

SWAT THE FLY

Prevention and Cure Both Recommended by the Experiment Station to Control the Typhoid Carrier

The best means of getting rid of flies is to never let them get a foothold, according to W. W. Swett of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station. Although his recommendations are made mainly from the standpoint of protecting cows against flies, they are just as applicable to the protection of people.

The best means of fly control is through preventing them from breeding. It requires ten days for the fly to develop from egg to adult, so if all barnyard manure and other filth in which it can develop is cleaned up every five or eight days, the flies' supply will be cut off. If it is impossible to remove the filth far enough so that the flies which breed in it cannot reach the house or barns, it may be treated with powdered borax sprinkled over the manure pile or other filth at the rate of about an ounce for each cubic foot to be treated. After it has been sprinkled on, it should be washed through the pile with water. Half a pound of Hellebore which has been allowed to stand in ten gallons of water from ten to twenty-four hours may be sprinkled at the rate of a gallon to the cubic foot on the filth to be treated.

In either barns or houses fly-traps help a little and a great deal of relief may be obtained by mixing half a pint of milk, half a pint of water, and two tablespoonfuls of formalin (40 per cent formaldehyde). Stronger mixtures have so much formalin in them that the flies do not drink it. A slice of bread may be placed in the plate in which the mixture is exposed.

Cows may be protected by means of commercial or home-made repellants. Pyrethrum powder is good and the commercial repellants are generally preferable if they do not cost too much. Home-made mixtures of either one part of crude carbolic acid or pine tar with nine parts of cotton seed oil give very good results if applied lightly, but if applied too heavily they will injure the skin and hair and do more damage than the flies will.

HELP IS RUSHED TO POLICEMAN

John F. Darnell, Traffic Officer, Tells of Tanlac's Aid

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 15.—The words of an officer of the law, John F. Darnell, traffic policeman at Twelfth and Main Streets, have been added to the mass of evidence regarding the merits of Tanlac, the new medicine. Traffic Officer Darnell recently said:

"For a long time I have suffered from stomach trouble. My digestion was very poor. I had no appetite. What food I did eat seemed to do me no good. After meals I'd be bothered with gas in my stomach that would cause bloating. I'd usually feel uncomfortable for several hours.

"Before I had taken my first bottle of Tanlac I noticed benefits. My appetite improved daily. I can eat anything I care for now and there are no bad effects such as bloating or gas in my stomach."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like and is a fine blood purifier and general system cleanser.

Tanlac is now being especially introduced and explained in Monett by the A. H. Cox & Co. Drug Store. Adv. d&w.

DRINK SOUR MILK IN WARM WEATHER

Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the University of Missouri Advises Its Use, Especially in the Summer.

Many persons have a prejudice against sour milk. Nevertheless, during the past few years it has come into great popularity in the United States. This has been largely due to the influence of Professor Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, whose death was recently announced, says M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri.

Metchnikoff made many studies on the prolongation of life, and came to the conclusion that one great cause of death was decomposition of food in the intestinal tract and absorption of the poisonous products. It is a known fact that many nations of the world, especially of Western Asia and Eastern Europe, look upon sour milk as an essential part of their daily diet. Among the Bulgarians, who use sour milk habitually, an unusual number of very old persons is found. Metchnikoff believed that this was due to the large amount of sour milk used and showed that by introducing the sour milk bacteria in milk the bacteria which is found normally in the intestinal tract could be driven out and replaced by those given.

Tablets containing the acid forming germs of sour milk dried in some inert media are for sale on the market, and have achieved a great success. They are used now by physicians largely in the treatment of intestinal disorders in infants.

Sour milk, whether buttermilk, skimmed milk or whole milk, has much to recommend it. It is a nutritious and wholesome diet for any time of the year, but is especially good during the summer months. It often produces markedly good effects in old persons who suffer intestinal indigestion.

DEUTSCHLAND REPORTED CAPTURED BY BRITISH

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 12.—Officers of the French armored cruiser, Admiral Aube, which put in here for coal and supplies, declared to a United Press representative tonight that wireless advices from the British fleet in Atlantic waters said the German super-submarine Deutschland had been captured by a British patrol ship.

The capture occurred Thursday, according to the French officers who said they did not know where the patrol boat encountered the merchant submarine.

The armored cruiser Admiral Aube put into this port, according to the French consul, to get certain official papers from him, as well as to take on supplies.

SWAT THE CHIGGER.

Touch each chigger bite with a brush that has been dipped in iodine or apply strong solutions of ammonia or common baking soda after itching has begun. The better plan, of course, is to prevent the chigger from getting a foothold at all. This may be done in a number of ways: A bath in hot water with strong soap is very good, if taken immediately after passing through the shrubbery and weeds from which the chiggers are picked up, but the best preventive is flowers of sulphur rubbed all over the body, particularly from the knees down. The sulphur may be made to stick better if mixed with a little cold cream and rubbed on.—L. Haseman, Missouri College of Agriculture.

A very sad accident occurred at the home of Wm. Parman, living in Dog Hollow, last Friday evening. The little 10-year-old daughter of Mr. Parman was accidentally shot and killed by a son-in-law, Mr. Woods, while preparing to start on a hunting trip. It seems that Mr. Woods had set the gun down beside a tree and when he picked it up was discharged and the little girl was killed. County Attorney Teager was notified but it appeared that the killing was purely accidental and no steps taken to institute legal proceedings against Mr. Woods.—Pineville Democrat.

PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY

"Hey, Doc!" called a citizen of Grudge to a professional appearing stranger who was passing the house. "Come in and see if you can fix up my brother-in-law. He's having a fit or something."

"But, my dear sir, I am a veterinary surgeon—"

"Aw, that's all right! Didn't you hear me say that this is my brother-in-law?"

FRISCO STATION AT NEOSHO ROBBED BY YOUNG BANDITS

Waiting Traveling Men in Depot Are Not Robbed.—No Trace of Robbers Found.

Neosho, Mo., Aug. 11.—The Frisco passenger station was robbed at 5 o'clock this morning by two youthful robbers, who obtained $107.09 from a money drawer and escaped. The police were notified of the theft and instigated a search for the pair, but as yet no trace of them has been found.

J. E. Propst, night operator at the station, was sleeping on a cot on the platform of the station when one of the boys, both of whom were masked, pressed a revolver against his side, waked him and demanded that he "turn on the lights and open the money drawer."

After they had secured the money from the drawer the youthful bandits searched Propst and his helper and departed from the station, walking north on the tracks.

Propst declared that the thieves apparently were about twenty years old. He had seen them at the station earlier in the morning, but thought nothing of their presence. Several traveling men who were waiting for trains in the station were not robbed.
