Everyone interested in good reading, combined with practical information on all things connected with the household, should get the September number of the Ladies' World. The fashion pages of this issue show an unusual variety of pretty autumn and winter models, and there are besides articles on Dressmaking and on the new fabrics and trimmings. Day Allen Willey describes, in Vanderbilt of the Mountain, what George of that name has done for the mountaineers of North Carolina, where he lives. It is an interesting recitation. In fiction there are The Gospel Quilt, a story of the mountain folk, by Alice MacGowan, The Road to Fairyland, by Edith Summers Updegraff, Joachim Dean, Forger, by Hugh Pendexter, The Careful Kidnapper, by Josephine Moyle and the Fairy's Janet, by Winifred Kirkland—all finely illustrated. In the household department proper there are numbers of tested recipes, including some dishes made without eggs.—[New York; Fifty Cents a Year.]

Third Annual Picnic A Success In Every Particular

The third annual picnic of the Barry County County Anti Horse Thief Association was held Thursday at Bethel Springs, five miles southeast of Monett.

With the exception of the dust the day was an ideal one and there was in attendance a great crowd of the prosperous farmers of Barry county, also a goodly number from Monett and Purdy.

The exercises began at 10:30 a m with John Burns chairman. Addresses were made by Rev. J. G. Knotter, Rev. Will Kennedy, Prof. H. E. Blaine, Hon. W. A. Wear, Judge F. C. Johnson, D. S. Mayhew, F. P. Sizer and J. F. Merriod.

The Purdy cornet band was there during the day and rendered a large number of appropriate selections.

During the afternoon there were a number of races and amusements such as potato races, fat men's races, young men's races, pie eating contests, egg races, jug breaking, etc.

The editor had the pleasure of attending the picnic and spending a very enjoyable day with his farmer friends.

The best of order was maintained and everything was done by the various committees to make the time pass pleasantly for all.

Team For Fire Department.

The council committee and the chief of the fire department purchased yesterday of J. Brendlinger, a fine span of horses for the fire department. The team will be brought in today and will be placed in the department as soon as the stalls can be completed.

With a good team of horses and a member of the department in constant attendance at the fire house it will be an easy matter to get first class service.

Just at this time it is necessary that especial vigilance be maintained for there is great danger of fire owing to the extremely dry weather.
