—Mrs. Carrie O'Fallon was called to St. Joseph, Tuesday of this week, by the sickness of her aunt, Mrs. Philip Schulte. She was accompanied by her little nephew, Jean.

—A petition, signed by a large number of the citizens of Oregon, asking for the consolidation of the two telephone systems, is in circulation.

—E. G. Smith, of Mound City, was a guest of Meyer Post, on Saturday last, and seemed to enjoy the meeting. He served throughout the war, as a member of the 30th Illinois Infantry.

—Frank Foster in driving into the Cook-Foster garage, Saturday last, July 24, struck a wind-shield with his right hand, severely bruising and cutting it, especially the forefinger. Dr. E. F. Kearney rendered the necessary surgical aid, and he is now getting along all right.

—For Screen Doors, see Raley & Kunkel.

—Eber Sherman left Tuesday for Hartum, Colorado, where he will work, this summer.

—Mrs. Rebecca Proud was in St. Joseph a few days last week, visiting her son, Dr. W. C. Proud and family. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Hanna Irvin.

—Miss Vernal Gore, daughter of George Gore, of Baker school district, who has been very low with typhoid fever, is now rapidly improving under the treatment of Dr. J. L. Hogan, of Oregon.

—Mrs. Cora Burgess has returned to Oregon and is occupying the lower floor of the opera house with her son, Bruce, who just could not and would not stay away from Oregon. They are cozily situated.

—Gus Henstorf, of Corning, was in Oregon on business, Monday of this week. Gus is one of the wheel-horses up there, and it always does us good to meet him. Come back again, Gus, and next time make a longer visit with us.

—Mrs. E. E. Weary had the misfortune to step on a nail, Thursday of last week, which penetrated through her shoe into the left foot, inflicting quite a wound, but at this writing we are glad to state that she is all right again.

—Hon. T. C. Dungan is now around amongst us daily, and attended the meeting of Meyer Post, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Cummins, on Saturday last. His many friends will be glad to know of his gradual improvement.

—Mrs. Jake Reese, who has been the guest of her parents, Andrew Burrier and wife, for several weeks, returned to her home in Concordia, Kansas, Friday of this week. Her daughter, Miss Meda, will remain for an indefinite stay.

—Mrs. Jesse Benkendorf, of St. Joseph, was here a day or two visiting her husband, who is the brick contractor for our new High school building. Mrs. B. was formerly Miss Jesse, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Forbes.

—Mrs. R. G. Emerson has our sincere thanks for several curios in the way of shells from the Pacific Ocean, some live-oak acorns and a live-oak cane from the Pacific Slope; some sea weed, and last, but not least, a few Indian arrow points. We certainly appreciate these things, and any one having anything in this line, Indian relics, that desire to give them to us, or will part with them at a reasonable sum, please bring them in, and thus help us to still be happier.

—Irvin Dankers, of Corning, was here Monday, for a day's visit with his brother, Andy, our recorder of deeds. He says while the condition of his town is still bad from the effects of the flood, the water in that section is slowly receding.

—Sheriff Gelvin has returned from Jefferson City, where he committed Homer Campbell to the penitentiary, who will serve seven years—under two sentences—one of two years for assaulting Mode Morse with intent to kill, and five years for assaulting Mary Jackson.

—Mrs. Channing Kunkel and son, of Anadarko, Oklahoma, after an extended visit here with her mother, Mrs. Mary Hostetter and sister, Mary, left for her home, Thursday, stopping at Amazonia for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Emma Bever, who was also here on a visit.

—F. L. Zeller, who has been at home for several weeks, visiting his family, and looking after business matters, returned Thursday of last week to Holly Springs, Arkansas, where he has large landed interests, and he and his son, George, are doing some farming.

—The members of the Forbes Cornet Band will give a supper this Friday evening, July 30, when they will serve sandwiches, coffee, cake and ice cream. Turn out and give the boys a boost, as they want to raise every penny they can to help pay for their instruments.

—It looked mighty good to us when we stepped into Recorder Dankers' office, Monday of this week, to meet Irvin S. Dankers, his brother, from Corning, who was here on some business, and we also found his sons, Owen and Henry, and just for a moment we imagined we were in good old Corning.

—We are glad to hear this bit of news about Jones Hostetter, another Oregon boy who is making good. He has for some time been with the Bryne-Hammer Company of Omaha, and in a competitive test for sales made, he was awarded a gold watch for making the largest in the month of July.

—J. J. Lukens has our thanks for some fine Golden plums, as large as small apples, sweet, meaty and juicy, and an Alexander peach, measuring nine inches in circumference. Oh, but they were fine, and all we can say is, like Daniel McDonald, the son of Elwood McDonald and wife, of St. Joseph, said when his father had taken him, when he was a little tike, to the grocer, and the grocer had given Daniel some candy, Elwood said to Daniel, "Now, what do you say?" Daniel promptly replied, "More!"

Telephone Consolidation.
I think the people heretofore appreciate the tone of J. H. Murray's statements in regard to telephone consolidation, and would like to see the other side. Take up the question, and agree to with same coincide.

There's no good reason, upon earth why people here should pay a double toll for telephones. As they must do today.

And, if the other folks but show a "Murray" disposition, there'll be no need to speak to the Utilities Commission.

These small, home matters should be fixed amongst our own selves, solely. And the two systems should combine their business interests wholly.

But, New Point service, and to Craig. They say would be cut out. And Mound City, and Maitland, too. We'd lose, without a doubt.

That Fillmore's phones, and those at Forbes. They say, could not be used. And Fortescue, and Bigelow. To us would be refused.

If the two phone lines were combined, and but one "Central" kept; but, whom 'tis says so, is not known. It seems, at all,—except

That "Old Dame Rumor" has it so. And that, it seems, is 'nough. For such as seem to hunt excuse. And want to b'lieve such stuff.

The truth is, that the service would be broader than 'tis now; And better, and its management could, then, no doubt, allow us copper wires, and smaller tolls. Because the then expense of maintenance, would be much less. When but one recompense would be required for "Central" cost. And linemen, in the field; so, with less tolls, the plant, no doubt would better profits yield.

Then let the systems be combined. At once,—without delay—so, all may reap said benefits! And,—lets begin TODAY!

—A SUBSCRIBER TO BOTH 'PHONES.

—For American Wire Fence, see Raley & Kunkel.

—David Elder and his force have completed a fine hay and cattle barn, 50x100 feet, for Mike (Asmus) Prussman, of Forbes township. Levi Schulte, of the Variety Store, did the tin work. They also just completed a fine hay and stock barn, 44x18, with cattle sheds, for C. B. Rayhill, on his farm in the Mayflower school district, about eight miles east of Oregon, occupied by his son, J. J. Rayhill. They are both dandies.—SENTINEL, July 23.

We desire to make every amend for the above error, and having asked David Harbour's pardon verbally, we now publicly ask it again through the columns of THE SENTINEL. We want it understood that it was David Harbour, assisted by his efficient workmen, who did this work.

Lightning's Freaks.
During the heavy electrical storm, Friday night and Saturday morning of last week, July 23 and 24, the two story Woodmen building at Richville was struck by lightning, the bolt hitting the flue, tearing down about 12 feet of it, and entering the building struck the stove, then the current jumped off the stove and followed along the joists, then jumped to the studding, and from there to the stairway, tearing out the lower part of the stairway. The two lower rooms of the building are occupied by John Stafford and family, and the lightning passed through one of these rooms in which was a bed, occupied by two of John's children, but fortunately the bolt did not go near the bed, passing out at another corner of the room, and thus the children miraculously escaped. It ripped off considerable plastering, turned the chairs topay-turvey, and straightened out two pieces of stove-pipe as flat as sheets of paper. The loss was estimated at $100, fully insured.

The barn of H. C. Cook near this city, was struck, but we understand the damage was only slight.

One lone shock of wheat in the field of Gus Welgel, near Richville, farmed by Ed. Kramer, was struck.

A tree in the pasture of Riley Hulatt, in the Culp school district, was struck; the bolt jumping from the tree, struck and instantly killed two fine 2-year-old steers.

This was one of the worst electrical storms that has passed over this section of country for years, the lightning and thunder being incessant.

Teachers' Examination.
Teachers examinations will be held at Maitland on Friday and Saturday, August 6 and 7.
Mrs. ALBERTA GREEN-MURPHY, County Superintendent of Schools.

—After a two weeks' visit with her uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Cunningham, of Albany, Missouri, Miss Marion Cunningham left Wednesday of last week for New York, expecting to sail Saturday by the steamer New York, of the American Line, for Liverpool. From there she will go by train to Scotland.

—Jacob Bucher was a St. Joseph visitor, Monday of this week. Wednesday of this week, Mr. Bucher, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Edith, will take their departure for the Pacific Slope, where they will visit the expositions, and also visit with relatives at different points. They will make an extended visit.
