Their Final Summons.

Emeline Jackson, oldest child of Robert and Nancy Jackson was born in DeWaver county, Ohio, October 15, 1841 and departed this life May 19, 1913. She was therefore 71 years 4 months and 4 days old.

When quite a young child she with her parents removed from Ohio and lived successively in Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. The family settled at Sumner, Kansas, and here Emeline grew to young womanhood and was married to Lieutenant Andrew Hooper in August, 1861. This union was blessed with three children, two of whom were George of Leola, Kas. and Clara now Mrs. John Scott of Craig, Mo. She came with her family from Platte county, Mo., to Holt county about thirty-eight years ago and January 31, 1884, married the second time, Henry Vinson, who survives her. No children were born to them.

She lived on a farm near Big Lake until a year prior to her death, which occurred at Kansas City, Kas., after an illness of many months.

Besides a surviving husband and children, she leaves an aged mother, who will reach her 93rd year August 9, 1913, and who is quietly awaiting the setting of her son at the home of her son, Coke Jackson of Big Lake. Four sisters and two brothers, namely Mrs. George Morris, Mrs. A. J. Van Vickle, C. W. and Richard Jackson and Mrs. F. M. Andrews of Atchison, Kas., and Mrs. John Bradford of Kansas, mourn her loss.

While yet a young girl she was converted and joined the Christian church and was baptized. Later in life she joined the Holiness church.

The body was brought to Holt county for interment, the funeral services being held Wednesday, May 21, interment being in Mount Hope cemetery. The funeral was conducted by Rev. L. A. Hunt.

Joseph Ramsey, living one mile south of Fortescue, died of stomach trouble at the home of his brother, Charles, Tuesday night, May 20, 1913. He was about thirty years old, unmarried and had been making his home there. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock, Thursday afternoon at the home of Jefferson.

Verna Victoria Leah Beckley was born April 16, 1887, and died at her home in Forest City, Mo., May 18, 1913, aged 26 years, 1 month and 2 days. She was married to George Beckley April 11, 1906, who leaves a husband, father, mother and two brothers in mourning here. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church, Tuesday, May 21, 1913, at 10 a. m. by Rev. H. C. Miller, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Forest City cemetery.

John H. Baldwin died at his home on the Bell road, northwest of St. Joseph, on Sunday, May 19, 1913, aged 90 years. He was a son of Joel Baldwin, one of the earliest settlers of Forest City, and where the deceased was born. He is survived by his sons and two daughters, Charles, Joel, Harry, Robert, Theodore, Mary and Edna; two brothers, Jacob and Benjamin Deall of St. Joseph.

A very nice and valuable donation to the Park was made by Mr. W. J. Lunsford through his nephew, John Chandler of Eagle Butte, South Dakota, one box, two arrows and one war club. The box is a memento of the battle of 1804 at the Little Big Horn River, Montana, where General Custer lost his life.—Forest City News, May 25.

Wall Paper.

I have a larger line of wall paper this year than ever. I also have "Henry Voss & Son's, of St. Joseph, Mo." Special Books of Samples. Can order paper one day and get it the next day. Would be glad to show you these books, if you want something nice, or if you will phone, will bring them to your home. Remember they have no cheap patterns in them, but patterns that I cannot afford to carry in stock.

If you are going to St. Joseph, to select your paper, and will call and get a letter from me, I can save you at least 5 per cent on your purchase. If you will buy at Voss & Sons, You need not show the letter until you get their prices.

"CIRCUS" A GRAND SUCCESS

The B. I. L. Brothers Entertain the P. E. O. Sisters in a Highly Enjoyable Manner.

B. I. L. Brothers United and Combined Shows played to a large and highly appreciative audience Friday evening of last week at the I. O. O. F. hall. The show was all that had been claimed for it. The advance notices had not been exaggerated. No dissatisfied patron asked to have her money refunded at the box office. It more than pleased.

However, despite the phenomenal success of the performance the show has disbanded. The performers have scattered to various other pursuits. The animals of the vast menagerie have been returned to their native haunts. Its first exhibition was its last. There remains but a pleasant memory.

The occasion was an entertainment tendered the members of the P. E. O. by their husbands and gentleman friends, otherwise known as the B. I. L. The entertainment took the form of a circus and was given in the large new barn on the Frank Allen farm adjoining town on the north. The barn would never have been recognized as such last Friday night. The ground floor was given over to the menagerie, side shows and various other attractions incident to a large tent show, while the hay mow was divided into three compartments, where the entertainment proper was staged.

Before being admitted to the circus a grand, free open air exhibition was pulled off in front of the building. It consisted of a balloon ascension, the slide for life by Prof. Midgett and music by the band—the B. I. L. own special musical organization.

Immediately following this the guests were admitted to the big show itself. On entering each woman—no that will hardly do, for there were only about four women in the crowd. The rest were little girls—about a dozen to each woman. There were tall girls and short girls, fat girls and thin girls, big girls and little girls, pretty girls and—well, they were all pretty girls. The women thought to play a joke on the men and dressed as children. They acted the part too. Well, anyway, each guest was given a red carnation, which admitted her "free" to the side shows. She was also given a quantity of "money" with which she could buy popcorn, peanuts for the elephant, red lemonade or back the shell game, which was running full blast.

It took some time to view the menagerie and side shows. There was the "only original and authentic wild man from Borneo" uttering unearthly sounds, the white he pulled and tugged at his chains—"Bosco," the snake eater, the zebra captured by Teddy in the African wilds; the bearded lady, besides numerous other rare and wonderful specimens gathered from the far corners of the globe for this special occasion. However, after justice had been done to this part of the show the company was invited to pass the elevator and step high for the second floor.

Here an auditorium had been arranged and after the guests were seated Ringmaster Harry Dungan put the members of his aggregation through their paces. They were all well trained. Never before, and perhaps never again, will a like troop of clowns, acrobats, jugglers, contortionists, sack wire performers, strong men, crack shots, human freaks, musicians and funmakers delight an audience. There were two hours of continuous fun, many of the acts being novel again and again. Several deserve special mention.

Jonas Whitner, the trapeze performer, was excellent and exhibited another phase of his versatility, while George Schulte as Florence Nightingale, made such a hit with the women of the P. E. O. that he had to give several extra numbers. Incidentally most of the guests, having no further use for their carnations, showered them upon the singer. Another number that pleased was given by W. W. Proud, who impersonated a Russian violinist to good effect. Although the doctor is no "fiddler" he went through all of the necessary motions while "humming" the airs. Carey Bonker did some good slight of hand tricks and this was one number that the clowns could not "expose." Mortie Martin, as the crack shot, with the aid of C. E. Munn, as Jo Jo, the dog-faced man, caused much merriment. The steam callopo was perhaps the greatest hit. This instrument required the services of ten men, eight "pipes" and two players. The audience was loath to see the callopo finish and called for extra selections several times. George Lehner, Henry Eckles, Wallace Dawson and Roy Kunkel, as clowns, saw to it that there was not a dull moment on the program.

The steam callopo was the last number, and after its tones had died away, the guests were ushered into another part of the hay mow that had been fitted up as an electric park. Here, among great bower of trees, among which electric lights glittered and upon a soft carpet of fresh alfalfa, were arranged refreshment tables. A delightful two course luncheon concluded one of the happiest and most unique entertainments ever given within our little city.

It is to be hoped that the company can be prevailed upon to play a return engagement in the future so that the public in general can have an opportunity of the many interesting features that they present and also see the varied and wonderful collection of wild animals that they exhibited in their menagerie.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Regular services next Sunday. After the interruptions incident to the many special services of the past month let us get back to our regular work with renewed zeal.

We are glad to extend the hand of fellowship and a most hearty welcome to our brother, Dr. J. H. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church. He gave us a splendid sermon at the union services Sunday night from the text, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock," setting forth as his theme, "The Entreatings of Christ," and showing some of the ways in which He knocks at the heart of man.

The Christian Endeavor Society held their semi-annual election of officers at the last meeting with the following result: President, Miss Grace Alkire; vice-president, Miss Edna Markt; secretary, Mr. Paul Allen; treasurer, Miss Josephine Murray. The officers the past six months have done good service and the president and treasurer were re-elected. The society will hold a bake sale on June 7, a week from next Saturday at Harvey Evans' grocery.

The progressive dinner given by the Social Circle Tuesday night was a success financially and socially. After partaking of the first course at Mr. J. C. Cummins' suburban home the guests progressed to Mr. Martin's for the second course, and then to Mr. Robert Rusey's where they partook of the final course and enjoyed a social hour. The dinner was fine and the ladies well maintained their reputation as cooks par excellence.

Mrs. D. M. Claggett and two children of the Westminster Presbyterian church of St. Joseph, were visiting a few days at the Manse last week.

Prayer meeting this Thursday evening. The printer being unable to decipher the writer's chirography last week made the Sunday school gift to the Social Circle toward refurbishing the church, $50 when it should have been $50. The Circle also wishes to acknowledge a gift of $25 from Mrs. Anderson. Likewise a beautiful piano sent from Mrs. Lydia Ramsey.

June 1, a week from next Sunday, will be Children's Day and the Sunday school will have a special program at 11 o'clock. As soon as the attendance reaches 200 we are going to have a picnic out in the woods. Sunday afternoon we went with Mr. Joe Murray's family in their auto down in the bottom to Chamber school house and preached to a good congregation that just about filled the house. These people have started a Sunday school that is doing well and we hope to have the privilege of preaching for them again soon. THE PASTOR.

Wright--Alkire.

The marriage of Lee H. Wright, of Forbes and Miss Maude Alkire, of Oregon, was performed by Justice Krickbocker at his office in Savannah, May 7. The groom was born and reared near Craig, but is now farming near Forbes. The bride is a daughter of Judge H. T. Alkire, former prosecuting attorney of Holt county.

The news regarding the marriage of this popular young couple was not definitely known in Craig until this week. Although a little late, the leader joins their many friends in extending best wishes for their future welfare and happiness.—Craig Leader, May 23.

"Go away from home if you want to get the news." However, the item comes late. THE SENTINEL joins the leader in wishing these two excellent young people a long, sweet life.

Entertained.

Mrs. W. W. Dawson entertained charmingly at a picnic supper last Thursday evening. The guests came in approved picnic costumes—sleeve aprons, sunbonnets, overalls and straw hats. When all had assembled they were escorted upstairs, where they found the upper hall cleverly decorated to represent the forest. Huge boughs were placed against the wall and met overhead. The floor was carpeted with true forest verdure. In the center of this miniature forest was spread the picnic supper. All the regulation picnic bill of fare was there in the big baskets and thermos bottles. Needless to say the crowd did justice to the feast.

After supper 500 was played at two tables. Among those present were: Misses Mary Zook, Hortense Dungan, Anna Curry, Mesdames Fred Philbrick, W. W. Dawson, Messers Ned Hinde, Sherman Hibbard, Will Moore, Fred Philbrick and W. W. Dawson.

—Charley Bridge and wife are delighted; it's a girl, and the little one came to gladden their home at Bethany, Missouri, May 20.

—Mrs. Chas. Herman and children left Tuesday, of this week, where she will join her husband, who is now located near Hayward, Wisconsin.

—Will Derr and Rankin & Christian each had out a car of hogs this week, and Geo. Patterson brought in a car of cattle, and J. H. Thompson brought in a car load of household goods.

—Tice Speer has recently purchased the Fairfax Forum, and he came down to visit his brother, John, of Forest City, and they with Nev. Dickson were saying "hello" to their friends here, Monday.

—T. L. Price has coming from the International Harvester Co., of Chicago, Ill., a 40,000-pound car load of Harvesting Machinery, consisting of Deering Binders, Mowers, Rakes and Deering Binding Twine.

ATTENTION, COMRADES.
