A Destitute Family.

An old man named Burger, with a large family, is sick and in destitute circumstances, in the old Le Roy Hotel, on the South East corner of Sixth and Ohio streets. The old man is sick and unable to work and several of the children are sick and they are in need of the necessities of life. Charitably disposed people who wish to alleviate suffering can do good by bestowing something upon them.

SEDALIA BRIEFS.

—Another limb show on the boards Monday night and the bald heads will get into the front row with care as usual.

—The Union Chautauqua will hold its next meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. A. J. Smith will deliver a lecture on Greece. All are invited.

—John W. Walker has been notified that, through his efforts, a pension of twelve dollars a month has been granted to John Andrews, of 208 East Main street, this city. The application was filed last November.

—The "man in the house" a serio-comic drama, with the dude widower as a star, has not yet been enacted in Sedalia, but will be before the roses bloom again. The star will play two parts. "Old Granny" true to life.

—Alex Bengley, the popular and well known wholesale liquor dealer at 212 Ohio street, has retired from business and sold his stock of goods to J. E. Sewell, late of the Wine Hall corner of Main and Osage streets, who took possession yesterday and will conduct the business at the same stand occupied by Mr. Bengley. Mr. Sewell is a popular and well known gentleman in Sedalia.

—"I have used Salvation Oil and can say, it is the finest thing I ever saw for all kinds of pains or sprains and can recommend it to any one. N. L. Adams, 231 16th street, Cairo, Ills.

HE STOLE A COAT.

Ike Kendall, Recently Become a Bridegroom, Gets Into Trouble.

When the icy wind gets to whistling through a man's whiskers and the mercury is monkeying around zero, a man generally feels the need of an overcoat, and if he is lacking one and is not phenomenally scrupulous, he will entertain a tendency to appropriate his neighbor's, provided there is no other way to secure one.

This was likely the case with Ike Kendall, a well known Sedalian, who was arrested about six o'clock last evening, charged with stealing an overcoat from Janitor G. F. Lyon, of the Sicker Hotel.

Friday night at 8 o'clock Lyon's coat was hanging in the hotel wash room. A few minutes afterward it had mysteriously disappeared and suspicion at once fell upon Ike Kendall, who had been there about that time. The police were notified and shadowed the suspected man but they did not succeed in arresting him until at the time stated, when he was found loitering around the union depot. They caught him with the coat in his possession and the prisoner was taken before Justice Fisher, by whom he was committed to the county jail to await a preliminary trial.

Kendall has lived in Sedalia several years, during which time he engaged in tending bar at various saloons. Up to six weeks ago he had been following this occupation in Lebanon, Mo., and only about a month ago he married a dashing widow with a family of her own. Kendal declared upon this occasion that he had started out in life anew and that his wife was the prettiest woman in the land.

The stolen property, when new cost $28, and its owner at the present time values it at $15.

It is thought by quite a number of people, who have long known Kendall, that he is "touched in the head" and that he is really not responsible for an action like this.

The Deed Recorded.

The following transfer was recorded in Recorder Pilkington's office yesterday: John D. Monsesto to Joshua A. and Sarah A. Leach, lot 5, block 1, Hale & Tegler's sub-division of lots 12 and 13, McVey's first addition. Consideration, $200. This entry designates the property recently purchased and presented to "Dad" Leach by the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen in this city, in recognition of his services to them and as a token of their esteem for him.

A Bright Little Boy's Death.

The many friends of Mrs. Olive Small will tender her their sincere sympathy in the loss of her beautiful little son Ernest, whose death by that dread disease, diphtheria, took place this morning at the family residence, No. 1422 South Kentucky street. Little Ernest was but 4 years of age but had won the love of everybody by his winsome ways and quick intelligence, and many tears of regret will fall when his death is learned. Rev. A. R. Farris, the former pastor of the Southern Methodist church, of which Mrs. Small is a member, has been telegraphed to preach the funeral sermon to-morrow afternoon.

A man named Taylor nearly beat his wife to death in Springfield. She was enciente, and the Springfield Leader calls the husband, a forked deformity from a moral standpoint."

DEATH'S DOINGS.

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that George Alfred Dixon, the eighteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dixon, had died in Chicago yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The deceased was an interesting and lovable little child and his death has caused profound sorrow to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gold and other relatives in this city. His disease was a brain trouble and while he had been ailing for sometime, yet he was not considered to be in a dangerous condition until a few hours before his death. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon will arrive with the remains in this city this morning and the funeral services will be held at the Gold residence No. 207 West Seventh street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. B. L. Meyer, mother of Messrs. Frank B. and Ben F. Meyer, died in St. Louis yesterday evening at the family residence No. 1706 Carr street. She had been ill for sometime, and for several days hovered between life and death. Mrs. Meyer was about 78 years of age and leaves a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. The Meyer Brothers have many friends here who will sympathize with them in their bereavement. The funeral will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock p. m. to-morrow afternoon.

The sad news reached this city yesterday of the death yesterday morning of Hugh Hall, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall at their home in Aurora, Mo. The child's disease was membranous croup and in their great affliction the parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city. The remains will arrive here at 8 o'clock this morning and the funeral service will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Galbreath at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The funeral of little Ernest, the handsome young son of Mrs. Oliver Small, took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Kentucky street. The floral tributes were very beautiful and testified to the sympathy which is generally felt for the sorrowing mother, the grand-parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Small and other relatives. Miss Gallie, Messrs. Taylor and Hogg sang an appropriate hymn and the beautiful address was delivered by Rev. A. R. Farris.

The body of Mrs. Ann Coughlin, which has been buried in Natchez, Miss., for several years, was brought to Sedalia yesterday afternoon and interred.

Charles Allen Tish, infant son of Daniel Tish, who resides at 123 East Pettis street, died yesterday morning.

The infant son of W. S. Pumphrey, of Dresden, died yesterday morning.

Taken to Green Ridge.

Yesterday morning Deputy Constable King arrived in the city and returned to Green Ridge with George Patton, Levi Patton, Bud Shobe, Hayes Ferguson and King Goodall, all colored prisoners who had been confined in the Pettis county jail since January 2 on the charge of disturbing the peace.

Prosecuting Attorney Hoffman accompanied the party for the purpose of conducting the trial on behalf of the state.

A Proud Engineer.

J. O. Frick, a popular engineer on the J. C. B. & L. road, who resides at 1006 East Third street, felt prouder yesterday than Grover Cleveland, on account of the arrival of a 12-pound daughter at his home. The best cigars in town were at the disposal of his friends.

A colored teacher in Missouri wants an assistant state superintendent of schools to look after the educational interests of the colored people.

THE SALARY BILL.

County Officials Generally Are In Favor of Its Passage.

A majority of the Buchanan county officials are in favor of the passage of a measure at the present session of the legislature that will make all of the county officers salaried officers instead of allowing them certain fees for their work, says the St. Joseph News.

It is quite likely that such a bill will be introduced at the present session and it is known that a portion of the Buchanan county delegates will favor it. Representatives Adkins and Stuart expressed themselves some time ago as being in favor of such legislation.

The county officers of Jackson, St. Louis, Pettis, Greene, Livingston and many other of the larger and wealthier counties in the state also favor such a step, and it is quite likely that a bill of this kind will be passed if the salary lists can be adjusted so as to conform to the wealth and population of each county.

Under the present law the county clerks and circuit clerks are allowed a salary of $2,000 a year which is received in the shape of fees. Then they are allowed $3,500 per year for clerk hire, and no more. Those officials are also required to show by an itemized settlement each year how this $3,500 is expended and how much is paid to each deputy. It has been suggested that the county and circuit clerks be paid a salary of from $2,000 to $2,500 per year, and that their deputies be paid a stipulated sum for their labor. In this manner it is argued that the county would be a gainer by a considerable sum.

It is also proposed to make the prosecuting attorney a salaried officer at $3,500 per year and the assessor a salaried officer at from $3,500 to $5,000 per year. The county recorder is at present allowed to retain $4,000 in excess of clerk hire, and all receipts over and above that amount must be turned into the county treasurer. By making the recorder's salary $4,000 per year and fixing the salaries of his deputies the receipts on an average would pay the expenses of the office.

OUT OF PRISON.

George Gannon, a Former Sedalian and Forger, Released From the Penitentiary.

A passenger alighted at the Union depot from the 4:15 train yesterday afternoon, who attracted immediate attention and who had a crowd soon congregated about him. He was thin and pale and shivering and his garb denoted only too plainly that he was an ex-convict. He wore a cheap grayish suit, which cost the state probably less than $5, and his rough brogan shoes were brand new.

The fresh arrival proved to be Geo. Gannon, a former Sedalian who was convicted of a small forgery in this city and sent to the penitentiary for five years some time in 1889. He had been released only a few hours before on the three-fourths rule, had been given a shoddy new suit of clothes and passage home by the state, and in accordance with the rules of the prison, had left the capital within a limited time. He took the first train for Sedalia and reached here as previously stated.

Quite a number of his acquaintances recognized him as he stepped from the cars, and of course gave him a greeting more out of curiosity than from any feeling of admiration or friendship. Gannon seemed glad to breathe the icy air of liberty once more and also appeared to enjoy the informal reception tendered him. He answered many questions and chatted about his experiences behind the State's stone walls. Then limping with a cane—for he has a crippled foot—he wandered around a short time, aimlessly and in a dazed kind of way, finally disappearing from the gaze and out of the hearing of the crowd on the platform.

Poor, wretched creature! Turned out into the friendless world, from prison walls, his life blasted, his wife divorced from him and again married, and he without a cent of money or a friend. It seems almost reasonable to assert that imprisonment for a lifetime would be preferable to such sort of freedom.

A New Corporation.

Friday afternoon the Sedalia Water and Light Co., with a capital stock of $500,000 filed articles of incorporation in Recorder Pilkington's office. The incorporators, who are all Sedalians and who are directors of the company are J. B. Quigley, L. P. Andrews, and S. F. Rosse. The stock is all paid up and is divided into 5,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. The purpose of this company, which has absorbed the Sedalia Waterworks company, is to operate waterworks and electric lighting and power works either by construction or the purchase of works already completed. This corporation is the largest in Sedalia and one of the most extensive in the State.

THE RAILROADS.

"Fewer changes have been made in the train service of the M., K. & T. railroad the past year than for many years," said an old time conductor to a Sun reporter last night. "The service to-day is as good as it has ever been and the company no doubt appreciates this fact to the fullest. The day for the wholesale dismissal of employees is a thing of the past. The company find it to their interest to retain in their employ men who are perfectly familiar with the property and who are as devoted to the company's interest as any set of men could be, and as a result there have been fewer costly accidents on the road the past two years than ever in the history of the corporation. The records of the company will bear me out in this statement."—Parsons Sun.

—General Passenger Agent A. C. Dawes, of the C. B. & Q., who is at Tampa Fla., for his health is so much improved that it is believed that he will soon be able to return to his duties.

SHE MADE HER MARK.

A Blushing Young Bride-Elect Unable to Write Her Name.

Deputy Recorder Sam Rosse had an experience yesterday afternoon which he will doubtless remember at least till next Christmas, and the first of the kind which has ever occurred in the office daily illuminated by his genial countenance.

About four o'clock p. m. a well dressed young couple entered the door and timidly approached the little window through whose narrow portal hundreds of papers have been passed which made hearts happy for the time being, if for no longer.

The young man was tall, brawny and browned by country life. He looked as though he might face a cannon, but his courage was evidently wavering just at that critical moment.

The girl—for she seemed hardly more—was braver than her escort, and seemed not to falter in the least.

Rosse's practiced eye devined at a single glance the mission of his visitors and his conjectures were found to be correct when he was asked to make out a marriage license.

He lost no time in attending to that pleasant duty and promptly handed the official blank to the young man for his signature. This was written rather awkwardly and nervously, and then the official document was passed to the petite maiden for her signature. To the amazement of the deputy and a BAZOO representative, who happened to be present, she hesitated, faltered and refused to take the proffered pen. It seemed a clear case that she meant to break the betrothal right then and there.

The abashed recorder and prospective groom insisted that she should sign the document, but she still blushing refused and held back.

After terrible suspense and embarrassment she declared that she could not write. Her pretty, bright eyes drooped in shame and the roses that had reddened her dimpled cheeks, grew pale.

Then it was that she consented to make her mark and as the astonished deputy and she held the penholder, the mystic cross was drawn across the paper and both breathed a sigh of relief. A gentleman standing near was summoned as a witness and added his signature to the official sheet.

It may be that both are as happy as though she had written her name, in faultless characters with a diamond pointed pen, but it seemed strange to see a handsome and apparently intelligent young Missouri girl, in this day of public schools and every educational opportunity, unable to write her name at so important a time.
