

WUILLAZ IS REMANDED FOR TRIAL FOR MURDER

Hearing in Court of Justice of Peace Keys in Girard.—Is Unable to Furnish Bond.

Pittsburg, Kan., Aug. 4.—John Wuillaz was bound over for trial in district court on the charge of first degree murder of J. C. Wofford, near Arma, after a hearing in the court of Justice Raymond Keys in Girard yesterday morning. Bond was fixed at $10,000, which he was unable to give. He was remanded to the county jail to await trial. Wuillaz waived preliminary hearing on the charge of assaulting Wofford, and his bond was fixed at $1000 on that charge, which he also failed to give.

Only four witnesses were placed on the stand yesterday morning. They were Mrs. Wofford, widow of Wuillaz's victim; her son, who was himself wounded in trying to go to the aid of his father while Wuillaz was firing; Scott Owens and Mrs. Delplace.

Mrs. Wofford and Raymond testified that the family retired at 9 o'clock the night of the tragedy. About 11 o'clock Wuillaz was heard making a disturbance in the yard. Mr. Wofford went out and there was a heated exchange of words. Mrs. Wofford sent Raymond out to his father and just as he came upon the scene Wuillaz fired the shots that caused the death of Mr. Wofford and wounded the boy.

Scott Owens said that a short time before the shooting he saw Wuillaz beating Wofford's horse. He testified that Wuillaz said to him, "I kill the horse; I kill the man and I kill some more."

Mrs. Delplace, at whose home, adjoining that of the Woffords, Wuillaz boarded, testified that Wuillaz left there at supper time the night of the shooting and never returned.

The cross-examination of the state's witnesses by W. C. Benton, attorney for Wuillaz, did not indicate what the line of defense will be when Wuillaz is put on trial in district court. He put no witnesses on the stand today.

The state was represented at the preliminary hearing by County Attorney A. B. Keller and Deputy George F. Beezley.

The hearing of August Van Hoy of near Dunkirk charged with being an accessory after the fact by aiding Wuillaz to escape had been set for today in Justice J. A. Smith's court but was continued one week. Van Hoy is out on bond.

HAD TO BRING HIS NIGGERS BACK

The following is an extract from a speech made to a bunch of Paris negroes by a colored Democrat at the depot Saturday night. He was sitting on a truck beneath the stars and delivered himself in this fashion:

"The Lawd said, Pharoa, turn my people loose, an' when he didn't do it the Lawd said again, Pharoa turn my people loose, an' when he didn't do it the Lawd tuk Pharoa down to the Red Sea and chucked him in it. That Mistah Wilson, he say, Karanzay sot my niggers free, an' when he don't do it that Mistah Wilson, he say agin, Karanzay, turn my niggers loose or I se comin' after 'em. Still he don't do it an' that Mistah Wilson—'em right home yoself—or thar's goin' to be hell to pay. An' next day fo' million white men with the big dogs on flat cars started for Mexico. Yo' know what happened? Afo' they got there old Karanzay done turned them niggers loose, give 'em a Palm Beach suit of clothes an' a bottle of 'mule' apiece an' put 'em on a Pullman car an' sent 'em home. An' on the way they met Mistah Wilson, an' he says boys, I wuz just comin' to get you if it tuk every white man in the Newwited States to do it. No man kin lock my niggers up 'er 'pose on 'em an' not hear from me. Come on an' git some of this watermelon. Ever hear of a Republican doing anything like that? Naw yo' didn't. That Mistah Wilson is shonuff white folks. Republicans ain't got no use for a nigger 'cept on election day."—Paris Mercury.

YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH IN MIDDLE WEST

A man who was never in New York writes in the August American Magazine:

"It seems to me that we come nearer getting value received, as the old saying goes, for every dollar we spend out here than people do in either the East, or the Far West. We invest no money in tips, neither do we pay for the maintenance of glittering gilt palaces called restaurants and cafes, with their extravagant display of gilt and tinsel. Middle-class Middle-Westerners have reduced life to a one hundred cents to the dollar basis. Our men are sane and our women are sensible. Take the average housewife here, for instance. She is not ashamed to do her own cooking and cleaning, and, in lots of cases, the family washing and ironing. She makes a great deal of the wearing apparel worn by herself and her children."

Mrs. H. C. Jones returned to her home at Exeter, Monday, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Herron.

PARALYSIS TOLL NOW $1,025

Nearly Five Thousand Children Have Been Stricken in New York
New York, Aug. 4.—More than one thousand children now have been killed by the epidemic of infantile paralysis and nearly five thousand have been stricken by the disease. The health department's daily bulletin shows that the plague still continues to gain headway. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock today forty-five children died of the disease in the five boroughs of New York City and 175 new cases, the second largest number in a single day, were reported. Since June 26 there have been 4,680 cases, 1,025 of which proved fatal.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The Times has for some time been seriously considering the proposition of advancing the price of the weekly issue to correspond with the greatly increased price of paper and printers supplies, but as yet have not been able to see our way clear to do so.

We are now charged nearly three cents a pound more for our blank paper than we were six months ago and have been informed that another raise is expected soon.

We have decided that for the present at least we will not advance the price except as to subscribers who do not pay cash in advance.

To all subscribers who pay for one year in advance we will, for the old price $1.00, send the Weekly Times for one full year, and also, as a premium, send them the Weekly Kansas City Star, for the same length of time. Subscribers now in arrears can, by paying arrearsages and one year in advance, take advantage of the above offer.

After October 1, 1916, subscribers not paying in advance, will be charged $1.50 cents.

Subscribers in arrears are expected to remit without delay.

The total valuation will reach at least a million dollars. Mrs. Phelps will receive $50,000 and the youngest son $70,000. CARELESS DRIVER CAUSES INJURY TO CHILD

The little daughter of John Gerbing was injured, Friday morning, when a delivery boy ran into the buggy in which the child was seated, throwing her out on the ground.

Miss Pauline Weldy, the child's aunt, had just driven to the home of Mrs. Jeffrey Moore for a visit. She got out of the buggy and as she started to lift the little girl out a delivery boy drove up the street and struck the wheel of the buggy, turning it over. The child was thrown violently to the ground.

Dr. A. Jones was summoned and found no broken bones but thought she might be injured internally.

STUNG BY BEES

The little two year old son of B. O. Short and wife wandered away from the house and went over to Frank Coopers yard where he has a swarm of bees and got to playing with them. The bees were after the little fellow when his mother discovered him. She gave the alarm and tried to get him. Mr. Short and several men were working on John Stalter's house across the street and they rushed to the hive and carried the little fellow away from the bees, but he was very badly stung.

Several of the men and women who were there were also badly stung, especially Mr. Short and wife and Earl Glassford.

A doctor was called and worked over the little boy for several hours, and this morning he was resting fairly good, as was also Mrs. Short. The accident happened about five o'clock Wednesday evening.—Peirce City Leader.

NO DANGER FROM JAPAN

But David I. Walsh Wouldn't Halt Preparedness on That Account

Out of a five months' leisurely tour through the Orient, David I. Walsh, ex-governor of Massachusetts, gained the main impressions that Japan will never seek war with the United States, that the absolute lack of American shipping in Oriental waters is a matter for national regret, and that the Philippines and the conduct of the United States toward them should make every American proud to belong to his country.

Mr. Walsh arrived from the Orient via Vancouver, B. C., from a trip which he took for rest and recreation, and upon which he started shortly after his term as governor expired, January 1, 1916. He was on his way home to Clinton, Mass.

While Mr. Walsh would not discuss any political subjects, for the reason that he was five months out of touch with the existing situation, he was especially enthusiastic over Japan, and prolonged his visit there to make a closer study of the country.

"Japan impressed me greatly," he said. "The intensive industrial development of the people everywhere in Japan is a thing to wonder at. The country has come ahead by leaps and bounds. The war in Europe has brought increased prosperity to its industries, and a visit to the city of Osaka would remind one of the industrial activity of the most industrious of the cities of America. They are now supplying their own country and the Orient generally with the goods formerly furnished by England and Germany, and are profiting accordingly.

"As far as war with Japan is concerned, there will be no war. There is no real feeling of antagonism toward America on the part of the Japanese, but despite this I do not think that we should fall in preparedness for any eventuality that might come from any nation. Japan cannot afford to make war on the United States, as more than half of her exports go direct to the United States and trouble with this country would mean the paralyzing of her entire industrial life.

"But there is another side to a visit to the Orient. If there is anything that America needs in the Orient it is merchant marine. It is deplorable to think that American business men can not find means to ship American goods to and from the Orient and that the American traveling public cannot visit the Orient save through ships that bear an alien flag."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
