

ALL OVER THE STATE.

—Plenty of home corn for home use in Christian county.

—A city saloon license costs $500 in Nevada, Vernon county.

—There are five Choctaw Indians at teaching college at Fulton.

—The Carthage brewery has been turned into a pork packery.

—The new building association at Carthage has sold nearly 500 shares.

—The corn crop of McDonald county is a good one, considering the drought.

—Nearly twice as many buildings in Stockton, Cedar county, as there was a year ago.

—The Bolivar Baptist college has 115 students; the Pierce City Baptist college has 45.

—Within two months over $1,000,000 of eastern capital has been invested in southern Missouri.

—A week ago flour was $4.20 a hundred pounds at Lamar, and the price was to go higher.

—Some of the coal lands around Rich Hill in Bates county have been sold for $200 per acre.

—The Stockton Journal says the money in Cedar county is estimated to be more than ever before.

—They seem to have found a vein of mineral paint, 20 feet thick, at Seven Star Springs, Barry county.

—McDonald county has a larger immigration than it has received during any year of the last four or five.

—Roland Baker, who killed young Bennett at Sheldon, Vernon county, is admitted to bail on a $1,000 bond.

—A very large acreage of wheat will be sown in Webster county this fall. Much wheat is already in the ground.

—There were thirty-one car loads of stock shipped from Mexico one day last week, viz.: 21 cars of cattle, 4 cars of mules, 2 cars of horses.

—Major Tilden of Jasper county, a pensioner of the civil war, has received $3,500 under the arrears of pension law.

—The public school at Stockton is so good that nearly every township in the county is represented among the pupils.

—The Southern Methodists at Rolla will soon build a handsome church in that city. They have a lot and a building fund of $1,000.

—Professor Baldwin has resigned his position as president of the normal school at Kirksville, to accept a similar position in Huntsville, Texas.

—Every branch of industry in Rolla is flourishing. Private residences are in great demand there and boarding houses spring up like mushrooms.

—Mr. S. P. Pemberton of Saline county sold last week to A. Royer, Jr., 1,000 barrels of apples, or his entire crop, which will be eight or ten car loads.

—The Governor has issued a commission appointing Wm. H. Gleason, sheriff of Pike county, vice Thomas B. Ford, deceased.

—Neah Seward of Dallas county has sold several acres of corn at $20 per acre. This $2,100 crop is worth more than the farm on which it grew is valued at.

—Prof. John M. Leonard of Columbia has been elected professor of Greek in the University of Cincinnati at a salary of $2,000 per year. He has accepted the position.

—Missouri's divide with Jay Gould the $150,000 capital stock of Rich Hill zinc works now erecting at a $30,000 cost. By next summer it will be running with a quota of 300 men.

—The ex-confederates of the southwestern counties are talking of holding a reunion. Neosho is the spot for it, from historical reasons drawn from the early events of the struggle.

—A prospector on the farm of Mrs. Annie Chambers in California, recently unearthed a large nugget of lead weighing 100 pounds, and uncovered a mass of the same mineral estimated to weigh nearly 150 pounds.

—The governor has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of Asa Hooten, who killed George Wright of Chariton county. The county of Chariton has also offered a reward of $100 for the conviction of the murderer.

—Wm. C. and Charles Cheatham, on their home place in Honey Creek township, Henry county, are among the most successful wheat growers in that county. They harvested 130 acres, which yielded 1,460 bushels. Of this 130 acres twenty acres was scarcely worth harvesting. They used the Fultz and Walker variety.

—M. A. Owen, east of Windsor, sold 24 acres of corn in the field for $15 per acre. This averaged about forty-five bushels per acre. Mr. Owen is having seventy acres of ground broken now for corn next year. This season he fully demonstrated the advantage of fall breaking by gathering between forty-five and fifty bushels per acre from the fall-broken and twenty to twenty-five from that not broken up in the fall, both being planted at the same time in the same field and cultivated in the same way.

Set Back Forty-Two Years.

"I was troubled for many years with kidney complaint, gravel, &c.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old, worn-out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hov's Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."—[Father.]

The decrease of the public debt during the month of September was $17,483,641, and during the last three months, $41,742,886, or at the rate of about $166,000,000 a year.

FROM
COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Ohio, May 12, 1882.
I have a very valuable Arabian colt which I prize very highly. He had a very large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other which made him very lame. I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons who indicated to cure him. I was very desirous of the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express. I determined at once to try it, and got six druggists here to send for it. They ordered three bottles. I took them all and brought them here. The first bottle I used it according to directions and the fourth day the colt came to his feet. He is entirely cured. I have used but one bottle and the colt has been as free from lameness and as smooth as my horse in the stable. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now well.

Very Respectfully,
L. T. FOSTER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

On Human Flesh.

Patten's Mills New York, Feb. 21, 1878.
Dr. B. C. SCHOLZ & Co., Gents:—The particular case on which I used your Spavin Cure was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months standing. I had tried many things but in vain. Your Spavin Cure put the foot to the ground again, and for the first time since hurt. For a family liniment it excels anything I ever used.

Very Respectfully,
Pastor of M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

Is such in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement of the joints and limbs, or for rheumatism in man, or for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to any knowledge, for best as well as man.

Price, $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent post paid to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. C. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

FROM ARKANSAS.

A Former Holt County Citizen tells something About that Country.

LUKA, ARK., Oct 8, 1881.

EDITORS COUNTY PAPER:—We have had but one rain since last May; and the weather is still hot. What few little nibbins of corn were produced here, this year, have been picked and laid away nicely to await the convenience of the busy house-wife with her grater, to be turned into meal for bread. The tops of the cornstalks from the ears upward are cut off and stacked in bunches for cattle feed; and the blades from the ears downward are pulled off and bound in sheaves like wheat, for horse feed. Thus, you see, we utilize the whole substance of the stalk. The people of this whole county, Baxter, would thrive better there, just upon what the Holt county Mo., farmers waste, than they can here, by using every possible exertion, and practicing the closest economy.

It is quite common here for girls and young women to work out by the month at general farm work, the same as the boys and young men do there. In fact, it is with the people here a good deal as it was with the Aborigines of North America, the women do most all the work; and the men while and loiter away the weary hours and days, fishing and hunting with scarcely a thought for the morrow.

The farms range in size here from three to fifteen acres—fifteen acres is a very extensive farm, indeed, so much so, in fact, that but few so large are found—and everything is done the hardest way. The corn-ground is marked off four or five feet wide both ways with a "bull-tongue" plow hitched to a yoke of oxen, or one poor horse; the corn is then dropped by hand and covered with an "old Virginia" tobacco hoe. When growing it is plowed four or five, or six times, with the same old "bull-tongue" plow, and hoed and hilled up about as many times with the same indispensable hoe.

The cotton grower ridges his ground very carefully—he uses the same tools that the corn grower does—and then splitting the ridges wide open throughout their entire length, he strews the cotton seed therein by hand and covers the same with a board fastened into a plow stock—arranged for the purpose. After the cotton commences to grow and gets a few inches in height, these ridges are plowed down—something quite similar to the manner in which drilled corn ridges are ploughed down in your county, except that very different implements are used in the two places to accomplish the same end—and then the hoeing begins, and is continued until about the first of August, when the cotton crop is made.

Times are hard here. Money is scarce, and hard to get. Crops of all kinds are very poor—the cotton fields were gleaned the first picking—and a great many people are in debt with scarcely anything to live on. I have heard farmers of your county complain that times were hard; I would just like to say to them that they know nothing about hard times, as we have them here. If each one of those chronic grumblers of Holt County Missouri could be a sojourner for a single month in this country, he would go home ashamed of himself, and never growl again.

J. D. WHITE.

The New York Star says of the Star-roses prosecutions:

"This prosecution was the work of Attorney General McVeigh, who never played fast and loose with it; never said one thing in public and another thing in private. He told the post-office department, the President, and the people that a case of conspiracy to rob the Government had been made out; and he told Dorsey and his counsel in private that he was unfortunately compelled, in view of the law and the facts, to send Mr. Dorsey to the penitentiary, and let Indiana take care of itself hereafter."

An attempt has been made in London to inaugurate a praying crusade against the liquor sellers, similar to the craze in vogue at one time throughout the north, in this country. The attempt met with a signal failure, both because the British tapster was past being prayed for, and the police interpreted the movement as a breach of the peace, and hustled the prayful away from the public houses.

GEN. B. F. BUTLER, it is rumored, will have charge of Guitteau's defense. If true, there should be a lively fear that the assassin will escape punishment, for District Attorney Corkhill would be as puffy in the hands of the adroit and acute legal hands of Benjamin F. Butler.

SENATOR BEN HILL will receive the general sympathy of the public for the misfortune of the loss of a quarter of his tongue, but there have been times when his party might have wished that he had no tongue at all.
