

Obituary.

Delle Paralee Lunsford, daughter of R. H. (Uncle Henry) and Kessiah Jane Lunsford, was born near Forest City, Mo., December 9th, 1868; closed her eyes in eternal sleep, Sept. 23, 1921, aged 52 years, 9 months and 14 days.

At the age of 19 years she confessed her faith in Christ, and became a member of the Christian church, at the Burr Oak school house. Delle's life has been a living testimony to the glory of God; the years of her life were spent for others. While her membership was at the Forest City Christian church, if a revival was in progress at one of the other churches one might have thought her membership was there; that element of selfishness which so often creeps into our lives, seems to have found no place in her heart.

She leaves to mourn her departure four sisters, Mrs. Florence Smith, Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Cora Anno, Mrs. Leona Anno, Mrs. Ida Elder, all of Forest City; two brothers, William L. of New Point, Mo., and Ernest, of Maryville, Mo.

We are standing just beside a silent stream, And across, just beyond our sight; Faith assures us that Heavenly mansions stand; In that city of fadeless light.

The funeral services were held at the Forest City Christian church, Sunday, Sept. 25th, at 2:30, conducted by Albert Martin, assisted by G. W. Maxwell, pastor of the church; interment was in Forest City cemetery. A. M.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank our dear friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the sickness and death of our dear sister, Delle.

MRS. FLORENCE SMITH, MRS. CORA AND LEONA ANNO, MRS. IDA ELDER, WM. AND ERNEST LUNSFORD.

Obituary. Lelyan Bert Whitmore was born at Forbes, Mo., March 29, 1897; died, September 19, 1921, at the home of his brother-in-law, Albert Worley, of Forbes, being 24 years, 5 months and 22 days old at the time of his departure.

At the age of 20 years he made a confession of his faith in Jesus Christ. (Whoever shall confess Me before men, I will confess him before the Father.)

He leaves to mourn his death, wife, two baby boys, Lelyan Dale Arnold and Charles Curiale; mother, Mrs. Taylor, of Forbes; one sister, Mrs. Albert Worley, of Forbes; two brothers, John, of Forbes, and Charlie, of St. Joseph, Mo.

Certainly he must have had a very great host of friends; the church house would not accommodate the crowd who came to pay their last tribute of love and respect to their friend and fellow traveler. The funeral service was held at the Forbes M. E. church, conducted by Albert Martin, of Forest City; interment in the Forbes cemetery. A. M.

Lincoln School Notes.

Lincoln school opened Sept. 5, with an enrollment of 36. The number in the different grades are as follows: First grade, 10; second grade, 2; third, 6; fifth, 10; and seventh, 8. The attendance for this month has been very good and we hope it may continue so.

We also find we have some pupils with talent for poetry. When the seventh grade grammar class was requested to compose a few verses of poetry, we find the following poem by Russell Boulton:

BASE BALL. The batter was ready to strike, When he hit it meant to hike. Three strikes and you are out; You should have seen the batter pout. The next batter hit it hard, And knocked it out of the school yard.

And away he went at a very hard pace, But before he even reached first base; He stumbled and fell right on his face, And quick as a wink, up he jumped, And right into the first baseman he bumped.

On to second base he ran, He said, "I want to get there if I can." The ball almost beat him there, But for this he did not care, He got there just the same, Although he was a little lame.

On he ran to third base, Where he met the baseman face to face. And then he looked again, He saw the ball in the baseman's hand, But all in vain, it was too late; For already he had met his ill-fate.

"Out," cried the watching crowd, And the first baseman was very proud. The pitcher finally took the ball, The last batter was almost ready to fall. He said, "If ever I do hit it, You tell the world I'll split it."

The pitcher gripped the ball very tight, And made it curve in its flight; You could still see the first batter pout, But this time he struck, he was out. The losers said, "We don't give a kick, Even if we did get licked."

Death of Hugh Biggs. Hugh S. Biggs, a veteran of the Civil War, and for many years a resident of Oregon, and a member of Meyer Post of this city, died at his home in St. Joseph, on Tuesday of this week, Sept. 27, 1921, aged 75 years. The family removed from Oregon to St. Joseph some twelve years ago. He is survived by his wife, Mary Biggs; six daughters, Mrs. William Reed, Kansas City; Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Irving Straw and Mrs. W. Hamm, all of Racine, Wis.; Mrs. Guy Shavey and Mrs. H. E. Fattig, both of St. Joseph; two sons, Otis, Craig, Mo.; George, Darler, Calif.; one sister, Ruth Upphouse, and one brother, George Biggs, Fort Madison, Iowa. The family when here occupied the property now owned by Earl Cooper. At the close of our funeral arrangements had not been made.

Card of Thanks. We wish to extend our thanks to our friends, members of the Harris E. Petree Post, Chaplain Lynn E. Jones and Rev. Albert Martin for the beautiful floral offerings and for the kindness shown us during the burial of our beloved son and brother, Thomas Francis Keaton.

A Correction.

Corning, Mo., Sept. 28, 1921. Editors, Sentinel, Oregon, Mo.—I notice in The Sentinel of last week, a statement to the effect that the Corning Levee District had let the contract for the reclamation work here. This is a mistake. No contract for any such work has been let, and will not be until the benefits and damages are assessed, which has not as yet been done. LEN WALTER, Secretary.

Trees Valuable to Farmer. The value of trees on a farm can hardly be overestimated. A principle laid down by wise observers is that 5 per cent of all areas of plains and prairie states should be put into trees. The forest waters the farm. This is a patent fact in all regions where irrigation is practiced; it is not less true in all the rest of the country.

That the polls will be open at 2:00 o'clock p. m., sharp, on that day at the time and place aforesaid and will close at 4:00 o'clock p. m. of that day. By order of the Board of Supervisors of Mill Creek Drainage District, Holt County, Missouri. This 17th day of September, 1921. PHILIP SCHLOTZAUER, President. W. H. RICHARDS, Secretary. Greatest Demand for Wheat. American wheat is experiencing a greater foreign boom than any time in history. During the month of August over 34,000,000 bushels of wheat were inspected and passed for export. This is four times the amount of wheat exported in any previous August. Foreign governments have bought more American wheat this summer than ever before in the history of foreign commerce. This is due to the general failure not only of grain crops, but of the potato crop, throughout Europe. —Mrs. L. C. Kerns came up from her home at Kansas City, on account of the illness of her grandmother, and is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petree, and helping take care of her grandmother.
