

A BUSINESS WOMAN
 or a woman who works sooner or later has to build up her strength with Dr. Favorite Prescription. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, fainting, or other ailments, take the "Favorite Prescription." It is woman's tonic and nerve.

It's a medicine that builds up, invigorates, regulates, and cures. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, in "female complaints" and weakness, you have your money back.

Dr. R. V. Pierce: Dear Sir—I have taken the "Favorite Prescription" and I can recommend it to any lady that suffers with any female disease. I have tried several doctors' prescriptions but none did me the good that yours did.

Yours respectfully,
 Sophie Perry

It Soaks Into the Flesh

right down through the fevered parts to where the inflammation is rooted. That is why Mustang Liniment "cures all aches and pains of man or beast." If it evaporated or remained on the skin it could not cure. That is why volatile extracts fail. They can't go down through the inflamed parts.

Mustang Liniment

owes its success to its power of penetration. There is nothing marvelous about its curative powers. It is simply a few common sense ingredients combined in a way to make penetration possible and insure a cure.

Mustang Liniment has been used for one-half a century.

Write for "Fairy Story Book," illustrated, also "Hints from a Horse-doctor's Diary." Both books mailed free.

Hackneyed Literature.

The complaint made by Lord Byron against the school readers of his time, that by having selected the choicest gems of literature for children to read in these books so often at years when they were incapable of appreciating them, caused the child to become hackneyed and disgusted the pupil when later in life they came upon them was a very just complaint. The truth of it is well illustrated respecting the Bible. This book is put into the hands of little children, and made a textbook. They cannot appreciate it and they get a disgust for it and when later in life they are told of its splendid diction, its eloquence, its poetry, its charming style, they simply don't believe it. They consider it stilted, homely and laugh at it when you talk of its eloquence and poetry. "Poetry, poetry of the Bible, what an idea," and it takes years to overcome the false impressions and disgust created in childhood by this misuse of the Bible. Children are punished by being compelled to learn verses and whole chapters of scripture. A nice way to inspire a regard for the book. And yet, in time the grown man and woman learn that the Bible is the richest literature treasure we have, with English speaking people this is especially true, for its translation for us was made when our unequalled language had reached its perfection.—Ex.

Beggs' German Salve.

The household remedy. Every family should keep it for Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Inflammation of all kinds. Sold by J. C. Philbrick, Oregon, Mo.

The railroad managers, who make it their business to study such things, say that the limit of profitable wheat production has about been reached in this country, there is no danger of an overproduction of corn, as it is a crop for which the demand is constantly increasing, both at home and abroad. This is encouraging for the farmers who are now gazing upon the prospect of the largest yield of that cereal in all the history of agriculture.

Mr. A. A. Snyder, Supt. Poor Farm, Waukegan, Ill., says:— Last winter Mr. Robert Leuk used two boxes of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve and cured a large running sore on his leg. Had been a long time and was very painful, with out obtaining relief. Saw cure for Piles. Sold by T. S. Hinde, Oregon, Mo.

There is a vast difference between a raise in wages from a normal standard, and a small raise from the depths of an abnormal cut. During 1893 and 1894 wages were cut in all industries from 25 per cent to as high as 60 per cent. A small percentage of the mills and factories have raised wages from 5 to 15 per cent from the frightful cut of '93 and '94, and Democratic newspapers are shouting themselves hoarse over this slight increase. They forget that wages are still 20 and 30 per cent below the standard of 1892.

For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent. By using it freely the disease is deprived of all its virulence, and the child is no longer in danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Clark O. Prodd, druggist.

The North American Review for August opens with a trenchant paper on "The Menace of Romanism," by W. J. Traynor, President of the A. P. A. He contends that the papacy is to day, as it ever was, a thorough despotism, and declares that the A. P. A. will continue its work to prevent the perversion of the American constitution to papal dogmas.

Afraid of Pneumonia.
 Mrs. Catherine Black, of Le Roy, N. Y., took a severe cold. The physician feared Pneumonia. She took one bottle of Parks' Cough Syrup and says: "It acted like magic. Stopped my cough and I am perfectly well now. I recommend it to everyone for Croup and Lung Trouble as I believe it saved my life." Sold by Clark O. Prodd.

Let us see: is the tariff law that the mugwump papers tell us is doing so well as to set people talking about the third term for Cleveland, the same that the illustrious man refused to sign because it was so perfidious that he could not face the people in favor of it?

The admitted system of having two houses of legislature, an upper and lower, which some writers suppose is the result of deep policy and profound contrivance, is a mere accident. The king of England, when calling an assemblage of the best men of all classes to advise him, on an emergency, had no thought of but one house, one assemblage—but the haughty lords and dukes refused the degradation of sitting with knights and gentlemen, so they went to themselves as one body. Also the higher clergy refused to sit with the lower clergy (probably in obedience to their Lord's command), the last shall be first and first, last, so they went to themselves and were called convocation of bishops, but gradually died out for want of breath—and even the lords have become a shadow. So much for the pride of that silly worm, man. And thus by mere accident this refusal of the great to mingle with the small, originated this wonderful piece of wisdom in legislation—an upper and a lower house. The real excellence of it is only in this fact, that it prevents hindrance and restricts law making, a business forever inclining to be overdone. Three houses might be better, but of all, one small, responsible house meeting once in five years for a very limited time.—Ex.

Queer Things in Poland.

It is customary in Polish villages to strew straw over the Christmas eve supper tables, and for the young people, blindfolded or in the dark, to pick out each a straw therefrom. Should the straw be green, the lucky maiden expects to wear a bridal wreath or the youth to lead a blushing bride to the altar during the approaching year; but a dried straw foretells to either long waiting, possibly even until death.

In other rural Polish districts on the "Christ's Eve" wine, beer and water are placed by a girl between two candles on a table. She then retires into a corner or an adjoining room to watch the result, or an adjoining room to watch the result, reflected in a mirror hung for this purpose. If, as the clock strikes midnight, a man enters and drinks the wine she is happy, for her lover will be rich. Should he drink the beer she may be content, for the water will be well to do. If the water be chosen her husband will be very poor. But, if, as the clock strikes, no man comes to her table the anxious maiden shivers with more than midnight terror, believing that she is doomed to be early the bride of death.

Poland is peculiarly rich in these old-servances, spreading themselves throughout the year, both sexes being equally superstitious in this respect. On New Year's eve the young unmarried men dress themselves before a fire, and, bending down, look beneath their legs. Should a woman appear in the background it is the one they will marry, but if they see a shape as of a coffin it forebodes for them death during the year close at hand.

The Bottomless Pit.

A wonderful natural cavern was discovered in Lafayette county, Georgia, in 1891. It has the usual complement of "rooms," "galleries," "domes," "pits," etc., but its sole title to being something out of the ordinary in the cavern line is a well like abyss in one of the rooms, which, as far as any one knows, may once have served as the chimney of hades. It is known locally as the "bottomless pit." Stones of large size have been thrown into it with a hope that they would be heard to strike bottom after a while, but according to reports, "there were no reverberating sounds borne back to the ear by which its enormous depth could be gauged."

Beggs' Tropical Oil.

The wonderful liniment for Sprains, Bruises, Rheumatism, and deep seated diseases where a powerful liniment is required. Ask for and be sure you get Beggs' Tropical Oil. Every bottle warranted. Sold by J. C. Philbrick, Oregon, Mo.

The honors that are now being paid to "Boss" Shepard in Washington are proof that the American people know a good thing after it is rammed down their throats and nailed in. When Shepard was improving the streets of Washington he was denounced from one end of the place to the other, but now that Washington people realize that they have the handsomest city in the country and the pleasantest, so far as its streets are concerned, they wisely conclude that Shepard was a great man, and knew more than they did. No city ever lost anything by sensible public improvements. If the officials in charge see to it that the work is honestly and properly done it will furnish its own defense. Bad and fraudulent work is liable to disgust people who are favorable to progress. Officials should be held responsible for it.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

What nearly every city in the country needs today is a Boss Shepard to inaugurate improvements. Of course the people would denounce him, but after viewing his far seeing and broad minded work, such as his was in Washington, they would arise and call him blessed.
