The Greatest Weather Prophet. Rev. Irl R. Hicks, of St. Louis, the greatest and most successful of weather forecasters, died on October 12, 1916, after a short illness. Before he took sick he had entirely completed his work on the great Hicks Almanac for 1917 and had read the proofs of all his weather forecasts for a year in advance. This noted Almanac is now ready and is a fine specimen of Almanac making. Prof. Hicks' portrait was painted by a leading artist of St. Louis, in May, and this portrait, printed in colors, makes the frontispiece of the 1917 Almanac. The 1917 Almanac is 35 cents by mail. Prof. Hicks' monthly Magazine, Word and Works, will also be continued by the publishers. Word and Works, one year, with the Hicks Almanac, is one dollar.
