase in mortality, which is set down to influenza. A panic prevails in Spain and Portugal. In the Eastern States, everybody who has a cold in his head reports himself as a victim of La Grippe, and goes about warning his neighbors to be warned by his melancholy example. The police of Brooklyn declare that they are crippled and must take a few days off. There is talk of closing the theaters in New York. Senator Ingalls has had to take to his bed and will snarl at nobody for a day or two. In Chicago, the lawyer who prosecuted Cronin's murderers has been taken down—probably as a judgement on him. Much of this is probably what reporters call a "fake." The stories read like wild fiction, based on a slight substratum of fact. There is nothing new in influenza; it is an old acquaintance; we know all about it. It is rarely fatal; it does not usually prevent its victims from attending to business. It sometimes assumes an epidemic type and cases become frequent, but it never lays whole communities low. It has never in its past visitations created a general panic; there is no reason why it should do so now. It is probably not nearly so much to be feared as the remedies which Dr. Bartholomew of Philadelphia recommends as safeguards: the inhalation of sulphuric-acid gas, five grains of chinoidin three times a day and two grains of calomel at night. A patient who survived these medicines need fear no epidemic in this world.

HAIR ORNAMENTS.

A quaint old fashion has been revived in the wearing of small side-combs. Many of these are costly trifles, sold by jewelers for sums ranging all the way from $5 to $50 apiece. They are fragile bits of tortoise-shell, with gold tops, in a variety of designs, the more expensive ones being set with pearls, diamonds or other stones. Holding back stray side locks, they have the merit of being useful as well as ornamental, so no lady with a full purse need want a reason for buying.

High-back combs are also in favor. Some have square gold tops unadorned in gold or beading. Others are arched in various designs, sometimes entirely of gold, but often elaborately set with gems. Latticed patterns with a small diamond set in each intersection are shown at Spaulding's, besides some costly specimens of transparent enamel. Held up to the light, these tops show rich colors, like stained glass, resembling in miniature some Gothic cathedral window. Other combs are set with milk-white pearls or sparkle with a row of larger brilliants.

For those who prefer them are shown an equal variety of costly hair-pins. Some of these have perforated tops into which any handsome brooch may be fastened. Others may be detached from their tops by loosening a small screw, when the upper part can be used as a breast-pin. Daisies and pansies with diamond dew-drops in their hearts, or the favorite cluster of sweet-peas, may be used for ornamentation. Like the others, they may reach extravagant values, but they are also temptingly beautiful.

All these finest goods are of French manufacture. It is said that they could not be reproduced in this country, especially the enamels, which are works of art.—Chicago News.

It is told of a pious, well-meaning man here that upon one occasion in Sunday school he prayed: "And bless the superintendent of this school, who has led such a long, tedious, Christian life." Even the superintendent could not suppress a smile.—Kingston Freeman.

Files Files Itching Files. Symptoms—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue humors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals the ulceration and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

—If sick headache is misery, what a Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to work.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

What is Going on Among the Ball Players, the Pugilists, on the Race track and Elsewhere.

A resume of the Principal Events that have Transpired and that are to Occur.

—T. Pollock & Sons, of Bloomington, Ill., last week bought the promising bay colt Ellerton, of J. H. Perry, Lexington, Ky. The price was $1,000.

—There will be no more prize fights, glove fights or any other pugilistic encounters in New Orleans. Mayor Shakespeare has issued a proclamation prohibiting all.

—Henry Gastwright, who is considered the coming pitcher of the profession has signed a Columbus, Ohio, contract. The Brooklyn brotherhood club tried hard to get him.

—Champaigne Charley, the famous 6 year old bay colt of Lexington, owned by M. Walker, died last week of lock-jaw. In his 2 year old form his winnings were $12,525.

—Von Der Ahe of the St. Louis Browns has signed a new catcher who is said to be a rustler. James J. Adams is his name, and he played last year with the Colorado league.

—There is no truth in the report that Mr. Roger Mutrie of the New York League club has agreed to take charge of the Players' team in that city. He says he will stick by the old National League.

—W. H. Rocap, who was the amateur feather-weight champion of America for 1889, is seriously ill at his home in Philadelphia of typhoid fever. His physician, however, thinks that he will pull through.

—There should be some sport of the first order in San Francisco soon of a pugilistic nature. Dominick McCaffrey is about to start from New York with a large purse and will endeavor to get on a match with either Joe McAuliffe or George Le Blanche.

—Frank O'Day, the great pitcher of the New York league club last season, denies positively that he has any idea of deserting the Brotherhood. He has signed a contract with the Players league, and says he will stick by them whatever may occur.

—Fred Pfeiffer, late second baseman of the Chicago club, was in Kansas City Friday. Despite recent losses Fred seems fully confident of the Brotherhood scheme. He says Coniskey and Charlie Bennett of the Boston will both sign with the Players League.

—It is a question whether "Snaf fer" Garrison, the famous jockey will be permitted to ride in England or not, if he takes his projected trip. It is rumble among the clubs over there to have a man serve an apprenticeship of seven years before entering the ring as a professional.

There is a probability of a National Jockey Club being formed. Mr. Withers, the well known horseman, has written to England for the rules governing the turf there and when he receives them the Eastern and Western Clubs may unite in a set of rules that will be of benefit to racing.

—Fogarty, who is playing center field with the Boston team now in San Francisco, is said to have lost $1,000 in backing the tiger on the Pacific coast. For this reason the Philadelphia League club is beginning to count on getting their fine player back before the spring has far advanced.

—The great trotting sire, Wilton, by George Wilkes, dam Allie, owned jointly by W. C. France and Bowerman Bro., at Lexington, Ky., was sold last week to the latter parties. The price was private, but is said to be the largest ever paid for a stallion in America.

—Jack McAuliffe, champion light weight of the world, and Timmy Carroll will meet before the California Athletic club on March 21st. The fight is for a purse of $3,500 and an outside bet of $5,000. Jack Dempsey writes that McAuliffe has practically a sure thing.

—Edward Hanlon, the sculler, is out with a challenge to Jake Gaudaur. The Canadian says that he will row Gaudaur a single shell race for from $2,000 to $5,000 a side, to be rowed before next July. Hanlon then suggests a number of lake, but finally submits the whole affair to a referee.

—President Day of the New York League Club, went to Roger Conner's home in Connecticut one day last week for the purpose of signing him for the coming year. The big first baseman told him, however, that there was not enough money in New York to induce him to desert the brotherhood.

—Old Tom Allen, the ex-champion

heavy weight pugilist of America, says he don't think there is a man in the world who can stand up before John L. Sullivan if he be in condition. He was present at the Richmond fight and says that the great slugger was at least thirty pounds too heavy.

—The great billiard tournament which will commence in New York on February 20, promises to be a big feature in the billiard world. Such experts as Slosson, Sexton, Daly, Heiser and Ives have entered and others will follow. The prizes and purses to be contended for are numerous and very valuable.

—Dick Keating of Lafayette, Ind., and Edward Carey of Crawfordsville, fought twenty-three rounds in Boone county last week. The men weighed 185 pounds each and were equally matched. The fight was even up to the last round, when Keating knocked Carey out with a right-hand swing in the jaw.

—The sparrow shooting match in Philadelphia last week between the veteran Capt. Bogardus and Frank Klein, the local champion, resulted in a tie, each man killing 16 birds out of 20 fired at, 30 yards rise. A final match will be shot at Long Branch this week. Capt. Bogardus is now 57 years of age, but his eye is as good and his finger as quick as when he was a much younger man.

—When Pitcher Terry, of the Brooklyn, greeted his friends a few days since, they thought he had become master of volapuk or one of the dead languages. They were all mistaken, however, for he simply spoke in the fashionable prevalent language of Grippe and said, "I've got th' id-fienozda id by dose so bad I can't shell by shelling salts."

—Slavin, the Australian fighter who has had such a successful career in England, has finally been knocked out by Cupid. There was a pretty bar maid at the hotel where the Australian made his headquarters while training for his bout with Jim Smith, and it is said that she has captured the pugilist's heart and that they are to be married. Edith Slater is the name of the fair one, and Slavin will bring his bride to America with him.

—Men who have faced John L. Sullivan claim that when in the heat of battle he has a most awful expression on his face, and stout hearts have quailed at the sight of it. Paddy Ryan said after his first battle for the championship with the big fellow that when he looked at Sullivan, toward the close of the fight, he almost feared for his life, as there was the expression of a murderer on Sullivan's face. Others have said that they could not bear to look at the champion's face when boxing with him lest their courage forsake them. There are those who attribute the big fellow's success in part to the awful terror inspired by his glare.

Don't give up, there is a cure for catarrh and cold in the head. Thousands testify that Ely's Cream Balm has entirely cured them. It is a safe and pleasant remedy. It is applied into the nostrils. It is not a liquid or snuff. It cures by cleansing and healing. Price 50c.

Muskets and Bayonets in a Tree.

One night, long since, H. T. Huff, a well known coal dealer of Atlanta, Ga., while cutting down a tree on his farm, five miles from Atlanta, on the Sandtown road, made a strange discovery. The tree was in a hollow tree, and Felix Jackson (colored) was put to work with an ax to hew it down. "Lawd a mercy!" exclaimed the negro, as he dropped his axe and peered into the opening he had made by the light of a torch. The negro had discovered an arsenal whose implements of war were like the gun of Rip Van Winkle after his sleep of twenty years. In the hollow tree were eight old army muskets and two bayonets which had been stored away by soldiers twenty-five years ago. The stocks of the guns had nearly rotted away, and the barrels were rusted. The tree had grown about one of the bayonets and made it immovable.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

—A woman living near Freehold, N. J., nearly eighty years old, claims she has traveled but once on the cars, never saw a steamboat, and was never more than twenty miles from home.

Scratched 28 Years.

Body covered with scales. Itching terrible. Suffering endless. No relief. Doctors and medicine fail. Specially cured by Cuticura at a cost of $5.

Cured by Cuticura.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and so your my back. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved. I want to see doctors said was venereal, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took medicine and saw pills over the year and a half, but no cure. I can not describe the CUTICURA REMEDIES, too much. They are a blessing to my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them were three boxes of CUTICURA, and three boxes of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and two boxes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you are bothered and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of psoriasis (picture number 100). How to Cure Skin Diseases, 64 pages, 10 illustrations, and 100 testimonials. Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; Soap, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. —A Soap Bubble, is one of the most taking non-sensational creations of the day. It is well supplied with popular music, and when the humor lags horse play steps in to keep the ball rolling. Last night's performance was attended by a good sized and appreciative audience. Mr. Connelly was as mirth provoking as ever, probably more so, and his songs were never better received. Miss Dollie Foster is as piquant as a pinch of snuff, and though her voice is not of the most powerful, her vivacity and mimetic powers make full amends for any deficiency in the vocal line; and Miss Ross is quite tuneful. The cast generally was up to requirements, and the audience felt quite sore when the curtain fell.—Kansas City Times.

A Method of Treating Disease.

What are they? There is a new departure in the treatment of disease. It consists in the collection of the specifics used by noted specialists of Europe and America, and bringing them within the reach of all. For instance the treatment pursued by special physicians who treat indigestion, stomach and liver trouble only, was obtained and prepared. The treatment of other physicians, celebrated for curing catarrh was procured, and so on till these incomparable cures now include disease of the lungs, kidneys, female weakness, rheumatism and nervous debility. This new method of "one remedy for one disease" must appeal to the common sense of all sufferers, many of whom have experienced the ill effects, and thoroughly realize the absurdity of the claims of Patent Medicines which are guaranteed to cure every ill out of a single bottle, and the use of which as statistics prove, has ruined more men than alcohol. A circular describing these new remedies is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage by Hospital Remedy Company, Toronto, Canada, sole proprietors.

WISHES ALL

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

I take this method of thanking my friends and customers for their liberal patronage of the past and hope to merit the same in the future. I will make special efforts during the year 1890 to make my store the most popular and cheapest for good goods. The rush was unprecedented and we were wholly unprepared for such an emergency. My various departments in charge of the following well known gentlemen, viz:—
