L. T. BELL.

O. P. Cannon is going to open a repair shop in Warren some time in the near future.
 Mrs. Pollie Hawkins, of Monroe City is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. D. McGlasson.
 Mrs. L. D. McGlasson has been suffering very much from a severe attack of tonsillitis, but glad to report considerable better.
 Jas. J. Fitzpatrick and John McGlasson attended the Thanksgiving ball at Monroe City.
 There has been considerable improvement in and around Warren. Eli Longacre has built a fine seven room house and Joe Mithland, Ike Longacre, Wm. Hedrick, Jake Rager, Mart Day, James Teed, U. V. Davis, F. Kline have all built new barns this fall.
 Clarence Yager who has been mustered out with the Fifth Mo. Regiment is visiting his father, near Warren.
 Will Jones has leased a piece of land on the B Colvert farm west of Warren and is going to have a house raising this week.
 Rev. Jones filled his regular appointments at the Baptist church at Emden Sunday. He has been conducting a protracted meeting at the Warren Baptist church and has so far succeeded in getting about seventeen additions to the church.
 Quite a crowd assembled at the Baptist church Sunday morning for Sunday School and after reviewing the lesson, the pastor of the church being absent. Joseph Renshaw gave a very interesting talk on how to live a Christian life.

Will Sours was in town Monday morning with a smile on his face, some one asked him what he was looking so happy about and he said his wife presented him an eleven pound girl Saturday night. I don't blame Mr. Sours for looking happy, he has something to be proud of.

The following names are of parties who delivered hogs at Monroe City from this vicinity last week, John Longacre, Will Fredrick, Will Coleman, Geo. Smith, Oil Vanlandingham, Geo. McGlasson, Lloyd Thurman, Geo. Ragan and P. J. Masterson. The Monroe City stock men have got all the live stock that has been fed in the western part of Marlon County the last few years.
