The strawberry outlook, from what we can learn, is favorable for this season. While the dry weather last summer out the plants somewhat short and the rows are not very heavy, yet the favorable weather last fall brought out all there was and put the plants in excellent shape. A rather short crop of strawberries is predicted all over the country and if this proves the case the price will be extra good.—Pineville Democrat.

WARD'S TRIAL HAS PROVEN CLAIM TRUE

Thorough Test Conducted by Farmer Brings Out Facts Regarding Tanlac's Merits.

Hannibal, Mo., February 5.—"I've given Tanlac a good trial, having taken two bottles, and it surely has proven to be a wonderful medicine," was the convincing statement made on January 4, by Fred Ward, a prominent farmer on rural route No. 2, Hannibal.

"I had stomach trouble and my liver and kidneys were out of shape," Mr. Ward continued. "My appetite was very poor and I would have bilious spells nearly every day that caused me lots of suffering. The kidney troubles caused my back to ache almost constantly. At night I would become restless and couldn't sleep and then I would feel tired and worn out all through the day."

"I read in the newspapers of the good work Tanlac was doing and bought a bottle of the medicine. I have a fine appetite now, eat anything I care for and the bilious spells have ceased. My liver and kidneys are in fine shape now. I sleep more soundly at night and the tired, worn out feeling that formerly bothered me has been banished. I recommend Tanlac because I want others, who suffer as I formerly did, to know about it."

Tanlac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Monett at A. H. Cox & Co's. Drug Store—Adv.&w

HOW I BOUGHT EXPERIENCE

In the January Farm and Fireside a writer says:

"When commencing to farm I gave no thought to the matter of adaptability of crops to soil and location, and planted my young orchard on low, level land. The result was a failure. Then I planted my hilltops to apples, peaches, pears, and plums, and am beginning to reap success from my orchards thus located. I find that the trees planted on the hillside are injured but little with frost. I have since learned that the frosty air settles to the lower levels the same way that water runs down hill. Experts call it atmospheric drainage."

"I find that my orchard on the high lands now escapes frost where the fruit blossoms are all killed on the low lands. I was first impressed with the location for orchards when visiting an expert orchard man in charge of a large orchard in New York."
