

—George Hunter, who owned the old Scheffsky farm near Mt. Pleasant, has sold the place, 80 acres, to Ellis Roberts at $115 per acre.

—James Hinkle, of Bigelow, who has been in very poor health, has gone to South Dakota, in the hope that the change may prove beneficial.

—I am very grateful to the L. O. O. F. lodge of Forest City, and all the dear friends, for their kindly sympathy and help, in my deep sorrow.

MRS. G. W. BALDWIN.

—The latest Missouri hen heard from was one which refused to associate with the tame fowls of the barnyard, but went out into the woods, where she flocked by herself and became wild. Recently she came back to her home, bringing a brood of young quails which she had hatched out.—St. Joseph Observer.

—John W. Stokes was down to Liberty for ten days, where he assisted in the prosecution of Jesse B. Webb on the charge of killing his wife a year ago. She was formerly a Miss Walkup, of Fairfax, Atchison county. Mr. Stokes was employed by her father, L. A. Walkup. The defendant was found guilty and given six years in the penitentiary. A suicide compact was supposed to have been the cause, and after shooting his wife, shot himself, but he recovered.

—Fred J. Goldsmith, of Rockford, Illinois, has been here for a few days the past week, looking after the interests of his uncle, Ed. Kewin, of Forest City, who some two weeks ago was declared to be incapable of managing his own affairs, and the probate court named W. H. Richards as his guardian, which was every way satisfactory to Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Kewin is a Manxman, 71 years of age, and served in the Union army as a member of the 25th Missouri Infantry. Mr. G. was accompanied by Peter Galbraith, who chatted interestingly about Southern Hill, forty years ago.

—Charley Meyer tells us that if his son Verne has any more receptions like the one he had Friday evening, why, he will just have to build an addition to his already commodious residence. Verne has only been eleven summers, but he is one of the most popular of youngsters of our beautiful little city, and he invited his legion of friends to come and spend the evening with him—and the lads and lassies came from every nook and corner of the town. The entire evening was given over to childhood games, and between them, Mrs. Meyer served dainty refreshments. "Gee, but we had a good time," was the way the little ones expressed themselves, as they wended their way home.

—James H. Orr, 99 years of age, and the man who built the first house in St. Joseph, died at the home of his son Jess, in Kansas City, Kansas, on Saturday last, Nov. 9, 1907. His son William at one time, was a member of the Ford & Orr business firm at Forest City, and who now resides at Hugo, Colorado. In 1833, Mr. Orr lived in what is now the city of St. Joseph, and the first house erected in the city limits was by his hands. It was a log cabin, and the good wife helped to shave the pegs to join the corners and assisted in plastering the crevices with clay. St. Joseph has preserved the log cabin and it now stands in Krug Park, for the edification of visitors who have an eye for historic things.

—In conversation with George Nuzum the other day, the Globe learned that Mr. Nuzum has decided to operate a freight boat between southeast Nebraska and Kansas City. He is now trying to secure possession of a flat bottom boat with which he can haul about 100,000 pounds of freight to start with, and express by next spring to be ready for business. He already has the promise of grain shipments from five stations, but in order to make the line a success, he must have contracts for some up river freight. Mr. Nuzum has interviewed the agent for the transportation company at Kansas City several times in regard to the matter, who has promised to lend every assistance possible. Why don't the Commercial Clubs of St. Joseph, Atchison and other river towns take up the matter. By a united effort the up river boat line can be put on a paying basis from the start.—White Cloud (Kas.) Globe

Guardian's Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned M. D. Walker, Public Administrator, was, on the 12th day of September, A. D. 1907, appointed by the Probate Court of Holt county, Missouri, guardian of the person, and Curator of the estate of Edward Prussman, a person of unsound mind and incapable of managing his affairs. All persons having claims against the estate of said Edward Prussman are required to exhibit them for allowance before the said Probate Court of Holt county, Missouri, within two years, or they will be forever barred. Dated this September 12, A. D. 1907. M. D. WALKER, Guardian of the person, and Curator of the estate of Edward Prussman, a person of unsound mind.

—Tom Hinde had business in Craig, Saturday last.

—Marion Springs and wife, are visiting with Monarch friends.

—G. W. Pullen, of Forbes, was prospecting around in Andrew county, this week.

—Mrs. Henry Clay, of Northern Hill, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Henry Acton, of Forest City, and other friends in that vicinity.

—C. E. Crowell, of St. Joseph, has leased the east side barber shop, formerly conducted by Otis Gladfelter, and has taken possession.

—There will be a box supper at the Exodus school house, next Thursday evening, November 21st, for the benefit of the school.

—Miss Jennie Smith, Emerson Hughes, and Mrs. Albert Kretzer, and daughter Eunice, of the Monarch district, have returned from their visit with Andrew county friends.

—W. C. Andes, who had his arm so badly crushed by falling under the cars that amputation was necessary, was taken to a St. Joseph hospital last week, not that he is in a worse condition, but that he may have the best of professional nursing. The accident occurred October 19th.

—A. H. Bailey sent to our office on Tuesday of this week, a bunch of oat straw that is somewhat a curiosity. It was found between the studding in the foundation and was in a perfect state of preservation, as dry and crisp, as the day when threshed. It was evidently put in the building by its builder, James L. Allen, in the early 70s.

—On Monday of this week, November 11th, every passenger and freight train stood motionless at two o'clock, p. m. for five minutes. All classes of office work ceased at the same time in honor to the memory of C. E. Perkins, ex president and builder of the great Burlington system, whose funeral was held at Boston, Mass., at 2 o'clock on that day.

—But the defeat of the Kansas football team by Nebraska last Saturday, following its defeat by Washington the week before, does not signify that the Jayhawkers are scheduled to lose the Thanksgiving game with Missouri at St. Joseph. It merely demonstrates that Kansas is in Missouri's class this year, and this fact will only serve to revive interest in the St. Joseph game. Save your cash reserve for that day's game.

—Sol O. Zachman left Tuesday of this week for Spokane, Wash., where he will likely locate if he can get into something that suits him. There are no better young men, and we wish him health and prosperity in his new home. His wife and little son, Gene, left the same day for Braymer, where she will stay with her parents, Rev. H. Crampton and wife, until Sol gets located. We are indeed sorry to lose this estimable family from our midst.

—Willie Linville, who has been in St. James, Missouri, looking after the interest of a canning company's processor, is home for the winter. Owing to the weakness of his wife from typhoid fever, she was unable to come with him, but will likely join him in a week or ten days. He was married to Miss Sallie Furling, at St. James, Missouri, July 3d, 1907. He has many friends here who congratulate most heartily, and trust their lives may be long and happy.

—The weather bureau made a hit on the weather forecast, and its predictions of a cold wave materialized Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week, being according to order from the weather clerk. There were traces of snow on each of these days. People who were inclined to believe the weather man's prophesy, hunted up their winter overcoats, just the same. On Sunday the 10th the needle indicated 24 degrees; Monday and Tuesday, 11th and 12th, 22 and Wednesday 18 degrees. Thursday morning of this week, Nov. 14, it got down to only 13 degrees above zero.

—There was 26 sparkling, dear little tots, in answer to invitations, came to greet Florence and Lillian Schulte, the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Schulte, on Monday last, 11th inst., in honor of their seventh birthday. The little ones romped and played and ate of the many good things prepared for them by their mamma, to their heart's content, and as the shades of evening gathered they went to their homes the happiest set of little ones you would see in a long day's journey. Mrs. Seeman was assisted by Mrs. Fritz Seeman, of Craig, and Mrs. Minnie Carder, of St. Joseph.

—The power house at Forest City came very near going up in flames, Tuesday morning of this week, November 12. The coal in the coal house became ignited from spontaneous combustion, but fortunately at 2:30 a. m. on Tuesday morning, Vine Gooden, who keeps one of the work train engines fired up during the night discovered it. He hustled aid, which came in the persons of Al Woods, John France, Sr., John France, Jr., Neil Kunkel, the engineer, "Skeet" Elton and others came to the rescue, and they soon extinguished the flames. In our opinion, it would be wise to have a concrete floor put in the coal house, or take out the plank floor and only leave the dirt for a floor. Our City Dads can consider this, and take it for what it is worth.

—G. W. (Wash) Pullen, of Forbes, says that he did not farm much this year himself, but that he helped Abe a little with an 80 acre patch of corn. They are gathering it now, the result being 80 bushels good and strong per acre.

—That left arm of Bryan Benton is always in the way—one day last week while playing, jumping over a bonfire, he splintered the elbow bone of his left arm. This is only the third time he has broken this arm, and if he don't look out, it will be of little use to him after a while.

—Everybody including the "childer," was made happy by the coming to town Monday, of uncle Davy Foster and his fiddle. He told some friends that he fiddled his way from Kansas City, where he now resides—he also keeps the middle of the road down there, for fear those tall houses might topple over and catch him.

—The Standard Bearer, of the M. E. church, will give a box supper in the Watson store building, on Wednesday evening, November 20th. The little ladies will supply each box with needle and thread and a piece to match an apron for identification, and the gentleman sewing the neatest seam will be given a prize.

—Complaints are being sent the news papers in surrounding towns and cities of a new grafter at work among the farmers. The fellow is a smooth individual who travels around over the country in an outfit that resembles a huckstering wagon. He goes to the farmer's house and asks the lady if she has any chickens to sell. Every farmer's wife always has some chickens to sell. He asks to see them and at once discovers that the entire flock is suffering from some new disease that no one ever heard of except Mr. "Grafter." He tells the lady he has a remedy for this particular disease, and in exchange for some of her best looking chickens, he leaves her a package of his remedies which proves to be entirely useless, as well as harmless, and so the deal he is just ahead the chickens he secured in the exchange.—Exchange.

—An oyster and fruit supper will be given at the White school house, next Friday evening, November 22d. Benefit of the school.

—Those of our farmers with whom we have conversed, say as far as they have progressed in gathering corn, the crop will be a good average one.

—Philip Shull, of the Triumph district, has purchased Mound City property, and will move to that place as soon as the robbers come again.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church, will give a coffee at the residence of Mrs. C. B. Rayhill, on Wednesday afternoon, November 20th, at 2:30.

—Mrs. Mollie Moler and Mrs. Anna Gott, of St. Joseph, and Jeff Springer and family, of Forest City, were visiting with Pa and Ma Forney of Mound City, last week.

Dr. Whitsell of New Point, was in town Tuesday, accompanied by Uncle Billy Cline, whom he was taking to the Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kansas. He is 80 years of age, and served as a member of Company F, 4th M. S. Cav.

—There are stories and stories, but the most colossal hog story comes to us from John M. Gentry, northwest of here. Two of his Red Duroc sows farrowed 26 pigs on June 11th, and on November 11th, five months, they were weighed, and averaged 240 pounds.

—Charley Loucks has packed his earthly possessions, and leaves the latter part of the week for his new home near Grand Island, Nebraska. His wife and son will follow next week. We are loth to lose such people, and can only wish them happiness and prosperity in their new home.

—In Nedaway county are two tracts of land which were entered by John H. and C. C. Morgan, brothers, in 1817, says the Nedaway Democrat. The first named was the gentleman who became famed throughout the country during the Civil War, as a cavalry leader of wonderful ability in the service of the Confederacy. After the war this land was sold to some one by the name of Carter, and a part of it, in a highly improved state, still remains in that family.
