STUD ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1907.

Kruger, No. 1447; Lawrenzius, No. 1937, and the Standard Bred Horse, Algernon B. No. 36,853, will make the season of 1907 at my breeding barn, 1 1/4 miles northeast of Oregon, Mo. These horses are proved breeders—we have the goods to show for it.

These horses are too well known for me to make any speech to you. The Colt Shows of the past talked louder than I could talk. In these shows you could see how the German Coach Horse crossed on both Road and Draft mares. They are the best horses to cross on all classes of mares there are in the country.

The Standard Bred Horse is all that could be combined in one horse. He has size and quality and breeding. For further particulars call at barn. Pedigree in full.

TERMS:—Lawrenzius and Algernon B., $15.00 to insure living colt; $8.00 for season. Kruger, $12.50 to insure colt; $7.00 for season. Mare and colt will be held for service fees. Money due when mare is sold or parted with.

WAS VERY NEAR DEATH.

Sensations of Man Who Grasped Live Electric Wire.

Otis Aultman, a photographer, was almost killed yesterday afternoon while attempting to turn on a 16-candle power incandescent light in his studio, says the Denver Post. He was badly shocked and burned and lay unconscious for almost an hour. The breaking of the electric wire from which he hung suspended is all that saved his life.

Aultman's body shows the marks of his terrible experience. His chest is as black as if it had been painted, his right hand is swollen, and blue marks run up both arms.

He says that when he seized the light the shock sent peculiar but not unpleasant thrills through his body, and later, as he began to lose consciousness, a sickening sensation came over him and the blood in his veins seemed to congeal. His heart action became erratic, and every beat gave him great pain.

Suddenly all became black, and he did not know anything until he was revived by friends, who found him unconscious in a corner of the studio, with the broken wire and lamp socket still clutched tightly in his right hand.

READY WITH HIS EXPLANATION.

Little Darcy Evinc'd Much Presence of Mind in Emergency.

A negro minister from Georgia, who was visiting friends in New York city, went one Sunday to the cathedral on Fifth avenue.

He was very much impressed by the service, especially by the choir boys in the processional and recessional. When he returned to the south he resolved to introduce the same thing into his church, so he collected 15 or 20 little darkies and drilled them until he had them well trained.

One Sunday the congregation were greatly surprised to see the choir boys marching in, singing the processional. The minister noticed that something was wrong; the boy in front was not carrying anything. He leaned over the pulpit, and in order to avoid attracting attention he chanted in tune to the song they were singing:

"What—have you done—with the in—cense-pot?"

"The little darky, with great presence of mind, chanted back: "I—left it in—the aisle—it was too d—n hot."—Harper's Weekly.

A Plant of All Work.

The fields as well as the broad roads of Ecuador are inclosed by adobe walls surmounted by the broad leaved American aloe.

The aloe, sometimes called the century plant, is one of the most useful and important plants in the country. The Indians thatch their huts with its leaves. The leaves when tamped yield sirup, they can also be used as soap and the spines as pins.

The fiber is woven into sacks and from it are made coarse sandals worn by the common people. The tall flower stalks are used for beans and ladders. The flowers, boiled and soaked in vinegar, make an agreeable pickle.—National Geographic Magazine.

Boy's Idea of Breathing.

Prof. Emil Otto, the German educator, read at a dinner in Milwaukee an essay on "Breath" that a Milwaukee school teacher had given him as a curiosity.

The essay, the work of a boy of nine, ran as follows:

"Breath is made of air. We breathe with our lungs, our livers and our kidneys. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life a-going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait till they got outdoors. Boys in a room make carbonic acid. Carbonic acid is the most poisonous of living things, dead or alive."

Grounds for Clemency.

"Your honor," said the chauffeur arrested for skidding along the spine of a pedestrian, "I cannot afford to pay a fine."

"I suppose, then, you intend to pay the man you injured?"

"Even that luxury is denied me," said the prisoner, "for the accident cost all I had."

"Machine much damaged?"

"No; but I had a bet that I could cross the town at 30 miles an hour, and not hit anybody."

Lingering Doubt Remains.

"We've often heard about the meanest man, but I happen to know the meanest woman."

"Who's she?"

"The one who goes to weddings and slyly removes the cards from the presents so that the bride can never know which of her friends it was who gave her the plated butter knife."—Stray Stories.

Pinched.

"Well, how are you and May getting along since the knot was tied?"

"I'm afraid it was the wrong kind of a knot."

"How wrong?"

"I'm afraid it was a slip knot, every time I wiggle it draws tighter."

He Is.

Stella—Is her husband a good provider?

Bella—Yes, indeed; everything he promises is provided something or other doesn't happen.

Grant Cabin Association.

A pro forma decree of incorporation was granted by Judge Withrow, Thursday to the Grant Cabin Association, of which Congressman Richard Bartholdt is president. The object of the association is to preserve and turn into a museum of war relics, the log cabin built by Gen. Grant in the days of his darkest adversity, in St. Louis county. The cabin was named "Hardscrabble" by him.

In granting the decree, Judge Withrow said: "The struggles of General Grant in early manhood, his adversity in middle life and final triumph should prove an inspiration to the youth of our land and stimulate them to seek the highest standards of citizenship and usefulness. His great deeds as a General, his statesmanship as President and his example as an American citizen have elevated his country to a still higher position in the family of nations. It seems peculiarly fitting that the memory of such a man should be honored by those who wore the blue and those who wore the gray."

True link of past to present date; Strong bond of hope from lowly into great; Dear home of smoke-wrought castle dreams Before the lazy backlogs gleams; Frail chrysalis from whence unsprung That soul-spell on which empires hung. Thee, O God of Battles! hold Safe from the grasp of vandal gold And consecrate, as 'twere Thy throne, Each sacred log and plank and stone That forms this nest of lowly name, Where fledged a hero's deathless fame.—L. C. Irvine.

The author of the above stanza is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Irvine, of this city, and a graduate of our High school of the class of 1890. He is secretary of the Grant Cabin Association.

A contribution of ten cents enrolls you as an honorary member and gives you one color picture of the cabin reproduced on the site where Gen. Grant built it in 1854. Address, Grant Cabin Association, Hon. Richard Bartholdt, president, 213-15 Victoria Building, St. Louis, Mo.
