Maxwell and brought to this city Sunday morning and lodged in jail to await a hearing on the charge of raping Rosa, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Blunk, last Friday evening. The Blunks are highly respected people and live on a farm near Phelps City. McLaughlin had been working on the farm. We have not learned the child's condition.—Atchison County Journal.

—Last month Mrs. B. T. Quigley entered the Heart Throb contest conducted by the National magazine, sending as the clipping which appealed most to her, and which she prized most highly as a literary gem, a poem which her mother had clipped and preserved from her youth. Mrs. Quigley received notification a few days ago that she was one of the number who had been awarded a prize of $5. While Mrs. Quigley appreciates the prize, she values even more highly her letter of notification which contained the signatures of Senator Allison and Admiral George Dewey.—Mound City News.

—Aaron Parker dropped suddenly dead while cleaning cinders from the track in front of the depot on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 21. He had been employed on the Craig section for thirty-four years. Although his position was a humble one he was most faithful to his duties and death came to him while he worked. Aaron Parker was born in Illinois about fifty-six years ago. He came to Craig in 1869. Went to work for the Burlington railroad in 1871 and was continuously employed by the company ever since—thirty-four. In 1875 he was married to Mrs. Snow. Five children, together with the widow is left. His children all live in Craig, except George who is employed in St. Joseph. He leaves three sisters: Mrs. John W. Stokes and Mrs. Eli Stokes, of Craig, and Mrs. Dew Elmore, of Sheep's Head Bay, New York. The funeral services were held from the family residence by Elder Baird on Thursday and burial was in New Liberty.—Corning Mirror.

—Mrs. Sarah S. Foster was born in Crawford county, Illinois, September 7, 1845, and died at her home in the Culp district, Friday, September 29th, 1905, from dropsy of the heart. She was the mother of nine children, seven of whom survive, together with a brother and sister. Funeral services were conducted from the family home on Saturday, by Elder Hardman, after which the body was laid away to await the resurrection in the Oregon cemetery.

—The compulsory attendance law is working well in all the large towns and cities. In many of the smaller cities, school boards have appointed the city marshal as truant officer. This works well. In larger cities the police force is called to the assistance of the special truant officer. For some weeks after opening of school, the judge of the juvenile court in Kansas City was kept busy passing on excuses offered by parents who thought their children should not attend school. To the credit of the judge, few secured them.

—Four marriage licenses have been issued by Miss Alida Moody, deputy recorder, since last week's SENTINEL went to press. Two of these were issued on September 28, to-wit: To John A. Brown and Anna Wallsworth, both of Craig, and to L. F. Elder, of Mound City, and Nan Biedse, of Forest City, respectively; and the other two were issued on October 3, to-wit: To Overton Brown, of Lancaster county, Nebraska, and Mollie Anderson, of Mound City, Mo.; and to Lee Stephenson and Alie Hershner, both of Oregon. THE SENTINEL wishes all these eight persons a bon voyage upon married life's (to them presumably) untried sea, and hopes its heavy waters deep may ne'er tempestuous be.

—The revival services at the Presbyterian church are well attended. Rev. L. E. McNair is a splendid gospel preacher and is attracting large audiences. He is not prosy or long winded, but strikes out straight from the shoulder. He has a way of making abstruse questions simple, and charming his hearers with apt illustrations of the truth he presents. No one who hears can go away saying we cannot understand what that man is talking about. He can handle the most intricate questions so that a child can understand. It is a rare treat to hear a man who can present Bible truths in such an acceptable way. All should hear him. He is supported by fine singing and a good orchestra. Come with us and let your burdens roll away. God loves you. All are cordially invited. X.

—Jam-s Hinde was in Kansas City, this week.

—Mrs. Settie Kennedy has returned from her visit in St. Joseph.

—Daniel Carr, of Morris, Ind. Ter., is here on business and visiting relatives.

—Mrs. Maude Disque, of St. Joseph, is the guest of her parents, Charles Anselment and wife.

—James K. Irvine, a former Holt countyite, visited in Oregon and vicinity, for a few days this and last week. He is now located at Ottumwa, Iowa.

—Ivan Blair was in Kansas City, Monday of this week, where he argued the case, Gossett Brothers vs. John E. Taylor, taken up on appeal from our circuit court.

—The first month of Monarch school closed on last Friday with Miss Bertha Chappellear as teacher. The enrollment for the month was 54, with a daily attendance of 42. Eight were present every day.

—On account of the term of circuit court at Rock Port not having been concluded last week, the meeting of the judicial district bar association, which was to have convened at Big Lake, in this county, on Monday last, was continued until October 18.

—Frank Bennett, of Cody, Neb., came in for the horse and colt show, Saturday last, and surprised his many friends. He is working on the Boiling Springs ranch, and had come to Omaha, Neb., with a shipment of cattle. He will return next week.

—The new rural routes went into operation Monday of this week. We now have five out of Oregon, and a total of 21 in the county, covering 545-5-16 miles; 2,000 families and 10,015 persons will be served daily. Put your boxes in convenient places, and keep your roads in good, passable condition.

—H. A. Stroud, living on D. A. Stalard's place, below Forest City, brought into town, Tuesday of this week, a rather curious looking worm, or it might be called snake, that he had taken from a head of cabbage. It was about 18 inches or two feet in length, but it was very hard to determine the length, as a large portion of the worm was balled up in a knot. In size it was not larger than a horse hair, and perfectly white in color. It was self-evident that it was alive, for it would dart around, very much like a snake. He had it confined in a bottle, half filled with water.

—Dr. S. W. Aiken had a close call, Sunday night, October 1, 1905, from a serious accident. He was on his way to see a patient, Mrs. Frank Morgan, about one mile northeast of town, who was suffering from gastro enteritis, but is now much better, and when near Mr. Morgan's his buggy went into a ditch, upsetting and throwing him out, the result being that the doctor received quite a shaking up, his breast receiving the brunt of the fall, and as a consequence is very sore, and his left arm was sprained. The team also ran away, wrecking the buggy to a considerable extent. It was fortunate that the results were not more serious, and the doctor is able to be up and around.

—United States Marshal Carson arrived here Monday noon and arrested Dutton Chesney on the charge of deserting from the army at San Francisco, California, about eighteen months ago. He was taken to Fort Leavenworth, Kas., where he will be court martialled. Young Chesney has had quite a checkered career during his residence in this city. He evaded arrest here once this summer by taking to heels down the railroad track without bidding the official farewell, and absented himself from town for a time. Upon his return he was taken into custody and spent some time in the county jail, and since his release he has spent the greater part of his time in this city in a very unprofitable manner.—Forest City Press. Chesney was a member of Co. B, 4th regiment during the Spanish American war, and will doubtless be remembered by the "boys" of that company.

—C. P. Bartram, one of the R. F. D. carriers, out of Maitland, has a record as a carrier that but few can equal, if any can, and we believe none can beat. He has carried his route for nearly two years, and in that time has only missed serving his patrons five days. He was off on account of sickness for four days, and missed one day to attend a funeral. What is more remarkable is that he is not exactly a young man, but says that he never felt better in his life. His next birthday, which occurs this month, will see him nearly reach the four-score mark, as he will be 79 years old. He also has the reputation of being one of the best carriers out of the Maitland office. Another remarkable feature is that while on his route he never uses glasses in handling his mail, writing money-order receipts, or attending to any other duties connected with his work without the aid of glasses. Can this record be beaten or equalled?

—E. O. Phillips and wife are in Kansas City, this week.

—Mrs. Sarah Frederick, of Savannah, Sunday in Oregon.

—Mrs. Mollie Baker is visiting with friends in Kansas City, Mo.

—E. A. Brown has returned to his home in Bigelow, after a two months' absence in the east.

—Mrs. Alice Proud and daughters, Kathaleen and Genevieve, were visiting in St. Joseph, Saturday last.

—Mrs. Orla Davis and children are the guests of her parents, J. H. Glascock and wife, of Hutchinson, Kas.

—Neil, the little 3-year-old daughter of Frank Roecker and wife, fell from a feed grinder, Wednesday, September 27, 1905, and broke her left arm.

—Boys, we have just received a swell line of Ties in all the new shades and shapes at 25c and 50c.

KREEK & HASNESS.

—W. H. Carson, who has been living at Gilmore, Ark., since last fall, has returned to his old home in Bigelow, this county, where he will reside in the future.

—Fred Burnett is hauling his crop of wheat to the Mound City Mill Co., at 70 cents per bushel. Fred has 800 bushels that he produced on 21 acres, which is an average of 30 bushels to the acre.—Jeffersonian.

—Mrs. Louise Austin and her interesting children left Saturday of last week for her home in Morris, Ind. Ter., after a three months' visit here with her parents, Albert Roecker and wife, and her brothers and sisters.

—Pearl Cowell, a prominent citizen of the county, died at his home five miles north of Mound City, Tuesday morning, Sept. 26, 1905, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. The funeral was held the following morning at the home and the interment was made in the cemetery at Maitland. The deceased leaves a wife and four children.—Jeffersonian.

To Contractors.

The German M. E. parsonage is to be improved. Bids for making these improvements will be received at the parsonage up to 12 o'clock m., Wednesday, October 4, 1905. Plans and specifications can be seen at the parsonage. The building committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of the COMMITTEE.

—H. T. Floyd, of this county, won first premium at the Fillmore fair for best display of corn, best display of yellow corn, best ear of corn, tallest stalk of corn, best display of corn on stalk, and second on display of white corn, second purest selection of field corn. Ed. Fuhrman won second on best display of chickens; first on best pair of White Plymouth Rocks; best pair of Buff Wyandottes.

—A sale was made last week of $180,000 in bonds that is for the establishment of a drainage district in Chariton county, this state, by which the Chariton river will be straightened and reduced in length from 30 to a little more than 23 miles and to redeem 35,000 acres of bottom lands, which overflow at times. It is believed that the value of the lands will be increased from $10 or $15 to $75 or $80 per acre.

—Night Operator P. Bancroft met with quite an accident at the depot one night last week. As the north passenger was pulling out Bancroft threw the mail on and as he did so something on the side of the car caught in a finger ring he was wearing on his left hand, throwing him against the side of the car and almost pulling off his finger. Fortunately he got his hand loose in time to save his finger. Dr. Hogan dressed the wounded member immediately.—Mound City News.

—Dr. W. B. Christy, of Cameron, occupied the pulpit at the First M. E. church in this city, Sunday, morning and evening, Sept. 24, and preached most excellent sermons to large congregations. Dr. Christy is one of those reasoners who see in the evolution of man and the progress of the ages a hopeful augury for the Christian world which shall ultimately triumph over all opposing forces, for the trend of man is surely Godward. In the pulpit Dr. Christy furnishes much food that is easily assimilated by those of the laity who are not too lazy to think, as the editor of the Republican can personally attest.—Bethany Republican.

Notice.

There will be no service at the Presbyterian church at Woodville on Sabbath, Oct. 8th. The congregation will unite with the Presbyterians in Oregon, morning and evening. I trust that the members and friends will be present with us on Sabbath to hear Rev. L. E. McNair, of St. Joseph.

JAS. McFARLAND.
