

Dependable Power

With a Type "M" Coal Oil Burning Engine you are sure of power when you need it
 A Windmill gives power only when the wind blows; and you have no doubt noticed that during the dry hot weather there is often no wind.
 Then is when you need the water most. Type "M" Engines cost about one-half the price of a windmill. They are much cheaper to operate than a Gasoline Engine. Call and let us figure you a water system for your farm.

HEREFORD ASSOCIATION FAILS TO LOCATE

Disagreement in Committee Leaves Question of Permanent Location Unsettled.

Although the Southwest Missouri Hereford Breeders' Association had voted to make Monett their permanent headquarters and location for their sales barn, the committee on a site has failed to settle on a location and is about to throw the question of permanent place open again.

Thinking the matter was settled for good, the Monett Commercial club has gone to considerable trouble and expense to arrange for the sales held here until the new pavilion could be built. The club has spent $1500 for this purpose and has shown the Association every courtesy, which they seem to appreciate.

Should they throw the question of a permanent place open for another decision, Monett is still a candidate for the location. Some good sites have been presented to the committee and a Monett citizen has offered to buy a desirable lot on Broadway and present it to the Association. The committee seems to favor some of the most desirable shipping locations along the Frisco which are held at a very high price. The Commercial club is not in a position to pay the price, but can furnish locations practically as good, which will cost them much less money.

After due consideration the Hereford committee may decide to accept one of the propositions of the Monett Commercial club. The president, Charles Mansfield, proposed that the Association and the Club appoint new committees on location as the old committees seem to be unable to reach a decision. This proposition has not yet been acted upon.

The Association will make a mistake in considering any other location than Monett as this is the central railroad point of Southwest Missouri. Stock cannot be sold without buyers. Buyers will not go to an out-of-the-way place. They are busy men and will favor the location which they can reach the easiest. Monett is the center of a district reaching into Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and East Missouri, which are stock raising districts. Stockmen can reach here either morning or evening from any direction. Stock can be shipped in easily as the freight service is excellent. Monett people are anxious for the stock men to locate here and have shown willingness to give them every advantage possible.

Monett Commercial Club does not begrudge the $1500 spent in this worthy cause, but hope that the stock men will see where it will be to their advantage to keep their permanent location here as they voted to do. Monett is a growing town. It will not go backward. Any property which the Association may own here is bound to increase in value each year. It will be an investment which they cannot afford to pass by.

A strong effort is being made by Aurora and other towns to upset the plans already made by the Hereford breeders in order to get them to locate with them. We are sure that when all the advantages of Monett as a permanent location are considered, they will see that their first decision was the right one.

Mrs. A. D. Browning has returned home from Tulsa, Okla., where she visited relatives. Her son, Charles, accompanied her home.

Eddie Maher arrived home Thursday after serving the U. S. army in France for several months. He was discharged at Camp Pike, Ark.

Lester Howell has purchased the 30 acre tract of land 2 1/2 miles southwest of town belonging to J. F. Mulvaney and will start a poultry farm.

FREIGHT CREWS WILL BE RETURNED TO MONETT

Considerable dissatisfaction has been shown since the Frisco changed the runs of four freight crews out of Monett, to run from Springfield to Afton. The matter has been brought to the attention of the railroad officials and the Times has it from good authority that the runs will be changed back to Monett in a short time and the old schedule will be resumed.

The shoes were found on Front street in the morning by Pete Planchon. Hagler's blood hounds were put on the trail of the thief, but no arrests have been made.

A pocket knife was found near the window and several men have said that they have seen the knife before. It will probably lead to the identification of the thief.
