Old Forest City Lodge, A. F. & A. M., which is the second oldest of the Masonic lodges of the county, conferred the Master's Degree, Tuesday evening of last week, upon Louis Stroud, who was made a Master Mason, and hereafter may sit with the elect, and take part in the deliberations of that lodge. The occasion was made one of special interest by the attendance of representative members of the order from the various lodges of the county, and concluding the work, an elaborate banquet was served by members of the Eastern Star, under the leadership of Mrs. John Anderson, worthy matron. This was served in the auditorium of the city hall, while the work was conferred in the I. O. O. F. hall.

The work was conferred by details from the local lodges. H. Z. Teare and Dr. J. C. Whitmer were in the East; C. W. Anibal, of Craig, took the West; Tom Bridgman, of Mound City, was the J. W.; H. C. Teare and W. H. Alkire, Sr. D.; and Harold Markt, Jr. D.

The spread was an elaborate one, and the H. C. L. was laid aside, and only the best the market could afford and experienced hands could prepare was served. While they ate, digestion was greatly helped by charming vocal and instrumental numbers, given by members of the Eastern Star.

The toast-master was Rev. E. F. Cooley, who presided in such a splendid manner that the banqueters were simply delighted with his way of doing and saying things. Those responding to toasts were: John E. Slater and Geo. Conaway, of Bigelow; Alban Boring, of Maitland; Rev. A. M. Kirkland, of Forest City; Dr. J. C. Whitmer, of Oregon; C. W. Anibal, of Craig, and A. W. VanCamp, of Fortescue.

Forest City Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was the second lodge of the order organized in this county—it came into existence under dispensation July 8, 1869, when Mitt S. Moodie was chosen as the first W. M.; Levi Zook, S. W.; Hiram Patterson, J. W., and Daniel Zook, secretary. All of these are now dead, Mr. Moodie being the last to answer the final summons, in March, 1916, at the age of 83 years. The lodge continued under this dispensation until May 30, 1861, when it was granted a charter by the Grand Lodge, and had the same officers, with the exception of the secretary, which office was given to Lewis Leach and he too is dead.

Among the patriarchs of this old lodge, who are still with the order, and who have been Master Masons for a half century are: M. V. B. Cass, O. C. Plummer, A. W. VanCamp, John France, Sr., John C. Hinkle and W. G. Craig.

Among those who have served the lodge in the East, in its earlier history, who have crossed the Great Divide, are: M. S. Moodie, who was Master in 1861; Hiram Patterson, 1862; W. H. Williams, 1867; Jacob M. Ford, 1868; Dr. H. M. Wilson, 1873; W. B. Orr, 1875; R. P. Zook, 1876; Thomas Teare, 1883; George Weber, 1884; Vine Hovey, 1895.

—The stork flew over the home of Dan Markt and wife, on Wednesday of last week, May 9, and left a baby girl. Dr. Kearney says all is well, but Dan, and he will bear watching for a while, at least. Oh, well, she can be a Red Cross member after a while.

Partners: Father Time Ages VELVET. Mother Nature Mellows It
An unbeatable team: Time and Nature.

When tobacco manufacturers try to substitute hurry-up curing methods for slow, natural ageing of tobacco, you smokers pay the price.

There is no better method of bringing out the mellowness and mildness of "Kentucky's best" than two years natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. VELVET is Kentucky's best Burley tobacco aged by Nature's method, the patient method, the expensive method, but the best method known to man.

Think about that over a pipe of VELVET.

That ain't a whole lot of difference between a ripe persimmon an' a nearly ripe one—on the outside. Some of these nearly matured tobaccos sorter favor VELVET in looks.

For Home Use Raise Cowpeas and Navy Beans.

If cowpeas and navy beans are grown abundantly for home use and for the local markets they will greatly lessen the demand on the same crops grown on a large scale in specialized districts. This will permit a larger distribution to districts where the crops are not grown at all, will insure a larger supply to our armies, and a larger surplus for shipment to our allies. Thus people in any community may contribute greatly to the national food supply by feeding themselves on home grown products.

The department of farm crops of the Missouri College of Agriculture suggests that special attention be given the cowpea; for there is no other highly nitrogenous food crop so good to eat and at the same time so prolific in yield, which can be grown on Missouri farms. Cowpeas may be planted in Missouri at any time between the middle of May and mid-summer. The earliest varieties will mature in 70 days. A good crop of cowpeas—for which the white or nearly white seeded varieties are best—should be planted in rows and cultivated. This will insure the best production of seed—a production which should range from 10 to 15 bushels per acre. Where no harvesting and threshing machinery is available, the cowpea crop should be picked and flailed by that part of the farm force which is incapable of heavy work.

If in addition to cowpeas, a small acreage of navy beans is planted the variety of leguminous food will be much increased. Some may prefer to plant only navy beans, omitting cowpeas altogether. A choice between the two as a food for the home would be largely a matter of personal desire; but in making the choice it should be remembered that under conditions where both are adapted, cowpeas will probably yield about one-third more per acre than navy beans. Navy beans may be planted in Missouri at any time between May 15 and July 1. Probably the most popular date is June 1. According to the department of farm crops, the common range of yield in Missouri will be between 8 and 10 bushels per acre, although they may reach 15 bushels under most favorable conditions.

Received Pay Long Overdue.

It is somewhat unusual to receive payment for service rendered fifty-three years previous, but Col. F. S. Brownfield enjoyed that rather unusual sensation the other day when he received a check from W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the United States Treasury, for a small amount in payment for service as a soldier in the Civil War.

At the close of the war, Col. Brownfield had due him the sum of $10.67 as private soldier, also an additional small amount for services as a corporal. The claim laid neglected during these many years, and Mr. Brownfield had forgotten about it until he was notified a few months ago that the matter had been taken up for adjustment.

When 19 years old, Col. Brownfield enlisted as a private in Co. C., 140th Ill. Inf., under Capt. Geo. R. Bibbs. He also served as corporal of Co. E, 58th Ill. Inf. The date of his enlistment was May 7, 1864, and he was discharged September 23, following. Col. Brownfield had a number of interesting and exciting experiences during his service.—Craig Leader.

—Hobart E. Sipes and Mollie Guyer, both of Forbes, were married in St. Joseph, Saturday last, May 12.

—John Hilsenbeck, wife and children of Kentucky, were here a few days the past week, visiting his sisters Mrs. Matt Eiler and Mrs. John Derr. John graduated from our high school, class of 1904, and then graduated from the electrical engineering department of our University. He married a daughter of Rev. Walton, and he has made good.
