

LOCAL POINTS.

The fire department made four runs during the month of July. Sedalia lodge, No. 27, K. of P., met last night and conferred the rank of Equire. Ernest Wells will be released from jail to-day, his sentence on a conviction for felonious assault having expired. Moses C. Springer, a native of Canada, filed in the circuit court, yesterday, his intention to become a citizen of the United States. William Tutt and William Howard were sworn in as special policemen, yesterday, to maintain order at the colored picnic at the park. Nothing has been heard from Worman, the poultry dealer. The belief is fast gaining ground that he is done with Sedalia for all time to come. The Whipple investigation is still progressing, but the committee refuse to give even a pointer as to the nature of the testimony introduced so far. The verdict will be returned next Monday night. The police arrested four drunk and disorderly persons last night. One was elated for carrying concealed weapons, and another had his pockets filled with watches. The latter was found lying in the alley, near Collins, Farnam & Co.'s livery stable. He told Officer Shackles, who arrested him, that he resided in Europe and lived in Sheol.

A Fish Fry.

There was a big fish fry at Wasson's Spring, on Muddy, seven miles north of Sedalia, Friday. Over seven hundred pounds of the finny tribe were caught and fried and the meal was partaken of by about 125 people.

Named the Park.

The new park on the Winzenburg place has been named Forest Park, and after 8 o'clock this morning cars will leave Ohio and Main streets every ten minutes during the day for the new pleasure resort.

They Were Not Interested.

The members of the Equization party held a meeting Friday night in Cassidy's hall to decide what action, if any, they should take in the primary election yesterday. After some discussion it was concluded to remain neutral and save their powder for larger game.

Preparing to Illuminate.

The work of distributing the gas pipes preparatory to illuminating the business streets of the city during fair week was commenced yesterday under the direction of Joe Watson, who superintended the job last year. The first load was dropped in front of the court house, and they will be distributed along Ohio and other streets.

They Want God Knocked Out.

Sedalia Secular Union No. 1, organized last Sunday with a membership of thirty-three, all of whom want the word God eliminated from the constitution, will hold a meeting in the hall over Mertz & Haie's at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They will then enter upon the task of divorcing church and state, another undertaking they expect to accomplish.

Ran to the New Park.

The first trip over the electric railway to Judge Metzer's new park, on the Winzenburg place, was made yesterday, and hereafter cars will be run regularly to that point. The outlook is good for hundreds visiting the park to-day, and on arrival there they will see one of the prettiest spots in Central Missouri—in fact, a natural park, that can be made beautiful beyond description by the expenditure of a very small sum of money.

Going to the Re-Union.

Steward J. Hyatt, living near Appleton City, and one of the survivors of the wreck that occurred at Chatsworth, Ill., on the I. B. & W. road, August 10, 1887, was in town yesterday, on his way to Chatsworth to attend the third annual reunion of the survivors, which will be held at the scene of the accident on the anniversary of the disaster. At the time of the mishap Mr. Hyatt was living near Pekin, Ill., but last fall he removed to Missouri with his family and located near Appleton City.

Celebrating Emancipation Day.

The colored people of Sedalia observed the anniversary of the emancipation of slaves in the West Indies by celebrating at Association park yesterday. They enjoyed themselves in various ways, the Moberly swing being one of the chief features of amusement.

In the afternoon addresses were made by the Hon. J. H. Bothwell and Louis Hoffman. Rev. J. Will Jackson, pastor of the colored M. E. church, delivered an oration of considerable merit, his subject being "Slavery, Emancipation and Citizenship."

In the evening Dr. G. W. Bryant, of St. Louis, delivered a speech on the tariff.

The attendance was not as large as had been expected, but everyone had good time. The Richmond, Mo., band furnished excellent music.

Say it is a Nuisance.

There is trouble over the Ohio street shooting gallery, and several of those who do business in the vicinity say that the place is a nuisance and should be closed out. The objection is that the gallery is kept open until a late hour at night and the constant shooting is annoying to those who reside in that locality, and especially to those who have sleeping apartments there.

The owner of the gallery has the room rented for six months and maintains that his business is as legitimate as any in the city. He has circulated a petition, asking that he be not molested, and it is difficult to say how the matter will end.

There Was Lots of Fraud.

H. J. Wilkinson, of Minneapolis, Minn., was a guest at Kaiser's yesterday. Speaking of the alleged fraudulent census returns sent in from his city, he remarked to a BAZOO reporter:

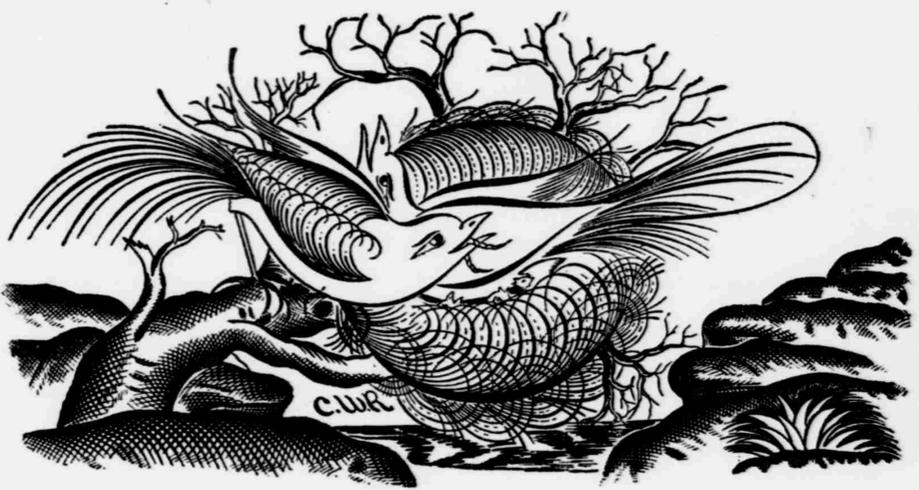

"I am glad a recount has been ordered and so is everybody in Minneapolis. The whole trouble arose from St. Paul's jealousy. They knew that we would lay them in the shade in the matter of population, so they doctored their returns and then preferred changes against Minneapolis. A recount has been ordered for both cities and when the returns are in you will find that Minneapolis has about 200,000 and St. Paul about 150,000. Make a note of these figures, and if I miss it 5,000 in either city I'll buy you a new hat the next time I visit Sedalia."

LOST HIS ARM.

Walter Brill, Aged Nine Years, Has a Narrow Escape from Death.

Walter Brill, the 9-year-old-son of George Brill, who clerks for W. Z. Baum and resides at No. 315 East Eleventh street, had his left arm crushed to a pulp by an M., K. & T. freight, at the Broadway crossing, about 2 o'clock this afternoon. The boy's statement is this: "I was hanging to a box car, when John McMahan, the one-armed policeman, came from behind another car and jerked me off. I would have fallen under the car, but he caught me, and only my arm fell upon the rail and was crushed."

Mr. McMahan was seen and made the following statement: "There were a number of boys hanging on the cars of a south bound freight train. I saw them, and determined to catch at least one of them and give him a talking to. I picked out young Brill, but before he got to me he dropped off, evidently being afraid of arrest. As he dropped, the oil box of a car struck him, turning him around and his arm fell under one wheel and was mashed. I never had my hands on the boy at all."

Immediately after the accident the unfortunate lad was taken to his home, where Drs. Evans and Yancey amputated the member just above the elbow.

Killed by a Thrashing Machine. While engaged in thrashing flax, Wednesday afternoon, five miles west of Nevada, a man named Sears met with a fatal accident. While the thrasher was running at full speed on a stack of flax Mr. Sears went under the power to oil the machine. He was flat on the ground, on his stomach, and on rising to make his way out, one of the levers caught him about the hips, forcing his body, in a twinkling of an eye, through a space of four or five inches between the power and the wheel, crushing his hips and thigh bones to a pulp. On the inside of the upper left leg a gash six inches long was cut by a protruding bolt and a piece of the muscle of the thigh five inches long was torn out. The physician pronounced the hurt necessarily fatal.

Pettis County's Share.

The enumeration of school children in this county was 9,373, and in the annual apportionment of school money Pettis is entitled to $9,428.50 as her share, or about twice as much as Cole county. Poor old Jefferson City!

FOUR PEOPLE KILLED.

A Collision in the Yards at Hannibal Results Most Disastrously.

From trainmen who came in from Hannibal last evening the BAZOO learned of a terrible railroad accident that occurred there yesterday morning, in which four persons—two white and two colored—were killed and several injured, three of them fatally.

There was a circus in the city and the Short Line had an excursion train. It was pulling into the yards, when it collided with a switch engine, with the result stated. The names of the victims, nor their place of residence could not be learned.
