TWENTY-SEVEN PERSONS ARE DROWNED IN FRISCO WRECK

Chair Car Surmerged in Fifteen Feet of Water. Fifteen Dead Identified

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Twenty-seven persons were drowned early today when St. Louis & San Francisco west-bound passenger train No. 5. St. Louis to Texas, plunged into a cloudburst two miles west of Lebanon, Mo., and two passenger cars toppled into a deep gulley swollen with water.

Fifteen of the dead have been identified. Eighteen persons were injured, but few of them hurt dangerously. Ninety-nine persons, including the train crew, were on the train, and all have been accounted for.

Twenty-seven bodies had been recovered from the wreck tonight, and of these fifteen had been identified. The following list was prepared at the Frisco general offices:

Identified dead; Henry Wagoner, Harrison, Ark.

W. A. Childers, Glover, Mo. Mrs. John Myres, Thayer, Mo. J. H. Stockstill, Springfield, Mo., fireman.

Vernon Calvin, Rumley, Ark. George Coxey, Green Forest, Ark.

H. W. Newkirk, Hannibal, Mo. C. New, Ketchum, Okla. Mrs. Elizabeth Rostetter, Alliance, Ohio.

August Wetner, St. Louis. Lena Myres, Thayer, Mo. Daisy Perry, address unknown.

Elsie Calvin, Rumley, Ark. W. W. Naylor, Springfield, Mo. Mrs. George Brown, Bush, Ark.

The accident occurred at a curve which marked the edge of a ravine characteristic of the Ozark hill country. For several hours the train had been going carefully, as the engineer feared the heavy rains had weakened the track. As the engine reached a curve two miles from Lebanon, Engineer O'Brien saw a wall of water, apparently caused by cloudburst, ahead of him. He thought the train was going only fifteen miles an hour, but before it could be brought to a stop it had plunged into the water.

The twelve foot embankment, on which the track sagged under the weight of the train the chair car and smoker toppled over into the ravine.

The engine and the mail and baggage cars had crossed the deepest part of the ravine, and though they were pulled from the rails and toppled over, they did not fall into the water. The fireman was killed, apparently having been crushed. The engineer escaped. None of the mail clerks or express messengers was hurt. The four sleeping cars remained on the track.

Chamberlain's Liniment

MAIL CLERKS UNINJURED

The mail clerks on the passenger train wrecked near Lebanon, Tuesday morning, all escaped unharmed. They worked for half a day in water to their waists assisting in rescuing the victims. They were covered with mud from head to foot but had to remain that way until they reached St. Louis as their extra clothing was washed out of the car in their suit cases. They came on to Monett and then immediately started back getting no chance to secure a change of clothing.

A FINE COUNTRY HOME

Sunday afternoon the editor and Mrs. Peters had the pleasure of inspecting the new home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Arnaud which they are erecting on their fine farm south of town.

When Mr. Arnaud decided to go to California a year ago he wisely reserved a part of his land, a 360 acre tract just east of the old homestead, to come back to in case the west was not to his liking.

He, of course, came back to the Ozark country and is now erecting a fine two story dwelling, with full size basement, within a few rods of the site of the log cabin in which he lived for a time when he first purchased this particular 40 acres over thirty-eight years ago.

Mr. Arnaud has just completed drilling a 160 foot well from which water will be piped to the house, barn and feed lots. He also plans to use the water to irrigate the garden in dry weather.

When their buildings are completed this worthy couple will have one of the best country homes in this section.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured

MAIL AND EXPRESS BADLY DAMAGED IN WRECK

Many bags of mail were recovered from the wreck at Lebanon which were badly soaked. The most damage was to the circular, paper and magazine packages, some of which cannot be sent on. At the parcel post terminal station the wet mail has been spread out on the pavement to dry and it is a sorry looking bunch of mail. The packages of letters were not so badly injured as they are more compact and the water did not penetrate to the inside of the packages.

George Shelton, the express agent at Monett went with the bridge crew to the scene of the wreck to look after the interest of the Wells-Fargo Company. He said the express matter was almost a total loss. The messenger, Frank Holloway, of St. Louis, was the only one in the express car. He was not injured but says he is ready to quit the road as he doesn't care to have such an experience again. He has been in the express business twenty years.

The bridge crew reached the scene of the wreck about five o'clock, Tuesday evening having been delayed by two wash outs on the way. By the time they reached there the creek had subsided until it could be stepped across. Everything was deep in mud.

Arthur Erwin and Mr. Henderson attended the public sale at George Westerman's near Stotts City, Wednesday.

Miss Katherine Condon left Tuesday night for Omaha, Neb. She will also visit at Denver and other places in Colorado before her return home.
