—It is a bit of timely Missouri history that 25 years ago this fall, the southeast part of our state was shaken by an earthquake as terrific in its power as the one that has just devastated San Francisco. In the files of the state historical society at Columbia is the following account of the incident by Godfrey Lesieur, an eye-witness: The first shock was about 2 o'clock in the morning of December 10th, 1881, and was very hard, shaking down log houses and chimneys. It was followed at intervals, from half an hour to an hour apart, by comparatively slight shocks until about 7 o'clock in the morning, when a rumbling noise was heard in the west, not unlike distant thunder, and in an instant the earth began to shake and totter so that no person was able to stand or walk; in another moment the ground began to roll in great waves like the waters of the ocean.

HONOR THE HEROIC DEAD.

The Beautiful Rites of Decoration Day Will Be Fitly Observed in Oregon—Honoring Them Who Died That the Nation Might Not Die.

Strew flowers here—
Fresh, radiant flowers!
With beauteous buds and blossoms rare
Cover the silent mounds.
Wreath the white tablets o'er
With fragrant garlands.
Here sleep the brave!
The brave, whose memory is sweet:
Sweet as the breath of roses;
Lasting as the sheen of immortelles.
Strew flowers!
Cover the silent mounds with bloom!
And where white tablets gleam,
Hang fragrant garlands!

Women of Hot Springs in Politics.

A hotly contested municipal election was recently held in Hot Springs, Ark., in which women took an active part. The cause of the unusual interest centering in the event was the fact that an independent voters' organization, the Citizens' Improvement Union, had placed a ticket in the field. The Hot Springs Daily News said of the part taken by the women:
"An unusual feature of to-day's election was the fact that women of the city were busy at the polls. They represented the membership of the two leading clubs, the Lotus and the Fortnightly, and of the missionary society of the various churches. They were all using their influence in favor of the independents.

"To be sure, the ladies did not do what is termed electioneering, but simply sold refreshments at booths near the polls. Their presence lent a quieting influence to say the least, and the usual profanity and boisterous language incident to former elections was noticeably absent."

Now the question arises in the minds of thinking people: If those women "lent a quieting influence and the usual profanity and boisterous language incident to former elections was noticeably absent," why in the name of common sense not let the women go a step further and add to their influence (which all agree is for good) the power of the ballot. Influence plus the ballot is certainly far more effective than influence alone.

Does it not seem strange that people will praise women for working to influence men to vote right, but condemn them if they manifest a desire to drop their opinion in the ballot box for themselves. "Consistency thou art a jewel."

INCOGNITO.

—Walter Williams, in the Columbia Herald, has suggested a Home Coming Week for Missouri. Next year, 1907, will be the 100th anniversary of the earliest important English settlement in the state, that of Boon's Lick country in Howard county. The Herald suggests that the weeks be set aside during the year as a special home coming week and the 614,957 Missourians, now residents in other states, be invited to come home on a visit. The idea is a good one and should be pushed along. If but a fractional part of the total could be induced to come it would be a great thing for the state. Here is a suggestion for our Commercial club. As soon as the summer festivities are over, we suggest that they take up the Home Coming of former Holt county people, and arrange for this home coming some time during 1907. Gosh, what a time we all could have. While it is true we have a few among us who have made snug little fortunes here, that will not give a dollar a year to help maintain the club's organization, yet we believe it is possible for such a thing to be accomplished without their dollar.

—The Democracy of Holt county are requested to meet at their respective voting precincts on tomorrow, Saturday, May 12th, to select their delegates to meet in convention at Forest City, on Thursday, May 14th, to select delegates to their state and congressional conventions. It is not our put in perhaps, but like some preachers we know of, we will butt in, occasionally, and hence, we rise to remark, that we would like for the Holt county Democracy to give its delegation to Charley Boeber, of Andrew county, for the Congressional nomination. Baring his politics, he is a splendid fellow and would make an excellent representative.

—The paper nuisance on the streets is causing many objections. Paper thrown out of stores, or circulars, cards and papers taken from the post office are often carelessly thrown on the street to scare horses, and endanger property by fire. We hope the city officers will look after this, as it is a very serious matter. The street commissioner could render some excellent service along this line.
