

Bigelow News.

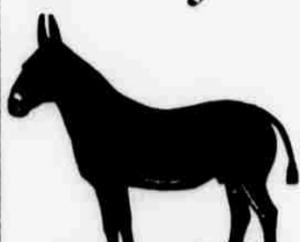

All right, M. D., never said a word. Jim Coats was in Mound City, Saturday. J. H. Krusor was an Oregon visitor, one day, last week. Frank Dougherty is nursing a case of the mumps, this week. Michael Hart and son, Mike, were Mound City visitors, last Saturday. John Gallop was transacting business in St. Joseph, last Saturday. Frank Walker was transacting business in Mound City, last Saturday. Rev. D. O. Yenger held services at the Methodist church, last Sunday evening. J. D. Morris marketed two wagon loads of fat hogs in Mound City, last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Adams visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Asher, last Sunday. Mrs. J. W. Gresham and Mrs. M. B. Melton were Mound City visitors, last Saturday. Eddie Caron visited with W. M. Whaley and wife, in Maitland, last Friday evening. Mrs. F. H. Gresham and two daughters visited with Mrs. V. A. Solleder, last Sunday. Miss Bessie Hunt is in Maitland, this week, visiting with her sister, Mrs. W. M. Whaley. W. B. Buckner is here this week from Kansas City, visiting at the home of Coke Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dodson were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bridgman, last Sunday. Paul Adams was visiting with relatives in Tabor, Iowa, last Saturday and Sunday. Prof. A. G. Stanley left last Saturday evening for Warrensburg, Mo., where he will attend school. George Overly and two children, Madison and Mary, visited with relatives in Craig, over Sunday. Guy Jones will replant one hundred acres of corn ground, just as soon as he can get into the field. Frank Borchers is the owner of a "Tin Willie," which he purchased in St. Joseph, one day, last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Catron visited with their son, Charley Catron and family, in Clarinda, last Sunday. J. H. Bennett received a shipment of Kaffir seed corn from McCune, Kansas, one day, last week. Clark Odell, the real estate man, was looking after business interests in St. Joseph, several days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Lot Brown and son, Robert, attended the high school class play in Oregon, last Friday evening. Forty scholars attended the Methodist Sunday school, last Sunday morning, and the collection was $127. Thirty-eight scholars attended the Bethel Sunday school, last Sunday, and the collection was $3 cents. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Courier were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Skelton to a big fish dinner, last Sunday. Mrs. Mina Graves was over from Mound City, one day, last week, visiting with her sister, Mrs. M. B. Melton. George Poynter, our popular bank cashier, was calling on one of the Mound City dentists, one day, last week. Mrs. Jim Coats and two daughters, Misses Goldie and Anna, were shopping in Mound City, one day, last week. There was an attendance of fifty scholars in the Christian Sunday school, last Sunday, and the collection was $1.80. J. B. Bridgman was down from Maitland, last Sunday, looking over his old home town, and shaking hands with the boys. Grandma Hunt, who has been visiting with relatives in Forest City for several days, returned home, last Saturday evening. Nathan Smith was treating his friends to a mess of fish, last Sunday morning. Thanks, Nathan, they were sure mighty good. Hayden Edwards, who has been visiting with relatives near Maitland for some time, returned home, the latter part of last week. It is said that "Dutch Hill" stayed away from home all last week, so that his wife would hoe the potatoes, but there was nothing doing. Burlington Roadmaster J. S. Miller was down from Corning, several days, last week, looking after track conditions during the high water. W. F. Bain was here, several days the latter part of last week, visiting with Mrs. Bain, and they visited with friends in Mound City, Saturday. Ben Freeman is putting out a pretty good bunch of peanuts, this week, and if he has any luck, will hand out a few samples when they get ripe. W. A. (Dutch Hill) Maier was over in Nebraska, last week, and bought a good bunch of mules. When Bill don't get them, they are not there to get. Brother O. W. Adams was in Tabor, Iowa, several days, last week, attending a meeting of the Missionaries, and Paul Adams was carrying the mail during his absence. Mrs. Ethel Osborne, Mrs. A. W. Chuning, Misses Ida Bridgman and Nellie Borchers were in Mound City, Saturday, visiting with relatives, and attending the town lot sale. Superintendent S. W. Skelton now has the eighth grade diplomas ready for the pupils who passed that grade in this district, and they may be secured by calling on Mr. Skelton. Misses Goldie and Anna Coats are in Beatrice, Neb., this week, visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson. They expect to stay a month, if they don't get home-sick. Superintendent W. A. Card, Live Stock Agent J. R. McKillop, Claim Adjuster H. E. Pyle and Civil Engineer Seward of St. Joseph, were looking after railroad business here, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jones and daughter, Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bridgman and daughter, Miss Dorothy, attended the big town lot sale, in Mound City, last Saturday, and visited with relatives. Lee Chuning came in, one day, last week, from Excelsior Springs, where he had been for several days, resting up. Lee says he feels considerably better and he seems to think that is a pretty good place. Coke Jackson is the new ice man, and is making from two to three trips to town with a load of ice every week. The ice is of fine quality. Mrs. Jackson accompanied him, last Saturday, we presume, as cashier. Dr. F. E. Hogan reports the family of Clem Barker and Mrs. Martin Smith, who were burned pretty badly a week ago, to be getting along as well as can be expected, and the prospects for their recovery are good. Mrs. Henry Jones returned from her Kansas City trip, where she had been visiting with relatives and attending the Billy Sunday meetings, the latter part of last week, and she says she liked the meetings very much. Fishing is the order of the day with Bigelow people—too much rain and water to try to farm. Some mighty fine strings of mud-cats, carp and a few buffalo and cat fish are being caught while the water is high. John Coughlin, accompanied by Miss Ruth Maier and Miss Eva Hogan, drove down to Kansas City, last Friday, in Mr. Coughlin's car, where they will visit with relatives and friends for several days, and attend the Billy Sunday meetings. A. E. Smith says he is getting mighty tired of batching, and that he is working three dogs over-time, keeping the pans and dishes clean. Miss Nellie is improving slowly at the hospital, and it is thought she can be brought home in a short time. Talk about scheming—we saw a fellow the other evening, that goes to feed his hogs in a "Tin Willie" car, morning and evening. Chances are he would not have 'ressed up, had he not been caught in the act, and he has a mighty nice bunch of hogs, too. A letter from Mrs. George Dieks says that Elmer Dieks was married in Council Bluffs, May 24, to a lady of that city. Elmer was born here and the family lived here for several years, and Elmer has a host of friends in this neighborhood to congratulate him. B. S. Hunt had the misfortune to get five mules killed by some train, just south of town, last Friday night. Four of the mules were two-year-olds and one a yearling. This is the second bunch of mules that Mr. Hunt has had killed on the railroad in the last three years. Tom Huston, the old reliable Farmers' Telephone manager, of Fortescue, was in town, one day, last week, repairing the line and getting things in shape for the benefit of his patrons. When Tom don't find the trouble, well, it's no use for any one else to look. J. H. Carter and Uncle Milt Heron were over from Mound City, one day, last week, fishing for the famous mud cat fish. For some reason, they did not have very good luck, although on a previous visit Uncle Milt caught a very nice string. We don't like to say it, but it looks like J. H. is a "hoo-doo." Well, you can't lose Bigelow. Miss Nellie Jessup, who lives just north of town, drew the first and second ten dollar prizes at the big town lot sale in Mound City, last Saturday afternoon. Unfortunately she was not present to receive the second purse and lost it, and Julian Wilson drew the town lot and lost out on account of not being present at the proper time. Frank Walker will leave next Sunday afternoon for Chicago, where he will attend the big National Republican convention, which convenes there June 7th. Mr. Walker has received the important appointment of assistant sergeant of arms, at the convention, which is an honor to be proud of, and we have no doubt but what Mr. Walker will perform the duties of that office with credit, both to himself and the party which he represents. The members of Bethel church will give an ice cream and strawberry social at the church, next Friday evening. Should the weather be bad, the social will be postponed until the next Thursday evening. Everybody is invited to attend. We are told there are some mighty good cake bakers in that neighborhood, and that there will be plenty of good cake to go with the ice cream and strawberries. Proceeds will be used in improving the church grounds. Don't forget the date. Mrs. Henry Overlay and granddaughter, Dorothy Kinsey, returned home last Friday from a visit of several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Gleason, in Thomas, Okla., and from the smile she was wearing, when she got off the train, she was no doubt glad to get back home. Mrs. Overlay says the former Bigelow residents, who are now living in Thomas, are all getting along all right, with the exception of Mrs. John Shepperd, who was in a local hospital when she left there, and it was thought that Mrs. Shepperd would get along all right. Mrs. Overlay says the weather has been unusually cold down there for this time of the year. When she left there, she weighed 103 pounds and weighed the same on her arrival home. Another big flood last week that put the farmers out of business for some time, and will make it necessary to replant a lot of corn, that is, if the weather man will hold off the rains long enough to give the farmers a chance to get into the fields. The wagon road between Bigelow and Little Tark was under water for about half way almost all of last week, making the road almost impassable. The water is going down, and we earnestly hope for the last time. This section of the country has been getting more than our share of rain this spring, and if we are to have any crops, we must have better weather. There is quite a lot of alfalfa cut, and the balance is ready to be cut. Quite a number of the farmers have held off cutting the alfalfa, waiting for better weather conditions. It is reported that Charley Knowles, who is dragging the State Highway road, after every rain from Big Tark bridge to the VanVickle corner, has the best road in this part of the country, and by the way, have you noticed that this road is traveled a great deal more than it was a few years ago? Almost all of the Lake travel now goes west to the Cottonwood school house and thence south, Tommy Duncan and Harry Vest dragged the road from Cottonwood school house south, and if they will just keep up this good work, this will be a good road to the Lake. This road is being neglected between Bigelow and Big Tark bridge. Guy Jones has dragged this section quite often, but it seems there is no regular man to look after it, and this should be looked after right away. County Road Commissioner, Matt Thomas, should get over here and line this matter up as soon as the road, between here and Little Tark gets in shape. Come on over, Brother Thomas, we need you. RUBE. Cheaper Than Meat. The high meat bill is a great cause of the high cost of living. Many people believe that meats are absolutely necessary, and they do have the advantage of having a good flavor and being very easily and quickly cooked, but many of us would have bigger pocket-books and better health if we spent for meat only a sixth instead of a third of what we pay for food. One of the members of the Home Economics faculty of the University of Missouri goes home to the farm every summer, where her father and brothers are doing hard out-door work. She gives her mother a vacation, takes charge in the kitchen herself, and feeds the household to a large extent on meat substitutes which they seem to find well adapted to their needs. Fish is not as good a meat substitute as many people believe for while it seems less heavy, it is not less likely to form objectionable acids, but milk, milk products and eggs are good things to use instead of so much meat. A quart of milk or 8 or 9 eggs has about as high a food value as a pound of the best steak, but on most markets will cost much less. Otherwise wholesome dishes which should be used to take the place of meat are soups, cottage cheese, cream sauces, variously flavored puddings made of milk and cereal of different kinds, and countless other economical, nutritious, easily digested dishes which any good housewife knows how to prepare. Boiled eggs cooked in water below the boiling point are not as hard to digest as many people believe, but if cooked in very hot water, they are more likely to be leathery and hard to digest. Fried eggs are also more digestible if cooked slowly. Nuts are becoming more popular as meat substitutes, although many kinds of nuts are not cheaper than meat if bought on the market at present prices. On many farms, however, it is merely a matter of picking up hickory-nuts, hazel-nuts or walnuts instead of letting the hogs get them, and on a great many others it is a very easy matter to raise peanuts enough for the family and have plenty to fatten a few hogs. Those who wish to try some meat substitutes can secure directions for making them by writing to the Missouri College of Agriculture at Columbia. We include here two tried at the College. Cottage Cheese—Use sour milk that has set. Warm it slowly in a double boiler if one is at hand until the whey separates from the curd. Then strain through cheese-cloth, chop fine, mix with milk or cream, and season to taste. Be careful not to heat too long or too hot before straining or the curd will be tough. Creamed Fish in Rice Cases—Line a buttered mold about the size of a quarter of an inch thick with boiled rice. Fill with chopped or boned salmon or other fish to which thick white sauce has been added. Brown lightly in the oven, turn from the mold and serve.—Miss Ruth Bell, Missouri College of Agriculture. Cutworm Poison. If cutworm prove troublesome in the garden or corn-field, they can be held in check with a mixture of 25 pounds of bran, half a pound of Paris green or lead arsenate, and a quart of molasses. The lead arsenate is now cheaper than the Paris green, and whichever is used should be dissolved in two gallons of water to which the molasses and ground pulp of two lemons or oranges should be added. This poison mixture should be scattered in the evening in order that it may stay moist as long as possible, as the worms refuse to eat it after it has become dry. The addition of the orange or lemon juice is important in making it attractive to the worms, but it is likely to be attractive to the chickens and some other farm animals with fatal results.—J. S. Gardner, Missouri College of Agriculture. Grain for the Skim-Milk Calf. Calves are usually fed whole milk for two to three weeks, then gradually changed to skim-milk. About the time of changing, begin to feed a little grain, but do not think that it is necessary to use oil meal or any other high-priced feed, high in protein, or fat, or both. Experience at the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station shows that a mixture of two parts of corn and one part of oats, by weight, gives as good results as oil meal and ready-mixed calf meals often purchased at much higher prices. Bran is not especially good for the young calf because it is too laxative. The grain mixture should be fed immediately after the milk, and neither should be fed liberally, or scours may result.—J. W. Wing, Missouri College of Agriculture. Improve Home-Cured Meat. Don't let the cured meat get too salty. The practice of leaving the hams and bacon in the brine or dry cure for two or three months will always give meat that is too salty to be eaten with any relish. Two days for each pound weight of piece will cure the meat thoroughly so that it will keep all summer and will usually make it so salty that it will need some freshening before using. Shoulders that are to be used up before hot weather can be cured in a considerably less length of time. Before the meat is to be smoked soak it two or three hours in warm water. If it is too salty soak for a full twenty-four hours and then send to the smoke house.—P. F. Trowbridge, Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station. For Sale—Wood.
