—Rev. Cox, of Nodaway county, is holding a protracted meeting at the Christian church near the Kelso school house. He is what is known as a Free Methodist.
—Henry Roselius, of Corning, is making preparations to put up a fine dwelling, one of the best in that section. It will be a $6,000 residence and will contain all the modern conveniences and tancy architecture.—Rock Port Journal.
—Ed Markland, of Skidmore, has just recovered from a very severe sick spell of six weeks with carbuncles on his neck, during a part of which time his life was despaired of. The many friends of Ed will be glad to know that he is again hale and hearty.
—The Mississippi river at St. Louis is lower than it has been for the last twenty-seven years. The zero mark on the government gauge has been left high and dry on the bank. The harbor and ferry boats still run, though they occasionally touch bottom. All navigation is stopped up and down the river.
—In the year 1887 there will be four eclipses. Two of these will be of the sun, one occurring on Washington's birthday, February 22d, and invisible in the United States; the other on August 17th, which is also invisible. Two are of the moon, one on February 8th, visible entire to North America; the other on August 3d is invisible.
—Last Friday, before Squire Pistole, at Flag Springs, Frank Mullinix charged preliminary examination on a charge of shooting at the teacher, and gave $300 bond for his appearance at Circuit Court. Complaint was made against the pilot, Willie Elrod, for manhandling the pilot, who plead guilty and was fined $50 and costs.—Savannah Reporter.
—The nuptials that joined for life in heart and hand, Mr. Ed. M. Copeland, of White Cloud, Kansas, and Miss Ella Bridges, of this city, occurred last Thursday afternoon, December 23d, 1886, at the residence of the bride's mother. A few special friends were assembled in the parlor to witness the ceremony which was performed in a very impressive manner by Rev. T. D. Roberts of the Presbyterian church of this city. There were no attendants and the occasion was not ostentatious; on the other hand it was graced with the quiet unconscious dignity that characterizes a hearty, substantial home. After the close of the ceremony and when all present had offered their hearty congratulations and wished the newly wedded pair long lives of happiness, the bride and groom took their departure for White Cloud, for a brief visit, when they will return to our city for the winter. The bride is so well known it is scarcely necessary to comment. We have known her many years and know nothing but good of her, and the groom is to be congratulated on his choosing so womanly a woman for his companion through life. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of Kansas, and from what we have heard of him, we believe him worthy so fair a bride. We trust their lives may be long and happy.
—One of the pleasantest and happiest weddings that ever occurred in Iola, Kansas, took place at the pleasant home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wisner, Sunday evening, December 26th, 1886, it being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillie, to Mr. C. O. Denny of Holt county, one of the leading teachers of this section of our state, and one of our most worthy and deserving citizens. The wedding is the consummation of a college attachment—both being graduates of the Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa; the bride graduating from the conservatory of music last year. The ceremony was performed by Elder Henry Martin of the Christian church, in an earnest and impressive manner, only a few relatives and special friends being present to witness the ceremony. The newly married couple arrived in our city Tuesday, and took a large number of the groom's friends by surprise. They will spend the holiday week with friends in Southern Holt, after which they will be at home to friends in Minnesota Valley, where the groom is teaching. We extend to them our best wishes and trust that their path through life may be strewn with the richest and most fragrant flowers, and the farther they journey along that pathway together and nearer they approach the end of their journey, the brighter may be the dawn of a grand future reflecting her rays upon their lives, made happy by constant love and affection for each other.
