We mean every word of it. Don't ask for credit for you will be refused, but in return will give you more goods for the dollar than any house doing a credit business. We shall strive to keep our stock complete in all departments, and Special Bargains in all lines. Come and see us and compare our prices with anyone. Don't forget the place, A. L. WILLIAMS & CO., SIGN RED FRONT STORE, MAITLAND, MISSOURI.

Must Pay for It.

The case of Zebold vs. the State of Kansas, for damages caused plaintiff by the enactment and enforcement of the prohibitory law, has been argued in Leavenworth before Judge Brewer, in chambers, Hon. John Tomlinson, of Atchison, appearing for plaintiff, and Attorney-General Bradford for the State. Zebold was in the liquor business at Atchison prior to the enforcement of the prohibitory law, and his goods were seized and confiscated by the State. After hearing the argument of counsel Judge Brewer decided in substance that if a person had been in the liquor business before the passage of the prohibitory law and had been made to suffer loss by the confiscation of his property, he had cause for action against the State for reimbursement. This is in a line with Judge Brewer's famous Wairau decision. Attorney-General Bradford took exception to the decision, and gave notice that he would carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. The case will take precedence to the Wairau, and will be made the test case.

Something in It.

The Democrats, who say that the Texas investigation, which is proceeding in the Senate, has disclosed nothing, have peculiar views as to the freedom of elections. These facts have thus far been disclosed by the admissions of Democratic witnesses. That armed men seized the ballot-boxes, and that the Democratic judges did not resist, and seemed to expect it; that Republican ballots were thrown out when it was discovered that the Democratic candidate was falling behind; that negroes who had knowledge of the outrages upon the ballot were thrown in jail upon petty charges, and that three of them were taken from the jail and hung; that the jail officers evidently knew that the mob was coming, and the jail guards had left their usual place of duty, and were in an upper room overlooking the jail-yard, where they could have a better view of the operations of the murdering mob; that no resistance was offered, and no warning was given to the authorities that the mob was expected; that German residents of the locality who were Republicans were forced to leave the county, and that public meetings were held at which they were warned to leave. It now seems probable that the charges of the memorialists will be sustained.

Employment.

There can be no question, in regard to the statement, that employment prevents temptation. He, who is engaged in some useful occupation, it matters not how humble it may be, it is based upon the principles of dignity and honor, and is a safeguard against temptation. The numerous causes of crime and lawlessness in this free and great country of ours, are in many instances, traceable to idleness--idleness devoid of any noble aspirations, and, in fine, of all the good qualities of heart and heart, that contribute toward making useful and honest citizens. Generally, people will be industrious or idle; that is, they will pursue a path-way of life that will confer happiness, comfort, contentment, and respectability upon them, or they will travel in that course, whose ultimate, is sure to be disappointed hopes, blighted ambitions, unhappiness, poverty, and want.

There are thousands of people, who take shelter under the plea of "hard times," "nothing to do," "out of money," "out of everything." Yet that same class of people who are complaining, finding fault, inveigling against this or that law, or measure of legislation, will not offer to perform a stroke of labor, unless they receive the highest possible price, and too, it must pertain to that "calling" in which they are "rehearsed," or "apprenticed," or it will not get their attentions, as far, they will go.

We all agree, that there are times, when money becomes scarce, business of all kinds dull, and a depression of the various industries, at such times there is an excess for people indulging idleness, but we must admit, that there are those who are inactive at all times; it matters not whether it be in the thirteenth and sunny days of great prosperity, or in the period of gloomy and close times; they are always found playing their same old vocation--doing nothing.

Now, do not permit yourself to be idle. If you are not employed, look up some useful calling, and stick to it. Show the little world where you reside, that you have energy in your character, and that you are determined to succeed. He indolent! "Be up and doing!" Be resolved to push things, with a will. Avoid the resort of the loafer. Keep your time occupied with the objects of industry. Strive for an honorable record. Show your fellowmen, by your acts, that you wish to merit their good opinions. Remember, that your everyday life is closely watched, in fact, all that you do or say, is brought to the sharp test and right estimation of public opinion. See to it, that you are not cast aside, by that stern tribunal. Keep your self employed, and you can rest assured of always having, good, true, and substantial friends. Remember that the victor of the will crowd that effort of the determined and industrious.

Frank Moberg, who painted "Cass' Last Rally," is at work on a picture at Maitland, the subject being that when McClellan was killed and General Logan killed the shank troops.

New Point.

Mr. Spencer Boswell is on the sick list. The Y. L. M. S. held an interesting session Saturday. Elliot Hall began work for Joseph Hodgins Monday. Elmer Atkins has rented Joseph Hodgins farm for the coming year. The thaw last week raised the creek higher than it has been for several years. Wm. Shank who has been sojourning in Maitland all winter, came home Tuesday. T. K. Buck, of Maryville, was at New Point last week looking after the organization of a Grange. John Ball, recently from Sullivan county, was reported very low the fore part of the week, but is now convalescent. Curtis Amos has vanished to "where the woodbine twines" and the Baby Elephant is now building fires in Kearney's Observatory. Those who put in bids for the mail are getting anxious to learn who the lucky one is. They are assured that it will be decided before long. Last Tuesday a grand wolf hunt was had by the neighbors, with Jim Ham as bull sheep. Two rabbits, a squirrel, and a crippled sap sucker are the spoils. The young folks enjoyed a pleasant party at B. F. Kunkel's Wednesday night. Through the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel, all were made to feel welcome and went their way singing "Oh for the return of many more such nights."

Mineral Springs.

John Hagby left for Chicago one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fuhrman spent last Sabbath with John Bucher and family. Mrs. Curtis, of Oregon, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Anselment and family at present. Wesley Kunkel, of Lafayette, Kansas, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Geo. Keller at this writing. Sorry to learn little Cora Banz is on the sick list this week; hope she will soon be well again. Some of our neighbors have been attending the protracted meeting in Mound City the past week. J. F. Loucks and wife, of Shiloh neighborhood, were visiting relatives in our community last Wednesday. Rev. James Turner, of Maitland, pastor of the U. B. church, is visiting friends in our neighborhood at present. Shant Smith and his accomplished sister Miss May, of Maitland, were the guests of H. L. Acton and family last Saturday. Miss Emma Kunkel, a charming young lady of Shiloh, returned to her home last Saturday after a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Acton. Rev. Wenger will preach his farewell sermon at this conference year at the U. B. church next Sabbath, at eleven o'clock. Rev. Wenger is an able minister, and it is the sincere desire of all that he may return to this circuit for another year. We learn the measles have entered our community, and several children in the family of George Keller are now very sick with them; also the Mineral Springs school has been exposed and likely will still be minus a few more scholars in the near future. Grandma Stroble had the misfortune of falling on the ice one day last week, breaking her left arm and receiving other painful injuries. We are glad to learn at this writing she is getting along nicely, and hopes of her recovery in the near future are entertained.

Forest City.

The season of stove pipes and profanity is upon us. The Mite Society meeting held at the house of Elder LaTour, one evening last week, was a very pleasant affair. All enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Mr. A. G. Weber has purchased Mr. E. F. Groves' residence property and will occupy it in the near future. Mr. Groves will remove with his family to St. Joseph next month. We have just learned of the death of Jefferson Tucker, at the home of his mother, two miles north of Forest, on Tuesday afternoon. He was sick but a few days, and his many friends was shocked to hear of his death. Mr. Charles Canon, formerly of this place, but now of the city at the mouth of the Kaw, has been spending a few days with us. Come again, Chasley, there is one heart at least that beats faster at your coming. Mr. Stephen Shaler, who lives two miles below, will in Forest last Thursday, met with a serious and painful accident. He was engaged in handling piling for the railroad, and while trying to place one in proper place it rolled over and caught his foot, breaking the bones at the ankle joint. Mr. Shaler is a hard working and industrious man, who has the sympathy and deserves the charity of the community. L. P. Sontney, one of our merchant princes, on Tuesday, dressed himself in a new suit of clothes of the latest cut, and boarded the train for St. Joseph to meet his wife, who for the past four months has been in Indiana. Mr. Sontney expected to have the pleasure of the first introduction to a son. But unfortunately for Mr. Sontney, his wife came in on the afternoon train, on Tuesday, and past the waiting husband in St. Joseph.

Tabled.

A resolution was presented in our legislature last Monday, asking the Representatives in Congress to vote to pass the "Dependent Pension Bill" over the President's veto. On motion of Mr. Turner, of Clinton, the resolution was tabled, two Democrats voting against tabling the resolution and one Republican for. Poor old Missouri!

Mound City.

Measles! measles! measles!!! Mrs. R. C. Glenn is on the sick list. Clint Porter is the father of a boy since the 18th inst. Matt Saville has secured the Gordon school for the spring term. W. T. Hiatt has moved to his farm about four miles south of town. Miss Nellie Kreek, of Oregon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. F. Drake. Will Patton has returned from Ohio, where he has been since last fall. Mrs. Hattie Cluning, of Bigelow, is at her mother's, Mrs. McKee's, this week. Dr. Bullard did not come last week, but our items were gone before we got the news. Dan. Snell returned last Friday from Iowa, with a fine French imported stallion. Press Durham has leased the Hiatt House, and will take possession about the 15th of March. John Morris, of Montana, wife and two children, are visiting his brother William this week. T. W. Miller & Son have moved their hardware into the room formerly occupied by Elliott & Jasper. Rev. Smith, of Cr., was in town Friday and Saturday last the guest of Charles Armstrong and Rev. Irvine. Lee Durban has moved into Levi Dodge's Pool property, where he expects to keep a boarding house this summer. John Campbell, wife and children, of Michigan, are visiting at C. Corant's. Mr. Campbell is a nephew of Mr. Corant. A. Crannell and Wm. Hobbittell now own a nice Cleveland bay stallion, which was brought from Ottawa, Ill., a few days ago. Miss Thompson, who came to Mound City from Tarkio to drill the contestants in the declamatory contest, has the measles. J. H. Funchon, of Arkansas City, Kansas, is here this week. He is talking of moving back to Mound City, that he may live in a progressive place. Thos. Morrow will shortly move into the Crannell House, and Asa McNulty will then move into his own property which will then be vacated. Henry Spitzer, who owns considerable property in Mound City, but now living in Covington, Ohio, heard the boom and came to help the thing along. C. K. Corant traded his land in Kansas for the W. H. Patch farm a few days ago; later he exchanged the Patch farm for the Hiatt property; and now he has sold the Hiatt property to W. Cochran. How is that for business? Commissioner J. F. K. Klegg examined teachers for certificates here last Saturday. Matt Saville, Alex. Nixon, Joseph Garrett, Julia Duke, and Bettie Tyler, of the Mound City High School, were examined. We have not heard whether they were all successful or not.

[The following items should have appeared in last week's SEVEN-DAY, but got delayed in the mails, and did not arrive until after we had gone to press.--Ed.] John Bucher went to Oregon, Tuesday. J. E. Acton was on the sick list Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Roberts spent part of last week visiting relatives in St. Joseph. Jerry Dunkelberger sold a week of hops Monday; price paid, $4.00. Miss Ida Nichols took a severe fall while coasting at school Tuesday. Robert Eley has rented part of the Roseberry farm for another year. Jerry Bucher was the guest of his cousin, Dan Bruce, Tuesday evening. Quite a large crowd attended the sale on Mr. McCoy's farm, Wednesday. Miss Emma Richards attended divine services at the Ebenezer church last Sabbath. Martin Armark, of New Point, spent last week with his sister, Mrs. Lettie Johnson. Rev. VanGundy of Mound City, preached at the Union Church last Sunday afternoon. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night at the church and everybody is invited to attend. Henry Armark and family were visiting friends and relatives in New Point over Sunday. Mrs. Judge Wilson and Miss Willis were visiting relatives in our neighborhood last Sabbath. Mr. and Mrs. Anselment were the guests of relatives in Oregon Sunday and Monday of this week. John Appargard Frank Acton attended Literary Tuesday evening at the Center school house. Ed Smith sold a few hoes or a day last week; price paid, $4.50 per hundred; average weight, 28 pounds. C. E. Corant, the popular merchant of Mound City, passed through our vicinity one day last week. Philip Holley, of Ross Grove, was smiling on his old neighborhood last Sunday last Sabbath. "Phil" looks natural. Mrs. Watt spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Gillis, who, we are sorry to learn, is still very sick. We hear it rumored our friend, John Bagby, was calling in our neighborhood last Sabbath evening, and took his "best" girl sleigh riding. That is right, John, be happy while the sun lasts. Silas Bucher and Dean Hall were visiting our school last Friday. The girls were all happy, and Silas was delighted with the warm welcome he received by the teacher and the school. Come again boys. We are pleased to learn our young friend and neighbor, Edward Smith, returned home last Friday, after an absence of nearly two years in Kansas. Ed. was kindly remembered by all, and is well and happy as usual. Wonder who that pretty little girl in that sitting in the sleigh by the side of our young friend, Frank Dunkelberger, as he went down the road last Sunday eve? Now, Frank, answer that question, if you can't do it, we will do it for you. A large and interested crowd was in attendance at the baptismal service last Sabbath morning, and the services were most impressive. Six young misses were baptized and one taken in the church, and we hope they will walk in newness of life in the footsteps of our Saviour.
