

They Are Wedded.

An attractive wedding ceremony took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Broad Street Presbyterian church, when Miss Virginia Heiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Heiner, 47 South Champion avenue, became the bride of Mr. Dwight Robert Fitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fitts, of Kansas City, Missouri.

Rev. Dr. S. S. Palmer, the pastor, officiated, using the Van Dyke nuptial service. Mrs. Wilbur Thornburn Mills, organist, played a program of music.

The bridal party made its way to the altar through the main aisle, which was bordered with white candles in tall white candlesticks on standards draped with green tulle and trimmed with clusters of pink sweet peas. Three seven-branch candelabra holding cathedral candles were burning amid the masses of greenery on the altar, and at the foot of the altar were two tall white baskets filled with snapdragons in shades of pink.

The bride had seven attendants, Miss Marguerite Heiner, her sister, as maid of honor; Miss Mary H. Bull, of Seranton, Pennsylvania; Miss Eleanor Lord, of Evanston, Illinois; Mrs. Frederick Purly (Helen Cohenour); Miss Gertrude Morris, Miss Dorothy Winters and Miss Marguerite Putnam.

Mr. J. Russell Fitts, of Kansas City, Missouri, was best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were: Mr. Maurice K. Fitts, of Kansas City, another brother; Mr. Milton S. Rea, of Kansas City; Mr. John Marshall Crossman, of Philadelphia; Mr. John W. Kendall, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Robert S. Davis, Jr., and Mr. Gail L. McKillip, of Columbus.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, heavily embroidered with pearls. Duchesse lace was attached to both sides of the long court train of satin, and sequins and pearls in rosebud designs ornamented the uneven hem line of the petal shaped skirt and the train. There was a tracery of this same pearl and sequin design on the bodice and short sleeves. The veil of tulle was held with a coronet of real rose point lace, a gift from a friend, Mrs. M. H. Wilbur, of Colorado Springs. The lace was wired forming points on the sides and the veil was caught with orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, small yellow rosebuds, orchids and forget-me-nots.

Miss Marguerite Heiner wore a gold cloth gown embroidered in gold beads and sequins. Her skirt was finished with points of the embroidered material, and the train was of gold cloth and tulle. Miss Heiner carried an arm bouquet of red roses, tied with red ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore frocks of taffeta in rainbow colors, all made alike with full hoop skirts, trimmed with silver lace and silver roses, and sash trains extending below the hems. Miss Bull's dress was turquoise blue; Miss Lord wore jade green; Mrs. Purly, Harding blue; Miss Morris, apricot; Miss Winters, orchid, and Miss Putnam, coral.

They carried arm bouquets of snapdragons in different colors tied with bows of rose gold tulle.

Mrs. Harry H. Heiner, mother of the bride, wore a silver cloth gown, embroidered in silver beads and opalescent crystals, with train of silver cloth lined with jade.

Mrs. J. C. Fitts, the bridegroom's mother, wore a brown lace draped gown with train of the lace lined with coral satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Heiner gave a reception and dance for their daughter and her husband at the Columbus Country club, following the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Fitts left for an Eastern trip before going to Kansas City, where they will reside. They will be at home there at the Ormond until June.

The bride is a graduate of the Columbus School for Girls and of Wells college, Aurora, New York. Two of the bridesmaids, Miss Bull and Miss Lord, were her school-mates at Wells. Mr. Fitts attended the Tome academy, Maryland, and Haverford college in Pennsylvania. He is associated with his father in the wholesale dry goods business in Kansas City.

Among the guests from a distance in addition to members of the bridal party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fitts, of Kansas City, Mo., parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. J. Russell Fitts and Mrs. Maurice Fitts, of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Heiner, Jr., and children, Helen Jane and Harry III, of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Heiner, of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Heiner, of Rutland, Ohio, and Miss Helen Mayer, of Oak Park, Ill. Mr. Harry Heiner is the bride's brother, and Messrs. E. E. and L. J. Heiner are uncles.

Members of the wedding party and the out-of-town people here for the wedding were guests at a dinner and bridge party given Thursday night at the Columbus Country club by the bridegroom's parents, Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Heiner gave a dinner at the Columbus club for the bridal party.—The Columbus (Ohio) Sunday Dispatch, May 1, 1921.

Mrs. Selb Carson and Mrs. Philip Schlotzhauer and John Mariner and family spent Wednesday with their mother in Quitman.

—Willie and Tommy Davidson, called here by the death of their father, returned to their home Saturday last; the former to Sedalia, Mo., and the latter to Hastings, Neb. They are another pair of boys who have gone out from the old school, who have made so very good.

—The commencement address delivered at the closing of our school year by Rabbi Leon Harrison was universally conceded to be the best ever given in Neoga. The large audience maintained intense silence and interest in his plain, practical utterances on the Gospel of Labor, and though he spoke an hour, no one wanted him to quit.

—Mrs. Samuels and child went from the room, amply supplied with wholesome food for thought, and with new inspiration to strive for the higher ideals of life. The Rabbi left the entire community his friends.—John Scrugham, Supt. of Schools, Neoga, Ill.

Noted St. Louisian for Commencement

In the person of Rabbi Leon Harrison, of St. Louis, the school authorities are bringing the most noted and capable man ever used for a commencement address in this section of Missouri.

He is a political reformer, a religious liberal, and above all an enthusiastic educator.

Dr. Harrison has an immense following in St. Louis. His increasing public duties compel him to refuse nearly all of the scores of invitations received by him to deliver Winter Lyceum courses. But, in the Spring and early Summer, he speaks almost daily at the commencement exercises of high schools, colleges and State universities. Last Spring, Dr. Harrison delivered twenty-eight commencement addresses in Missouri and Illinois. He was obliged to refuse twenty-four invitations that came too late to be booked.

For the past twenty-four years, Dr. Harrison has been Rabbi of the Temple Israel, St. Louis. He had the boldness to be among the first to introduce Sunday services in the ancient synagogue. These Sunday services of Rabbi Leon Harrison in the Temple Israel are among the notable features of St. Louis. The commanding eloquence of the man, his fervor and rare personal magnetism, fill the Temple to overflowing, equally with Jews and Christians, men of every race and creed.

To quote from a recent issue of the St. Louis Republic, "One of the striking features of this Temple Israel Sunday service was the cosmopolitan character of the audience. Every profession, all kinds of business, every phase of religious thought, and all the strata of society, were represented in the gathering. When Dr. Harrison entered the pulpit, he faced a sea of faces which filled every foot of the floor space in the large building. Long before he appeared, all the seats had been taken, standing room was at a premium; and more than 500 persons were outside, undecided whether to try to crowd in or retrace their steps. One of his most powerful addresses was delivered at the McKinley observance in the great Exposition Coliseum before 20,000 people. Even the dread solemnity of the occasion could not restrain the assembly from cheers and tumultuous applause. Dr. Harrison's scholarly and powerful lectures are examples of the best there is in the Lyceum.

If you approve of the policy of the school in bringing a man of the type of Dr. Harrison, instead of using the usual mediocre talent for commencement, make it known by being present to hear the address that he will give.

Remember that the cost of bringing such a man is three times as great as the cost of bringing the usual speaker. The school must have your support to continue the policy.

Methodist Notes.

Springtime brings many events. Among them is Mother's Day, which will be observed next Sunday morning at the regular morning worship. Music and the message will be in line for the occasion. We invite the general public, also visitors who may be in our town, but we want every mother who can possibly come. We will have a committee to receive you at the door to welcome you. Any mother or old person, who will be unable to walk, please let me know before Sunday, and an automobile will come to your door to bring you to church and also to take you home after service.

The Epworth League will send a delegation to the county fair to hold a short service at 4 p. m. Also the usual devotional service at the jail at 6:30 p. m., Sunday.

I am glad the Epworth League is launching out into these lines of practical Christianity. Only as the Master uses us so will our lamps be burning. The Sabbath school as usual. Epworth League, 7 p. m., and evening worship, 8 p. m. F. J. SMITH, Pastor, M. E. Church.

Amazonia Charge, M. E. Church.

Edgar O. Wells, Minister. Our services at Amazonia were somewhat broken into by the rain, and the congregations, although not large, were very attentive to the messages presented by the pastor, and committees were appointed by the superintendent for the program for Mothers' Day, which will be held on the third Sunday in May, and it will either follow the banquet given by the women of the school by the men, or it may possibly be preceded by the same. The regular monthly meeting of the Sunday school board was held on Monday night.

Mothers' Day will be celebrated on next Sunday, May 8th, and will be in charge of the older girls thereof, with the single exception of the sermon, which will be by the pastor, and the theme will be "The Greatest Mother in the World," and the hour will be at 11:00 a. m. The theme at the 8:00 p. m. hour (note the change of time) will be "What Constitutes a Good Mother?" This theme will be in line with the morning sermon and appropriate to the celebration of the day.

Let's make our Sunday school and church services a rallying place for all who will, a sort of "Community center for people whom we will strive to interest.

OBSERVER.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, It has pleased the Heavenly Father to call from the toils of earth the soul of our dearly beloved sister, Grace Alkire-Pennel, who died April 22, 1921;

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that our Chapter has lost a faithful and useful member, and the community an upright and honorable woman.

Resolved, That we will ever bear in grateful remembrance her faithfulness and devotion to the principles of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones and recommend them to the care of God, whom Sister Pennel served and in whom she trusted.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy be sent to the family of our deceased sister, and that they also be published in The Holt County Sentinel.

The fact is our language has been enormously enriched by the contributions made to it by the Latin tongue. Among other things it has given us a power of drawing distinctions and of being precise and exact in expressing our thoughts which few other languages possess.—J. M. B. Melhoy, John in "The Art of Writing English."

As it Was Pronounced. "You have made a big mistake," said the boss. "I never saw that word in my life. It may mean 'ossified,' but even that word doesn't apply." "But that is what you dictated," replied the stenographer, spelling and pronouncing from her notes. "Ah, yes," returned the man. "I understand now. I said 'bona fide,' but I didn't expect you to spell it 'bonified.'"—Houston Post. New Orleans Anniversary. In 1823 the two hundredth anniversary of the formal elevation of New Orleans to a capital city, with the historic Place d'Armes as its civic center, will be celebrated, and by that time it is hoped not only to have Jackson square and its surroundings duplicate its ancient arrangement but also to duplicate the ceremony which marked the occasion as memorable as any in American civic history. Fox Aids Farmer. Besides such poultry as they capture, foxes are very fond of field mice and destroy thousands of them; in this way they are a positive benefit to the agriculturist, says the American Forestry Magazine. They also catch and eat many woodchucks—the latter standing in the utmost fear of them.
